BOSTON LAWYER
SPEAKS THURSDAY
AT UM LAW INSTITUTE

MISSOULA---

James F. Farr, a lawyer from Boston, Mass., will discuss several topics Thursday during the attorneys' Short Course on Estate Planning at the University of Montana.

Farr, a partner in Haussermann, Davison & Shattuck, Boston, will discuss planning for various types of clients, various types of trusts, conflict of laws and the selection and drafting of trust provisions. He will make his presentations at 1:10 p.m. Thursday and will continue his discussions again at 9:10 a.m. Friday.

The estate planning short course is being held this week at the University School of Law Building through a program entitled Continuing Legal Education--Montana, and is sponsored by the Montana Bar Association and the UM School of Law.

Also on Thursday's agenda is a talk by William J. Bowe, a University of Colorado law professor who is tax counsel for the State Farm Life Insurance Co. Bowe will speak on the disposition of business interests and life insurance in estate planning beginning at 9:10 a.m.

All business sessions during the short course are being held in room 131 of the UM Law Building.

Farr's remarks Friday will be among the concluding presentations for the short course, which has been under the direction of Robert E. Sullivan, UM law school dean, and Lester R. Rusoff, a UM law professor.
