CAMP MUSICIANS
PERFORM TODAY

The Montana High School Fine Arts Camp bands, orchestra and chorus will make their debut in a public concert on the University of Montana oval Sunday (Aug. 4) at 3 p.m.

Avery Glenn, supervisor of music for the Billings schools, will lead the 52-piece concert band in selections that include highlights from "The Music Man" by Meredith Willson. Graduate assistant Ralph Downey will direct the organization in "March Lamar" by Clifton Williams.

The 60-voice chorus, conducted by Dr. Joseph Mussulman of the UM faculty, will perform a revival hymn, a Negro spiritual, a tune from the time of the American Revolution, and Ernst Toch's "Geographical Fugue" (for speaking chorus).

The 57-member orchestra will play ballet music from Gounod's "Faust," a procession from Wagner's "Lohengrin," and Beethoven's "Egmont Overture." The orchestra is led by Walter Green, noted clinician and principal bassoonist with the San Francisco Symphony.

Dr. Myron Russell of Northern Iowa University, Cedar Falls, will conduct the 51-piece symphonic band in "All Souls' Day" by Richard Strauss, "El Chaco" by Robert Logan, and selections from "The King and I" by Richard Rodgers. Charles Johnson of the Hellgate High School faculty will lead the band in "Aufwaerts" by Ernst Luthold.

In the event of rain, the concert will be in the Recital Hall, according to George D. Lewis, camp director.

Lewis said the 214 teenagers attending the two-week camp will participate this week in several public performances and exhibits in dance, drama, music and visual art.
