SPRING FEVER—Under the spreading University tree sits a class pursuing . . . Didn't the village smithy ply his trade under a tree? Each must have

Montana Forum Receives All Applicants as Members

Montana Forum took on a new look Friday when the Forum members elected to membership all interested students who attended Forum regularly.

Mrs. Cynthia Schuster, professor of philosophy, put the motion before the group which would entitle all interested students to membership because of the interest shown in the group and the increasing attendance at its weekly meetings.

In the past, Montana Forum has elected four freshmen each spring for a three year term and replaced all vacant positions relinquished by upper classmen.

Although the student policy was changed, the faculty was selected by the prior method of replacements for those leaving or relinquishing their positions.

Less than half of the Forum membership attended when the change of policy was made.

The increase in student attendance and interest in the discussions was the basis upon which the new policy was proposed and subsequently passed by the group.

All the students who signed up for the organization are now new members.

Nine o'clock classes Friday will be from 8:55 to 9:30 a.m. not 8:10 to 8:45 as stated in the Weekly Bulletin.

Commencement to Include Choral, Band Performances

Music forms the background for Commencement activities this weekend. The first event, although not part of the commencement program, is the first annual Twilight Concert tomorrow at 7:15 p.m. on the Oval.

The University Concert Band, under the direction of James Eversole, and the University Choral Organizations, under the direction of Joseph Mussulman, will present this concert.

At 8 p.m. Saturday, in conjunction with commencement ceremonies, the Concert Band will present a concert of varied music on the Oval. Most of the selections will be conducted by music seniors. Also at this time, awards will be given to freshmen and seniors who have been in the band one and four years respectively.

That night there also will be a carillon concert following Singing-On-The-Steps, and following the concert, the AWS Lantern Parade.

Choir and Symphonette Concert
At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, a concert by the University Choir and Symphonette, in the Music School Recital Hall, will be dedicated to the memory of Deloss and Florence Redgrave Smith. Mr. Smith was the founder and first dean of the School of Music. His wife, who died last April 30, served as performing artist, official accompanist and professor of organ at the school.

At 5 p.m. that day another carillon concert will be given.

Laurence Perry will introduce the Baccalaureate Service with organ music at 7:45 p.m. in the University Theater.

The Choir also will perform during the service. The Choir will feature a composition by Wynn York of Northern Montana College, entitled "Wisdom and Peace."

Choir Piece Taken from Bible
Mr. Mussulman said the text of the piece is especially appropriate for the occasion, as it is taken from the third and fourth chapters of Proverbs, "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom and the man that getteth understanding."

The next day at 1:30, one-half hour before commencement ceremonies, Mr. Perry will present an organ concert. As part of the commencement program, the Concert Band again will perform. This will be the 49th performance of the band this year, not counting ROTC performances, Mr. Eversole said.

MBH Feels Money Cut, Too

HELENA (AP)—A $33,500 cut in its state appropriation for the biennium starting July 1 will force the Montana Board of Health to reduce its activities.

This was announced Monday after a Saturday board meeting in which a million-dollar budget for the next fiscal year was adopted.

Actually, the budget of $1,054,553 for the fiscal 1962 is up $26,772 from the present fiscal year. But the increase is due to federal funds budgeted for special projects not requiring state matching funds.

A board statement said the $33,500 cut by the Legislature for the coming year means $13,300 in available federal funds cannot be matched. This brings the total reduction in money for the coming year to $46,800.

"In order to fully utilize available federal funds, certain staff personnel will be reassigned to special programs which are directly related to financing by federal funds.

"Personnel and services in several of the board's program areas have been deleted from the budget due to loss in state funds."

U.S. Senate Will Decide Fate of Reserved Lands

HELENA (AP)—Slightly over 85,000 acres of submarginal land on the Fort Peck Reservation would be held in trust for the Assiniboine and Sioux tribes under a bill introduced in the Senate.

Sens. Mike Mansfield and Lee Metcalf reported from Washington, D. C., the bill is supported by Wolf Point groups and by tribal officials.

"It brings to a conclusion many years of controversy over the proper disposition of these lands," Mansfield told the Senate.

The land, acquired by the federal government in 1933, has been administered for tribes on the reservation by the Interior Department.

The bill also provides for the sale of tribal lots in Wolf Point, Brockton and Frazer.

Must Be Kept Alive

At last Thursday's Central Board meeting, the ASMSU delegates voted to submit a resolution to Pres. Newburn expressing Central Board's dissatisfaction that ballet had been cut from the curriculum and asked that it be reinstated.

It was most fortunate that Academic Vice President Frank Abbott, was present at this meeting to see Central Board act on a resolution concerning curriculum. It is earnestly hoped that closer relationships between administration and students concerning curriculum will come about.

A proposal that ASMSU sponsor ballet with a $3,500 salary for an instructor was referred to Budget and Finance Committee which will meet today.

Contrary to ASMSU President Denis Adams' letter (published below), the object of ASMSU supporting ballet is to keep it on campus until Gov. Nutter's retrenchment program is over and then having the state support the ballet again. As it now stands, with the cutting of the ballet instructor, ballet will be dropped from MSU. If the ballet is dropped, it may never be revived at MSU, thus robbing MSU and Montana of an art so sadly lacking in the West.

To each student this will mean approximately $1 of the $51 per year student fee will go to the ballet for the next two years. This compares with the 95 cents each student gives for debate and oratory, the $1.11 that each student gives for dramatics and the $1.20 that each student gives to the public relations travel fund. Ballet can easily be justified when compared with these; let alone the approximately $2,800 loss on so called big-name entertainment.

Those who would call student interference in curriculum "presumptuous," cannot have student government goals moving in the right direction. The ASMSU constitution gives CB the power to "authorize a reasonable compensation for work done" which would include an instructor's salary. Since a student's primary responsibility at MSU is academic or concerning curriculum, those activities concerning curriculum should be given priority. For the students of ASMSU to be responsible for the keeping of the ballet at MSU, which some day might reach the status of the drama department or music department would surely show maturity and foresight.

If ASMSU chooses to support ballet, the one other problem that might stop it from being reinstated is Gov. Nutter's 15½ to 1 student faculty ratio imposed on MSU. MSU will have 254 professors next year. The ballet instructor is a part time or half instructor. This addition would be .19. If Gov. Nutter would not approve of this addition which would not be at the expense of the state, his reasons would have to be superficial and his motives ulterior.

Dissatisfaction, but . . .

Dear Dr. Newburn:

Since the announcement of the removal of the ballet department from the curriculum of Montana State University, there has been much discussion among the students on this subject. They are concerned about the lack of culture in the state of Montana, and they feel that ballet makes a great contribution to the campus, city, and state in this area. This discussion was finally brought before Central Board at its meeting on May 25, 1961. As a result of the opinions expressed by various interested students and the feelings of the delegates of Central Board, a resolution was passed as follows: Central Board wishes to express its dissatisfaction with the elimination of ballet and desires that it be reinstated at Montana State University.

It is realized that with the student-faculty ratio requirement and the limited budget that it will be impossible for the University to reinstate ballet during this biennium. We do want the administration to be aware of student interest in this field of the curriculum, and when plans are made for the next biennium we would like the administration to include the reinstatement of ballet at Montana State University.

Senator Says Criticism Uninformed, Biased

To the Kaimin:

I have noted the reprint in The Helena Independent-Record of April 26 of an editorial from the Montana Kaimin in which the 37th Legislative Assembly is criticized. The writer of that editorial obviously is not informed and is laboring under some unjustified delusions.

I need not apologize for what the 37th Legislative Assembly did, as it was the first for many years that lived up to its constitutional and legal obligation. Let me remind the readers that the state general fund budget requests were over $96 million. The foreseeable income was about $76 million and were were responsible for a balanced budget with a sufficient safety factor so that we could go no further into the red.

It is more than a coincidence that the Budget Director, after extensive research and study, the Governor, the Republican House and its Ways and Means Committee, together with Democratic Senate and its Finance and Claims Committee, came up with pretty much the same answer.

The conservative Democrats and the Republicans saw fit to accept these recommendations and thus appropriated $74.3 million for the general fund for the next biennium.

As a new member of the Session, I was impressed with the number of capable men who were working hard and long trying to do a conscientious job, always besieged with pressure groups asking for more. I have respect for the membership of the Ways and Means and the Finance and Claims Committees. Please remember that it is hard to say no to the many requests that are made. I would like to remind the editor of the Kaimin and others who are at the present so liberally criticizing the last Legislature that they should learn of the legal requirements of a balanced budget and the actual needs before becoming so critical.

Many of us feel that "the learning" opportunities are still at the Universities. These can be obtained with a little more digging in the library, fewer extracurricular activities, and less frosting. Spoon-feeding is not necessary or desirable for those who really want an education.

It is our hope that we can pass on to the next generations the blessings of a free democracy as most of us have known it, and which is not overwhelmed by debt. The University students should realize that they will, to a great extent, pay for the extravagance of the present day. There are many individuals and groups who ask for anything and everything with the naive belief that someone else will pay the taxes.

I want to remind the editor of the Kaimin that the Legislature did not "assume" that registration fees would be increased. That was entirely the prerogative and responsibility of the Board of Regents. Over the years, fee increases have tended to parallel other sources of support for higher education throughout the United States. This increase of costs amounts to slightly over 3 per cent and does not appear to place Montana institutions out of line with comparable school of higher education.

The members of the Legislature, I am sure, appreciation constructive suggestions for solving the problems which are to a great extent financial. We do not appreciate criticism from uninformed and biased people.

Mrs. JFK Does Part for Fashion, Visits Hospitals

NEW YORK (AP) — When Jacqueline Kennedy appears in Paris in clothes she's worn before, a great many American women will be quietly applauding her sensible view of fashion.

In Paris, Mrs. Kennedy is expected to concentrate on the customary institutions of a state visit, such as hospitals.

Whatever she wears, especially those once-worn gowns at state dinners with Gen. and Mrs. Charles De Gaulle, she has an approving body of opinion behind her here.

Pauline Trigere, probably the top woman designer in the country: "I'd rather talk about something important like Laos, but since you asked—whatever Jacqueline Kennedy wants to wear is OK with me. I think she's terribly chic, and if she wants to wear the same thing a dozen times she'll still look wonderful."

RECORD BREAKER — Gary Wojtowick, Montana's junior miler, ran a 4:15.4 mile during the 1961 Skyline Track and Field Championships Saturday to set a conference record. Harley Lewis, shot put, Jim Grasky, 440, Craig DeSilva, 440, Marv Miller, 880 and Steve Anderson, 220, placed in their respective events for Montana. The Grizzly relay team also finished in the points at the meet. Montana finished in a fifth-place tie with Colorado State University with 19 points. Brigham Young University's powerful track and field aggregation won the meet with a 59-point accumulation. New Mexico was second with 50 points, Utah State University third with 37 and the University of Utah fourth with 26 points.
