Chasm Found Between Heroes

Hero of Contemporary Novel Compared to Heroes of 'Epics'

The Rev. Julian N. Hartt, visiting lecturer, compared the hero of the contemporary novel with those of the "two great epics" (The Odyssey and the Bible), in his speech Friday night in the Cascade Room of the Lodge. He said he has found a chasm between the two types of "heroes."

Professor Hartt said that he believes the epics present man's adventures in life as a divine pilgrimage. From a birth of innocence, the epic hero attains a knowledge of life by following a godly-determined appointment with fate, said Hartt. The epic hero follows a path from primeval innocence to self identity.

However, the contemporary novel hero has no such appointment, said Hartt. The modern novel hero gropes through life alone—"he is either a self-creator, or he becomes a victim of the blind forces of life."

There is possibility of aid for the contemporary hero, said Hartt. Contrary to the epic hero, the contemporary hero is kept off base in his search for identity and happiness. To illustrate his belief, Professor Hartt quoted the situation of Lt. Fredrick Henry, the hero of "A Farewell to Arms" who said, "... Now Catherine would die. That was what you did. You died. You did not know what it (life) was about. You never had time to learn. They (the forces) threw you in and told you the rules and the first time they caught you off base they killed you."

"The novel hero can't distinguish himself today," said Hartt.

Venture Gives Short Story Poetry Prizes

Marcella Melton, Andy Elting, Mel Wilk and Laulett Hansen are the winners in the Venture short story and poetry contest, according to Patti Jo Shaw, Venture editor.

Mrs. Melton won the $60 prize for a short story, "The Anniversary" and Elting won the $40 prize for "Pride Passed This Way." In the poetry contest Wilk won $60 for his "Anita's Musings" and Miss "Athens Has Kittens." Prizes were not awarded in the essay contest.

All entrants may pick up their manuscripts at the beginning of next quarter in the Venture office.

Venture will not be out until registration day of next quarter, Miss Shaw said yesterday, because the Venture staff wants students to have more time to read and discuss the magazine.

Duncan to Speak On Colonialism

John Spenser Ritchie Duncan, sponsored by the Visiting Lecturers Committee, will speak tomorrow night on "The Explosion in World Affairs: Colonialism," in the Cascade Room of the Lodge.

Mr. Duncan is deputy director-general of British Information Services in New York and has served in the Sudan political service.

'Crime and Punishment' Tryouts Begin Tonight

Tryouts are scheduled tonight and tomorrow night at 7 for Raymond Bruce's dramatization of Dostoyevsky's novel, "Crime and Punishment," according to Douglas Bankson, associate professor of drama.

Mr. Bankson said that the cast is large and the tryouts are open to all students.

Women to Sing Carols to Men

Bearing candles and singing Christmas hymns, eight groups of University women will serenade the men's living groups, and homes of Pres. Newburn and Dean Clow starting at 7 tonight.

The women's annual Christmas caroling is sponsored by Panhellenic, the coordinating body of sororities. The route for caroling was arranged so that each living group would finish near home residences, according to Annette Smith, Panhellenic president.

Sigma Kappa will sing "Silent Night" and begin caroling at Phi Delta Theta; Kappa Alpha Theta, "I Heard the Bells," Phi Sigma Kappa; Triangle, "Sleigh Ride," Dean Clow's; Alpha Phi, "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow" and "Masters in This Hall," Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Hark What Mean Those Holy Voices," Delta Sigma Phi; Delta Delta Delta, "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "Wassailing Song," Craig; Delta Gamma, "When Christmas Morn Is Dawning," Elrod Hall; Turner, "What Child Is This?" and "Joy to the World," Pres. Newburn's.

Carolers will follow in this general order: Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Nu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Craig, Elrod, Alpha Tau Omega, Pres. Newburn, Dean Clow and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Food Service Hours Posted For Vacation

Gertrude Chamberlain, director of food services, today announced the Lodge Grill and cafeteria hours during Christmas vacation.

Meal passes will be honored through dinner, Dec. 14. The cafeteria will resume food service for dormitory students on Jan. 2.

The Lodge Grill will remain open until 7 p.m. Dec. 15. All food services in the Lodge will be closed from Dec. 16 to Jan. 1, 1962, when the Grill will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. On Jan. 2 the Lodge will resume normal operations.

Laos Guardians Chosen in Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laos peace conference took a major step yesterday by naming Britain and the Soviet Union as permanent guardians of the Southeast Asian kingdom's peace and neutrality.

In its first formal session in five weeks, the conference concluded an East-West agreement that also covered the functions and powers of the three-nation control commission, which will supervise a neutrality treaty.

The new agreement becomes operative only after the treaty is signed and ratified. Among the major obstacles remaining is the problem of demobilizing Communist rebel forces or bringing them under the proposed new government.

Rioting Continues After Seven Days

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Terrorists encouraged by the army smashed shops and clubbed down civilians yesterday in a strongarm attempt to end the crippling seven-day strike aimed at ousting the government.

Angry antigovernment crowds fought back with rocks and slingshots. At least five persons were wounded by fragments from noise bombs hurled in an effort to break up growing mobs.

The new violence flared after the armed forces withdrew all troops from riot duty in the capital and openly invited people to smash into shuttered stores.

Soldiers exhorted residents of poorer class neighborhoods to rise against the owners of closed shops. The appeal went largely unheeded except for a band of some 20 raggedly dressed men.

Katanga President Sets Air Limitations

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba of Katanga threatened yesterday to shoot down all planes flying over this secessionist province and Katanga troops followed up the declaration by throwing up roadblocks on main roads leading to the airport and the U.N. Indian troop camp.

Kimba's threat was termed a "very grave statement" by acting U.N. Chief George Ivan Smith, who reported it at once to U.N. headquarters in New York.

Katanga troops killed one U.N. soldier, wounded three and seized 15 hostages during the weekend.

Solid Fuel Missile Shot Successfully

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—A 40-foot Blue Scout solid fuel rocket soared successfully yesterday to a point high over the South Pole with a 29-pound package of instruments to measure dangerous radiation in space.

"The payload is relaying back information on space radiation over the South Pole," an Air Force spokesman said.

The rocket was aimed at a point over the South Pole some 27,600 miles out in space. Whether that was the precise apogee or high point it reached on its approximately six-hour upward flight won't be known until data from tracking stations is evaluated.

Patterson, Liston Score Knockouts

TORONTO (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson retained his title Monday night by knocking out tough Tom McNeeley Jr., of Arlington, Mass., in 2:51 of the fourth round of a wild brawl at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Patterson dropped the previously undefeated, but crude challenger eight times in a rip roaring battle that had the crowd of about 6,000 screaming.

The bout was the second half of a closed circuit TV doubleheader. In the first half, Sonny Liston, the

A Problem of Attitude

Spurs and Bearpaws will undertake a "study-and-keep-quiet" campaign next quarter in the library. These service organizations in recognizing the need for such a campaign have not recognized the problem with which they will deal.

The growth of this problem is the result of student body growth and not of any change in the students. With the growth of the student body, more students seek to use the library. Within this larger group of students there is an increase in the number of students that goes to the library for social purposes. The talkative, socializing student has always been in the library. There is now just a larger number of them.

This problem arose from another problem—how to make the non-studious student study. The long-sought solutions to this problem, for many organizations, have been to force the student to spend a certain amount of time in the library. The Spurs and Bearpaws now seek the solution to the problem of how to make the student study once he is in the library.

The problem that the Spurs and Bearpaws will face is one of attitude. The same students that take an indifferent attitude toward the University, student government and other things will take an indifferent attitude toward the purpose of a library.

Projects similar to the "study-and-keep-quiet" campaign have been undertaken by Spurs, Bearpaws and other campus service organizations. The best example of such a project is the numerous attempts to keep the students off the grass. Some of these projects have been undertaken with great enthusiasm but have failed because of a certain number of students that is completely indifferent to many of the things around campus.

To meet the existing problem without facing the real problem is to invite failure. Say, however, that the Spurs and Bearpaws keep the halls of the library empty. What will this accomplish? It will take the social gathering out of the hall into the study rooms, hardly making the situation better.

One should also consider the fact that even the serious student wants a break during the two or three hour period spent in the library. Are you going to keep his conversation to a whisper?

The goal of the campaign is to give the study rooms of the library an atmosphere advantageous to studying. Under the circumstances this could best be accomplished by setting aside one of the small study rooms on the second floor of the library for the purpose of keeping the students taking a break out of the hall.

The Spurs and Bearpaws will not change the attitude of the students. They can no more do this than they can keep students from walking on the grass. If, however, the goal is to be realized, the most should be made of what we have in the library.

This can be done in three major ways: 1. Keep the study groups out of the library study rooms. 2. Give the students that are taking a break a place to go instead of in the halls. 3. Once the students have a place to go, have a library official keep the halls quiet.

How Will They Do It?

Israel will be on trial Dec. 11. On this day the 300 page verdict of the Adolf Eichmann trial will be announced and will take three days to read.

In stating the 300 page opinion, the court will give considerable space to justifying the legality of the trial and also considerable space will be given to the reasons for the conviction of Adolf Eichmann.

Israel knows that the world will be watching the court's proceedings and is going to take every opportunity to make the proceeding seem as justifiable and fair as possible.

The verdict of the court is not the question in doubt. The question is how Israel will kill Adolf Eichmann. And at the same time how Israel will justify it to the world.

Century Club Salutes Student Spirit

To The Kaimin:

We of the Century Club wish to take this opportunity to salute the splendid spirit of the Montana State University Student Body.

Granted that the OSC game Saturday night was as stirring a contest as we have ever seen, it seemed to us as spectators that the extra spark for victory over a tremendous foe came to our indomitable Grizzlies from a truly loyal student body.

Student enthusiasm and a cohesive desire provided inspiration to every individual in attendance and certainly should be considered a winning factor in this contest.

Too Much Grass, No Parking Room, Student Contends

To the Kaimin:

Last Thursday night it became noticeable to me that the current grass planting campaign has posed another problem. Particularly when both the University Theater and Masquer Theater are being used.

Last summer the parking area around the Art, Music, and Library buildings was completely closed to parking. Theater goers now must park along the streets. They often end up walking several blocks over icy sidewalks and slushy streets.

Is this the objective of the maintenance department?

Then let's plant the parking areas around the Field House in lawn! That would never be done. Basketball fans and the Athletic department would be furious. And rightly so. It would cut attendance at Field House events.

Why must parking space available for the Library, events at the Music Auditorium, University Theater, and The Masquer Theater be reduced? Aren't these programs as worthwhile as those in the 'barn' or do these patrons deserve to walk further?

Parking for those attending performances of the Limelighters in February and the All-School Show in May is of special concern. Student funds in excess of $5,000 will be at stake. Whether we make a financial success of these projects depends upon the services that we can provide. Parking is a must.

I overheard a group of ladies say, as they were trying to cross Arthur Avenue to get to their car, that they weren't bothering to come to other events, walk several blocks, and risk falling on icy streets.

Maintenance Department, feel proud, but we need their support, as well as that of other Missoulians, more than we need any patch of grass.

Placement Bureau Invites Registering Of Seniors, Grads

The Placement Bureau is extending an invitation to MSU seniors and graduate students to register for employment service, according to Maxine Wilson, assistant director of the Placement Bureau.

She said that the bureau cannot "obtain" jobs for graduates, only the graduate himself can do that. However, the Placement Bureau is in a position to assist the graduate by putting him in touch with bonafide recruiters in most job fields.

The Placement Bureau will also serve the graduate by mailing certified credentials to prospective employers. The credentials are kept up to date throughout the years through the use of special forms for this purpose, she said.

Mrs. Wilson said that the $5 registration fee entitles the MSU graduate to a lifetime of service from the Bureau, and she urges seniors and graduates to register as soon as possible.

Five all-Conference team, scored 26 of his 30 points from the field. Montana's Steve Lowry was unable to stop Hanson's hook shots or drives. About 8 of his points came on driving shots around Lowry.

The Huskies led the entire game, the Grizzlies staying within six points until midway through the final half. At that time a driving hook from the key by Hanson, followed by a layin and free throw by Roger Niva put Washington ahead 38 to 29.

Montana momentarily closed the gap to six points with six minutes left before Washington went on a ten point scoring spree, leaving Montana in the dust 52 to 36. At that time the Grizzlies' hopes were almost completely deflated.

Both teams had trouble finding the hoop as the game opened. Washington moved into an early 5 to 1 lead on a layin and a foul shot by Hanson and a set shot by guard Dick Reiten.

Midway through the first half Bob O'Billovich, standing all alone under the Montana basket, made a layin, making the score 14 to 11. A few seconds later, O'Billovich was fouled and made the first of two free throws, with Dan Sullivan tipping in the second knotting the score at 14 to 14.

The two teams traded basket for basket until the last minute of the first half. Washington closed the first half by adding four points on a layin by Hanson and a set shot by Niva.

As the buzzer sounded to end the first half Washington led 24 to 20.

Montana opened the second half with a double post offense, but a cold shooting attack.

Hanson's 30 points was high for both teams. The second highest output by a Washington player was five points by Niva.

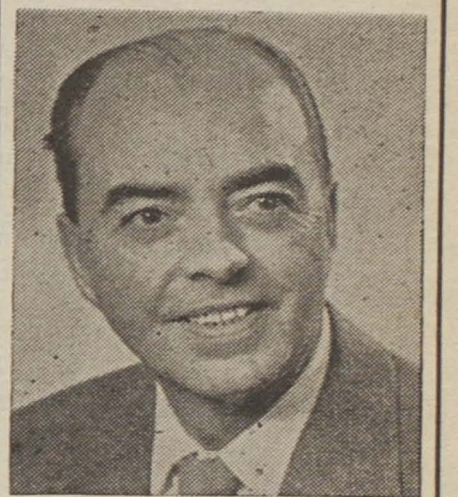

Bob O'Billovich was high point man for Montana with 14 followed by Lowry with 10. Forward Ed Corell, last year's Big Five rebound king, gathered 18 rebounds for the Huskies. Niva gathered 12 of the boards.

Sullivan picked up 11 rebounds for Montana.

Montana's touted rebound power, Steve Lowry, managed to pull down only seven rebounds. Lowry scored 8 of 10 shots from the charity line and one field goal for his 10 points.

Montana made 14 of 51 shots for a .275 percentage. Washington hit 24 of 58 and a .353 percentage.

Hartt Tells Forum Members Of 'Inspired' Illusions in Politics

The Rev. Julian N. Hartt, from the Yale College Divinity School, explained three "religiously-inspired" illusions about politics to Montana Forum members Friday.

The Rev. Hartt, who called himself "a one-time small town political boss," said that people believe that idealism is an understood sacrifice a politician must make.

People believe that a person in politics comprises his principles one after another, he said. This is not so if a politician knows his business.

The second religiously-inspired belief is that character counts more in politics than the party, the Rev. Hartt said.

"I always vote for the man, not the party," is a policy of self-neutralization.

An organization with discipline can effectively manipulate in politics, but a man without a party cannot do much, since he has no instrument to govern.

The third illusion is that there is a community organized on authentic religious principles which have the power to control lives and interests, and acts as a political referee, the Rev. Hartt said. But, he added, no such thing exists in America today.

BING TO IMPORT COOK

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Nancy Melville, who cooked for Bing Crosby and Bob Hope when they shared a house here this fall, is going to America to cook for Bing.

The 55-year-old woman said Crosby had offered her a job in his California home and she had accepted it with pleasure.

Crosby, Hope and their families shared a house during the filming of "The Road to Hong Kong."

The first concern of politics, the Rev. Hartt said, should deal with the real possibilities existing in a situation, not with abstractions.

Board Opposes State Service By Institutions to Non-Students

HELENA (AP) — A resolution opposing service of food and lodging to non-students by state colleges and universities has been passed by the Montana Motor Hotel Association board of directors.

Members of the 12-man board, representing 221 member motels in the state, said a copy of the resolution would be delivered Monday to Gov. Donald G. Nutter.

The resolution, adopted unanimously at a quarterly meeting of the board Sunday, said state colleges and universities "have for some time rented rooms and served meals to many people other than students."

Such services by tax-supported educational institutions, the motel

POSTER GOES BACK TO WORK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is calling back into active service one of the most famous recruiting posters of World War I.

It is the red, white and blue picture of a stern looking Uncle Sam, pointing a finger and saying "I want you."

The poster was the work of the late artist James Montgomery Flagg.

Draft Clerk Tells Students to Check Deferred Service

Deferment of military service is possible for college students, according to Mrs. Marion P. Jones, clerk of the local draft board.

Mrs. Jones said that an SS Form 109, which tells of the student's academic standing, and a written request must be submitted in order for deferment to continue his education.

"Many college students don't know about the deferment," she said.

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!" says Sextus (Crazy Legs) Cato, Bacchus Cup winner. "There are lots of filter cigarettes around," says Crazy Legs, "but e pluribus unum stands out—Dual Filter Tareyton. For the best taste of the best tobaccos, try Tareyton—one filter cigarette that really delivers de gustibus!"
