Required Text: Psychology: Themes and Variations by Wayne Weiten, 9th Edition

Optional Material: PsykTrek CD-ROM and/or Themes and Variations Study Guide

Course Description:

Psychology is the scientific study of human and animal behavior and mental processes. You will learn to understand the nature, structure and historical development of human organizations and relationships, including how these events shaped the field of contemporary psychology. Utilizing multiple psychological theories (i.e., psychodynamic, behavioral, physiological, social, cognitive), you will be taught how the human mind—the basic building block of all human organizations and relationships—functions. Further, by being exposed to actual research results throughout the term, and discussing the meaning of those results, you will learn how to interpret and think about psychological research data.

As a survey course, Introduction to Psychology provides an overview of the methods, terms, theories, and findings in the field of psychology. By understanding principles of psychology, you will learn more about yourself, others, non-human animals, and relationships.

Course Assignments & Grading Criteria:

Assignments for this class include quizzes, labs, and discussions.

Quizzes

The week 1 quiz is comprised of multiple-choice questions (1 point each) as well as short answer questions (5 points each) and is worth 30 points total. For the remainder of the weeks, the weekly quiz is comprised of 30 multiple-choice questions and is worth a total of 30 points. These assignments test your knowledge of the reading material for each week. You are only allowed 1 attempt for each quiz, so please read the assigned readings before attempting to complete the quizzes.

Each quiz will be made available on Moodle at the start of the week. You will have until Sunday night at 11:55 PM to complete the quiz from the previous week.

Lab Assignments

Lab assignments are supplements to the required readings, quizzes, and discussions in class. Each lab assignment will be described in full detail under “Labs.” There are 5 lab assignments across the semester, and they are worth 40 points each.

Discussions

The Discussion Board assignments are the participation and essay portions of the course. Doing well on these assignments requires consistent and detailed participation each week. Grades are based on (1) attendance and (2) quality of your posts. Discussion Board assignments do not include any posts made in the “Q & A” or “Welcome” Discussions. Full credit requires high quality and maximum frequency posts. The two charts below explain how your discussion posts are graded.

ATTENDANCE GRADING (30 points possible per week)
Students must post (respond) a minimum of 3 separate days per week . You can post more than three days, and post more than three times, but at a minimum, you must post on three separate days.	3 days	30 points
	2 days	20 points
	1 day	10 points
	0 days	0 points

Once the number of days is calculated, students are then graded based on their contributions to the discussion. The following points are deducted, not added, from the points earned above, to yield a final weekly “attendance” score. (Students cannot earn negative points. The lowest score is a zero.)

Students must make a post to EACH discussion question (DQ) in the weekly discussion forum.	2 DQ's	0 pts lost
	1 DQ	15 pts lost
	0 DQ's	30 pts lost
Each week DQ#1 post is due by Monday @ 11:55 p.m. , and DQ#2 post is due by Wednesday @ 11:55 p.m.	Each day late	2 pts lost
Students must post (respond) to a minimum of 3 of their peers . You can post to more than 3; but at a minimum, you must reply to 3 of your peers.	4 peers	0 pts lost
	3 peers	1 pt lost
	2 peers	2 pts lost
	1 peer	3 pts lost
	0 peers	4 pts lost
This promotes student engagement with each other, rather than just responding to the DQ's posted by the instructor.

Once I have calculated your final weekly “attendance” score, then I grade the quality of your posts, as explained below. Again, the following points are deducted, not added, from the final weekly “attendance” score, to yield a final weekly “Discussion” score. (Students cannot earn negative points. The lowest score is a zero.)

Students must to make detailed and thoughtful posts that reflect an appropriate application of emerging knowledge and vocabulary in the topic area. Each post must add value to the discussion and be related to the required readings for the week. Below are additional details of how I grade the quality of your posts.	Superior	0 pts lost
	Above Average	3 pts lost
	Average	6 pts lost
	Below Average	9 pts lost
	Unacceptable	12 pts lost

Superior:

Your contributions demonstrate a complete mastery of the materials assigned. Your responses might integrate multiple views and/or show strong analysis and reflection on topics and other student’s posts. You provide evidence that you are reading the assigned materials and other student postings and are responding accordingly, bringing out interesting interpretations. You know the facts and are able to analyze them, apply them to real life scenarios and handle conceptual ideas. It is highly unlikely that you could get full credit in less than two paragraphs.

Above Average:

Your responses build on the ideas of other participants and dig deeper into assignment questions or issues. When you make intelligent posts during the week, including some good critique of the course material, then you have demonstrated you have an understanding of the material, are reading posts of your colleagues, and are contributing to the class. Your posts demonstrate confidence with the materials, but may be just a bit off target in one area or another.

Average:

You have meaningful interaction with other participants' postings. Posts that state, “I agree” or “I disagree” and include a detailed explanation of what is disagreed or agreed upon and why, or introduce a perspective or concept that adds to the discussion. However, you may have rambling, lengthy posts with no clear point, your writing has a lack of clarity and comprehension, or there are considerable typos and grammatical errors.

Below Average:

You answer questions asked by me or other students but do not expand upon your response or you answer questions based only on your opinion, rather than on research or proper evidence. Your posts are unusually short (one paragraph or less) and you fail to demonstrate a clear working knowledge of the material covered for the week.

Unacceptable:

You will receive little credit in the week's discussion by just showing up and making trivial comments, without adding any new thought to the discussion. At the low end of the spectrum, no participation gets a "0." If you are not in the discussion, you do not earn any points. Comments such as "I agree" or other one-sentence responses will result in zero points. Copying and pasting from a website without providing your own substantial insight is also an unacceptable post- even if you have properly cited your sources. This assignment is an assessment of your understanding of the information covered in this class. Copying and pasting from websites does not demonstrate a working knowledge of the material.

Special Note: I check very carefully for plagiarism in the discussion posts. If you have plagiarized, you will get a zero for the entire assignment. If you plagiarize a second time, you will fail the course. If you engage in flaming behavior in the posts, you will get a zero for the entire assignment.

Course Grading:

Your final grade for the course will consist of scores on weekly quizzes, discussion posts, and lab exercises. Your final grade is the percentage of the total points earned divided by total possible points. There is no course curve in this class.

The following chart breaks down the points for each assignment type.

Quizzes (15 @ 30 points per quiz)	450 points possible
Discussion Posts (30 @ 30 points per week)	450 points possible
Lab Exercises (5 @ 40 points per lab)	200 points possible
Total Points	1,100 points possible

You will have the option at the end of the term to complete an extra credit assignment for 15 points (half a quiz!!). This assignment will be made available at 12:01 am on 5/2 and will be due by 11:55 PM on 5/6. ABSOLUTELY NO LATE SUBMISSIONS OF THE EXTRA CREDIT ASSIGNMENT WILL BE ACCEPTED.

The following chart shows the Grade scale for the Final Course grade.

Final Course Grade	# Points	Percentage
A	984 – 1,100	89.5% - 100%
B	874 – 983	79.5% – 89%
C	764 – 873	69.5% – 79%
D	654 – 763	59.5% – 69%
F	0 – 653	< 59.5%

Course Policies

Announcements

Students are responsible for all announcements made in class. These may include changes in policy, due dates, or assignment requirements. Announcements will be posted in the announcements section of the course or are directly emailed to the students.

Technology Policies

Please contact UM Online if you experience technical difficulties. Though I would love to be able to help, I am not qualified to do so. Critical Note: I do not allow technical issues or not having the proper software as reasons for late or incomplete work. To ensure your own protection, please keep technical support contact information available offline and please do not wait until the last minute to complete your work each week! To access technical support (and save their contact information offline) please click on the "Tech Support" link to the left of the page.

Technical Alternatives

Keep in mind your technical alternatives if you have computer difficulties. If you live near the University, campus computers are an option. Otherwise, consider the public library, an internet café, a computer at work, or a friend or family member's computer. My expectation is that you will be prepared with alternatives should an issue arise so it is important to have a plan of action in mind so that you can complete the required work.

System and Software Requirements

Please refer to the UMOnline web page that lists downloads and plug-ins that you may need to complete your course.

Assignment Due Dates, Late Work, and Make-up Work

Assignments are due every week on Friday by 11:55 pm MST. Please be sure to start your assignments early enough to complete them by the time the week closes. Again, it is important to plan ahead so that if an issue arises that prevents you from accessing a computer or the internet, you will not fall behind.

Students cannot, under any circumstance, make up the discussion posts assignment. Due to the interactive nature of this assignment, students must be engaged in this process throughout the week each week in order to receive credit.

Late assignments (i.e., those submitted after the designated due date) will incur a 10% penalty deducted from the total possible points for an assignment. An additional 10% will be deducted for each day the assignment is late. To make up missed assignments it is mandatory that you (1) notify your Instructor before the time of the assignment and (2) provide proper documentation verifying the reason for your absence. Examples of proper documentation include a medical note or a death or family emergency. Remember, prior notification and documentation is mandatory! You can provide documentation by (a) scanning and emailing the documents, (2) mailing the documents, or (3) bringing them by my office during office hours (4) placing them in my mailbox in the computer lab on the first floor of the Skaggs building. I do not allow students to make up work until I have received the proper documents.

Grades of Incomplete

Departmental and university policies regarding incompletes do not allow changing “incomplete” grades after one year has passed since the “I” was granted.

Academic Misconduct

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code.

Plagiarism

The Student Conduct Code discusses plagiarism. However, it is a serious offense worth re-mentioning. This course requires students to adhere to APA format when citing, paraphrasing, or referencing sources. If you have plagiarized, either intentionally or accidentally, you will receive a zero on the entire assignment. If you plagiarize a second time, you will fail the course.

Netiquette

Students must engage in proper “netiquette.” Netiquette, or “network etiquette,” is a professional and courteous way of communicating with others in the online medium. Failure to engage in proper netiquette will result in earning a zero for each assignment where an incident has occurred.

Disability modifications

The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students. If you think you may have a disability adversely affecting your academic performance, and you have not already registered with Disability Services, please contact Disability Services in Lommasson Center 154 or call 406.243.2243. I will work with you and Disability Services to provide an appropriate modification.
