Psychologist Discusses Two Keys to Creativity

The key to creativity involves independence from authority and reactivity to experience, Arnold Miller, assistant professor of psychology, said last night.

Speaking at Tuesday Topic, Mr. Miller outlined some of the factors enhancing and interfering with creativity.

Independence from authority is necessary for the creative person so that he will be able to respond without being unduly influenced by conventions, Mr. Miller said.

Reactivity Is Awareness

Reactivity to experience amounts to an awareness of influences and occurrences, according to Mr. Miller.

"Creativity," Mr. Miller said, "relies upon the ability to combine, synthesize and interpret sensory input into new and communicable forms."

He said some people feel the "immediacy of the world" because of this ability.

Mr. Miller indicated that students may have "creativity trained out of them" because our educational system emphasizes learning "by the numbers."

Emphasis on grades tempts students to "play it safe."

"A creative person must risk being slapped down," Mr. Miller said. Creativity requires persons to be ready to use unique sensory inputs.

Reactivity, he said, has its basis in the ability of a person to react intimately with events in the world.

Role Playing

"A person feels experience more intensely when he plays a 'role' in the action," Mr. Miller said.

Creativity has its reward in the "pleasure of being somewhat omnipotent," he said. It produces an "enhancement of one's own identity." It enables a creative person to "successfully relate himself to reality."

Little Missoula Fahrenheits

Cold air, whipped by winds from the Hellgate Canyon, is expected to continue today in Missoula, as the first of what undoubtedly will be a long series of arctic fronts edges into Western Montana.

The thermometer probably won't creep over 40 degrees today, local weather bureau officials said, and it may skid to 20 degrees tonight. The cold air is the leading edge of an arctic front from Canada.

The hope that Canada may keep most of the cold air was expressed by the weatherman, who said that the chilly weather may last only "a day or two" here.

Snow warnings were issued yesterday by the state weather bureau for both Eastern and Western Montana. According to the Associated Press, the flow of arctic air from Canada dropped temperatures into the teens in parts of the cold belt near the Eastern Montana-Canada border, with the temperature skidding to 10 below zero in northern Saskatchewan.

In other parts of the country temperatures were in the 30s and 40s in most of the central section, in the 50s and 60s along the East Coast and in the 40s and 50s along the West Coast yesterday.

R. Donald McCaig, graduate assistant in drama, wrote "Randles" and "Requiem."

Honor Code Violator Gets Probation, 'F'

A forestry student was recently found guilty of violating the honor code of the school.

His case was turned over to the council of the Forestry School which consists of five representatives elected at large by the forestry students. The council recommended that (1) the defendant be placed on probation until he leaves the school and any further violations will be grounds for expulsion and (2) the defendant be reprimanded by the dean of the forestry school. The student also received an "F" in the course.

The five members on the council are Dave L'Honnedieu and Wally Page, seniors, Dave Brunner and Steve Haugland, juniors, and John Payne, sophomore.

"We are not a police force," L'Honnedieu said yesterday. "We are not trying to act as policemen but someone must make rulings and enforce them. All decisions of the council are unanimous and are not based on a majority vote," he added.

Last spring, the present council handled its first honor violation case. There are "possibly three more violations of the honor code to be dealt with this quarter," L'Honnedieu said. The council meets anytime there is a violation of the honor code.

Cambridge U, MSU to Debate Need for National Health Service

Does the United States need a national health service? This question will be debated at 8 tonight by delegates from Cambridge University, England, and MSU.

The debate, which will be in the Music Auditorium, is sponsored through joint action by the Institute of International Education and the MSU Intercollegiate Debate and Oratory Association.

International debates such as this are not unusual. "We usually get teams here every two or three years," Ralph Y. McGinnis, professor of speech and director of forensics said.

About six years ago, Prof. McGinnis said, MSU sent a debate team to Oxford, England, where they debated with two members of the British Parliament. The two team members, Don Mosher and Jerry Rutan, also visited London and Paris.

The Cambridge debaters, who will take the affirmative on the national health service question, will be Michael Howard and John K. Toulmin. The MSU debaters, taking the negative on the question, will be Dean Hellinger and William P. White.

Howard, like the other debaters, has been very active in college. He is a member of the Cambridge Union Society, the College Debating Society, the Cambridge University Conservative Association and the college football team. He wants to be either a lawyer or broadcaster.

Toulmin is also a member of the Cambridge Union Society, the Debating Society and the Conservative Association. In addition to these groups he is a member of the University Law Society and the Joint Action Group for Understanding Among Races. Toulmin is now studying to be a lawyer.

Hellinger graduated from MSU in 1956 with a B.A. in economics. He is a former MSU Debate Captain and member of the ASMSU Budget and Finance Committee and a member of the Scholastic Honor Society, the History Honor Society, the Social Science Honor Society and Forensics Society. He is a past member of Silent Sentinel. He plans to be a college instructor.

White is also an MSU graduate. He received his history degree in 1962. He is a member of the MSU Debate and Oratory Association and the Forensics Society. In 1961 he received the Treasure State Oratory Award and the Montana Extemporaneous Speaking Award. In 1962 he received the Montana Oratory Cup and the Baldwin Memorial Award. White plans to be a teacher.

Turkey Shoots and ROTC

A sense of humor in the official ranks of the military is rare and welcome.

A sense of humor in the official ranks of ROTC is very rare and very welcome.

Evidently most of the hilarity is emanating from the Army half of the bivouac. After the Air Force pasted the Army to the green wall of Dornblaser Stadium Monday, it doesn't look as if the boys in green would have too much to chuckle over, but Capt. Stone's stalwarts never say die.

They're sponsoring a turkey shoot north of Dornblaser Field (they can't seem to stay away from the place) this Friday and Saturday, "shotgun and shells free or use your own gun." Fifty cents is the entry fee.

The prize, of course, is a 12-pound turkey for Thanksgiving dinner.

Anyhow, now that we're in a good mood about the military, we might as well clarify our position in regard to compulsory ROTC.

We think compulsory ROTC is a tremendous waste of time, money and talent. It does not belong in colleges and universities.

Voluntary ROTC is a different matter. ROTC on a voluntary scholarship basis would be better for the following reasons:

(1) Freedom and like that: No individual freedom to march in baggy pants or not to march would be curtailed.

(2) Public relations: Non-ROTC men would be happy about the program and would not grouse about it, thereby enhancing ROTC's reputation.

(3) Officer crop yield: If cadets were recruited on a pay-your-way-through-college scholarship basis, the officers would be better generally (ROTC could choose from the best and then concentrate on educating the select few rather than spoon-feeding everybody) and probably happier.

(4) Money, the clincher: We'd guess the program would be cheaper—not so many teachers, not so much waste of time ordering unwilling "recruits" around, not so many uniforms and M-1s (or B-57s or whatever).

What is covered academically the last two years of ROTC under the present program could be covered in the first two years, freeing the last two for the cadets to bone up in important courses in history, political science, physics, etc.

We suppose it will take an act of Congress or God or something to get such changes through. However, a sense of humor is an encouraging sign, at least, and a possible starting point.

A Yankee in King Nikita's Court

The recent actions of Nikita Khrushchev and his Union of Soviet Socialist Republics would be laughable if they were not so utterly vicious.

Russia reminds one of a proud and petulant little boy, who, having to admit he is out of food, is compelled by necessity to trade one of his best toys for some loaves of bread, but who, to retain some vestige of dignity, does petty retaliatory things to demonstrate his might.

The loaves of bread are Russia's pleas for wheat from the U.S. The petty—but dangerous—things are common political tactics: blockading and obstructing U.S. passage through the East German corridor to Berlin and seizing Prof. Barghoorn in the Soviet Union and idiotically charging him with spying.

Such actions, undertaken mainly to keep the U.S.S.R.'s image of technological greatness intact in underdeveloped countries, fool very few. They only serve to remind us that we should be darn careful before we place ourselves in a position of trust with the U.S.S.R.—even when something much, much bigger than an "image" is at stake.

Boe Stirs Up Original Rules Solution

To the Kaimin:

It appears there are two major factions arising from the issue regarding women's hours and restrictions. One is made up of those who believe women over a certain age should be allowed to live off campus and maintain their own hours at their discretion. The other advocates strict, rigid controls of hours and morals and residence in dormitories, as is found in the present system.

May I offer a compromise and possible solution:

All female students over the age of 18 shall be required to live in an apartment off campus, but the doors of those apartments shall be locked by a time lock at 10:30 each and every night, regardless of who is in the apartment at the time.

This plan offers off-campus living and strict hours. Also, the morals of the women are controlled as strictly as possible, for they can be no better than their parents have raised them. Where there is a will, there is a way.

Top Photographs Now on Display

An exhibit of prize-winning photographs from the Twentieth Annual Pictures of the Year competition is now on display in the glass cases by the Bookstore.

The eight-panel exhibit, which includes color and black and white photographs, is jointly sponsored by the National Press Association, the University of Missouri School of Journalism and the World Book Encyclopedia.

This year about 7,000 pictures were submitted for the competition by 582 photographers. The work of each photographer received critical evaluation by a screening committee and three separate juries across the nation.

Geology Student Advocates Library Changes, Opposes SUB

To the Kaimin:

A three column article in last Friday's Kaimin (Nov. 15) gave a quite detailed account of how and why the university library suffers such a great loss of books and magazines each year. This is a great loss to the students of this university, yet I cannot feel very sympathetic, as I believe the present system employed by the library more than invites such theft.

First of all, I believe that a person could study better at the Heidelberg than he could during an evening at the library. The noise problem may be partially unavoidable, but the great uproar would vastly diminish if the Greeks would confine their social functions to off campus localities.

Second, the limited amount of time which the library is open for use and the inability to take certain materials from the building is a disgrace to the University. I have read many articles in the Kaimin during the past few years which have expounded to great length on the vast facilities housed in this building. Yet of what use are these facilities if they are of limited access? This problem could be readily solved by allowing these untouchable materials to be checked out overnight or to leave the library open 24 hours a day, which is done at several of the larger Midwestern universities.

Admittedly these changes would cost money, but there is now a faction of students on this campus who would think nothing of spending $2 million on a new Student Union Building rather than on an expanded library system, a possible school of medicine on this campus, a new physical sciences building or another women's dormitory in which we could lock up our innocent and unsuspecting coeds.

Freshman Sings of Absent Privileges

To the Kaimin:

A FRESHMAN'S LAMENT

Plebes, fellows, classmates, lend me your ears;
I speak to vent my sorrow, not to praise my school.
The evil frosh do lives after them;
The good is often lost in their passing;
So let it be with us. Dean Cogswell
Has told you it is a typical institution;
It is so and it is a grievous fault
And grievously have we answered it
Here under leave of Dean Cogswell and the rest.
For the Dean is an honorable man;
So are they all, all honorable men—
Come I to speak my lamentations;
The frosh in past years
Have brought many rules on our heads.
Did this in them seem intelligent.
When that they have cried we have wept.
Freshmen should be made of smarter stuff.
Yet the Dean says this is typical
And sure he is an honorable man.
You all did see on Saturday night
Girls were as easily found in the men's room
As they were on the dance floor.
I speak not to disprove what the Dean spoke.
But here am I to speak what I do know.
You all did love once . . .
But not without cars.
What cause now withholds them from us.
Oh judgment! thou art fled to brutish beasts
And freshmen have lost their privileges. Bear with it;
My heart walks on an upperclassman's arm
And I must be a sophomore before it comes to me.

M. M. MILLER

General

Author's Note: What I'm trying to say, Freshmen, is be good. If we abuse our rooms or like that the Dean will take them away from us.

'Delusionism' Saves Christian Island

To the Kaimin:

Last night, while watching "My Favorite Martian," Tim O'Hara's frustrating experience as a mind reader in interviewing the politician conjured up for us the editorial page of a newspaper. Editors can't afford to be loyally Martian or Marxian, and in their attempts to be "Manxian" it's not only their tales that show up rudimentary.

At least, The Missoulian's re-run, on its editorial page, of The Great Falls Tribune's "Latest on Atlantis" stirred us to look up some remarks on Plato in "The Lincoln Library of Essential Information." There, under "Influence," we read, "Plato's writing exercised an inestimable influence on Aristotle, the Stoics, Cicero, Plutarch, the Neoplatonists, the Christian fathers, the earlier scholastics, the philosophy and poetry of the Renaissance in Italy and England, and on the 19th-century revival of historical and philosophical studies in Germany. See Educational Reformers." Which same we saw on pages 1628-1634: "Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Quintilian, Alcuin, Anselm, Peter Abelard, Saint Thomas Aquinas, Erasmus, Martin Luther, Ignatius Loyola, Johannes Sturm, Roger Ascham, Francis Bacon, John Amos Comenius, John Locke, Jean Jacques Rousseau, Johann Basedow, Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi, Charles Maurice Talleyrand-Perigord, Johann Friederich Herbart, Friedrich Froebel, Thomas Arnold, Horace Mann, Henry Barnard, Herbert Spencer, William Torrey Harris, Alfred Binet, Granville Stanley Hall, Charles William Eliot, John Dewey, Charles Hubbard Judd."

From among this elite group

Jesus Christ (happily) was conspicuous by his absence.

The paranoid delusionism of humanitarianism, philosophy and Prof. Georgiy Lindberg has produced so many Atlantes that we thank God we have so far been allowed to stay on the little old island of Christianity.

Top Teams Control All Star Lists

Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon dominated the fraternity league all-star team selected last week and the Candle GI's and Rams placed the most players on the A league dream team.

Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi, who tied for first place in the fraternity league, each placed four men on the 12-man first team and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, intramural playoff winners, added three.

Candle had seven and the Rams six of the 20 men receiving votes in the A league. Candle, Rams and the Misfits tied for first in the league.

Not enough teams submitted entries in the A league to choose a first team.

Five of the nine fraternities and three of the nine A league teams submitted all-opponent squads. No entries were received from the B league.

Twelve men in the fraternity league received two or more votes for a position on the first team. Five players had three votes each.

Receive Three Votes

Those receiving three votes were back Dave Heston, SX; end Don Krumm, SAE; tackle Bruce Langgaunet, SN; quarterback Arne Mysse, SAE, and back Tom Sullivan, Phi Delta Theta.

Two votes were tallied by end Mike Buckley, SN; back Bob Hauck, SX; tackle Dean Hermes, SN; end Brian Johnson, SX; back Marty Mikelson, SAE; flanker-end Jerry Murphy, SN, and center Rick Richter, SX.

Honorable mention in the fraternity league for those receiving one vote went to: Ed Arenson, Phi Sigma Kappa; Mike Baker, SAE; Dan "Horse" Larson, SAE; John Mallory, SAE; Don Martella, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bill Miller, Theta Chi; Gary Minster, SX.

Bob Munson, SN; Jake Nelson, Delta Sigma Phi; Mike Reese, PDT; Fred Schmidt, SX; Keith Seim, SN; Tom Tutt, SPE; Jim Whipple, SN; Walker Williams, SN, and Jeff Wollaston, SN.

Fraternity teams picking all-opponent teams were Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

A League

Only three teams — Misfits, Neanderthals and Rams—selected all-stars in the A league. Only six players received more than one vote, therefore it was not possible to pick a first team.

Candle and Brad Templeton topped voting in the A league with three votes. Five players received two votes: Shag Aldrich, Forestry; Ray Beaupre, Rams; Nathan Edgington, Candle; Ron Plummer, Misfits, and Dee Pohlman, Candle.

One vote was received by: Steve Attardi, Rams; Dan Baretta, Rams;

John Burns, Candle; Jay Cross, Raiders; Dick Fox, Neanderthals; Ron Jones, Rams; Barry Koons, Rams.

Charlie Larson, Rams; Gene

Lissa, Candle; Mike Smith, Neanderthals; Dale Schwanke, Misfits; Don Thompson, Candle; Jim Wemple, Misfits, and Bob Zadick, Candle.

To qualify for the all intramural championship at the end of the school year, a team must have participated in football, basketball, softball, and six minor sports. In addition to sports listed above, bowling and volleyball are being played this quarter.

Skating Rink Repairs Must Be Postponed

The University ice skating rink will not be repaired this quarter, according to Rick Jones, ASMSU president.

"We are sorry that the repairs can't be done this quarter," Jones said yesterday, "but an estimate by the consulting engineer was greater than the $6,000 which Central Board has agreed to spend in the repair of the rink."

Jones said he is not satisfied with the estimate received from the consulting firm and is presently checking into it with the hope that the repair can be done next quarter.

Central Board has agreed to give the University up to $6,000 for the repair of the ice skating rink providing it can be repaired for that cost.

Jones emphasized that the $6,000 will be spent only to put the rink in working condition, not to expand it.

The estimate submitted by the engineers was $7,570 for repairs plus 10 per cent for the cost of the consulting engineers.

Career Day Is Tomorrow

Jobs with the federal government will be the main topic discussed on Thursday, MSU's annual Federal Career Day.

A faculty luncheon at noon in the Lodge will begin the Career Day program. Bruce Johnson, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, will speak at the luncheon. At 1 p.m. about 25 representatives from 15 government agencies will be in the Yellowstone room to meet students interested in federal careers.

Job opportunities will be discussed for graduates in all fields from chemistry to education; from journalism to zoology.

Government representatives will include people from the following agencies: Bureau of Indian Affairs; Veterans Administration; Fish and Wildlife Service; Social Security Administration; Internal Revenue Service; Public Health Service; National Park Service; Bureau of Land Management; Soil Conservation Service; Food & Drug Administration; U.S. Geological Survey; Civil Service Commission; U.S. Forest Service; Federal Extension Service, and others.

Applications for jobs will be accepted during the afternoon of Nov. 21.

Reds May Blast U.S. Installations

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist terrorists have been sent into Saigon to blow up government and U.S. military installations and kill American personnel, Vietnamese security sources said yesterday.

Eager to discredit the new military regime, they have thrown usual caution aside and are recruiting any persons who say they support the Communist Viet Cong cause, the informants added. Consequently, agents of the Vietnamese security forces have

Day of Terrorism Ends in Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's worst day of terrorism in years ended yesterday night with 19 persons dead in Caracas, 70 wounded and more than 100 terrorists arrested.

Army units in armored cars and National Guardsmen were called out as the Castroite-Communist opponents of President Romulo Betancourt intensified their campaign to disrupt the Dec. 1 presidential elections.

Increased terrorism also was reported from cities in the interior. Many of the casualties in Caracas were bystanders caught in the crossfire between government forces and terrorist snipers. The dead included a 35-year-old terrorist whose legs were tattooed with a hammer and sickle.

Firing centered in the workers' districts on the outskirts of the city.

Unions defied a general strike order from the Red-line Armed Forces of National Liberation. But shootings, bombings and telephone threats to merchants had a paralyzing effect in the capital.

been able to infiltrate the Communist recruiting program to pry out secrets and clear the way for crushing the new terrorist campaign.

Barghoorn Tells Details of Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn said last night he was seized by Soviet security men after an unidentified young man thrust a roll of papers into his hands in front of a Moscow hotel.

The Yale University professor, revealing to newsmen the details of his 16-day confinement by Russia, declined to charge that he was deliberately "framed" on spy charges. But his account given at the State Department pointed in that direction.

Barghoorn, 52, was finally freed after the U.S. government made many protests and President Kennedy publicly denied the professor was a spy.

Battin May Run Against Mansfield

HELENA (AP)—Rep. James F. Battin, R-Mont., said yesterday he may be a candidate for the Senate seat now held by Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

Battin made the statement in an interview with The Associated Press Helena bureau from his office in Washington.

"I should decide about January or February," Battin said, but he didn't rule out the possibility of seeking a third term as the state's eastern district congressman.

Battin, who will be 39 next Feb. 13, said he might hold off on his announcement until coming to Montana that month for Lincoln Day talks.

Two hats already are in the ring, Billings lawyer Sidney Kurth, 43, and his sister-in-law, State Rep. Antoinette Rosell, R-Yellowstone, announced Saturday they will seek the GOP Senate nomination.

Change OK'd By AWS Head

"AWS is not opposed to change if there is good reason and it is beneficial for the students," Ann Minter, Associated Women Students president, said.

Last year's poll of women students to determine if the majority were in favor of changing AWS rules revealed that most of the women were satisfied with the present hours and rules.

If present regulations are to be changed, the changes will have to fit the needs of a large majority of women, Miss Minter said.

The new Student Life Committee formed by Planning Board and designed to deal with student problems and student opinions is favored by Miss Minter. Miss Minter suggested that AWS and the new committee work together if they overlap.

capital are occurring at the rate of at least one a day.

One explosion Sunday night in a downtown Saigon open air restaurant wounded three U.S. servicemen.

The Viet Cong are known to be recruiting taxi drivers, hooligans, beggars and others who are given three days training in explosives handling and then sent back into Saigon, security sources said.

Along with the terror campaign in the cities, the guerrillas are striking hard in the countryside.

Guerrillas attacked a big Vietnamese military outpost at Ealuo, five miles from Laotian border, killing 10 defenders and wounding 34 Monday, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

Government planes launched air strikes against the guerilla posi-

Cambodia Severs United States Ties

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—The Cambodia Foreign Ministry summoned U.S. Ambassador Philip D. Sprouse today, presumably to deliver orders from ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk for an immediate end to the $30 million-a-year program of U.S. military and economic aid to his country.

Sihanouk announced his decision to a wildly cheering rally of his political party yesterday, charging U.S. aid was being used to undermine his regime.

Civic Concert Slated Sunday

Free tickets will be available to 200 MSU students for the first of four concerts to be presented by the Missoula Civic Symphony Orchestra on Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in University Theater.

The tickets, procured by AS-MSU, are being held in the Music Building for students in music, and in the Lodge for other students. The first 200 students to request the tickets will receive free admission to the concert.

Season tickets and single admission tickets for the public will be available at the door.

The 74-piece Civic Symphony Orchestra is comprised of musicians from Missoula and the MSU student body and faculty.

Under the direction of Eugene Andrie, MSU professor of music, the Symphony will perform Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6 (Pathe-tique); Enesco's Rhapsody No. 1 in A major, and the Prairie Symphony by Eugene Weigel, MSU music department.

Placement Center

Seniors interested in jobs after graduation should visit the Placement Center, LA 133.

This week the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) will be interviewing students through Friday. Students majoring in economics, history, political science, foreign languages, journalism, business administration or others may apply.

Thursday the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service will interview students majoring in management, economics, Spanish law, political science, sociology and anthropology.

tions and ranger units were airlifted into the area. No guerrilla losses were reported.

U.S. spokesman reported guerrillas used 100 unarmed civilians as shields in an attack on a strategic hamlet at Ben Cat, north of Saigon, over the last weekend. After gaining entrance to the hamlet they gave propaganda lectures then departed.

Alabama Bombing Breaks Windows

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—An explosion early yesterday shattered windows only four blocks from the dormitory of a Negro coed at the University of Alabama. No one was hurt.

It was the third mysterious blast within three days in this university town. Two of the explosions have been near the campus.

Police questioned a white man, A. L. Richey, 40, of Tuscaloosa, who was picked up near the scene of the blast which occurred shortly after midnight.

Richey was released without charge.

He told police he had parked his pickup truck after leaving a tavern, had fallen asleep and was awakened by the explosion.

Police Inspector Henry Butler said there were no definite leads in the bombings.

Monday in an outpost in Long An Province south of Saigon when guerrillas overran the position. Five defenders were wounded and nine are missing. Guerrillas captured 33 weapons.

Iraq Rebels Claim Complete Control

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—President Abdel Salm Aref and his generals claimed complete control last night of Iraq after driving the Ba'athist Socialist Cabinet from office. Direct reports, however, said scattered firing still echoed in Baghdad, the Iraqi capital.

Telephoned reports from Baghdad said the army was mopping up remnants of the once powerful Ba'athist guard, which was making a last stand.

One source in Baghdad said heavy firing could be heard but there was no air activity or armor rumbling through the streets as on Monday, when Aref seized power.

SUGAR BEET CROP YIELD HIGHEST SINCE 1940

HELENA (AP)—Montana's 1963 sugar beet crop is estimated at 1,056,000 tons, the largest crop since 1940 and 10 per cent above the Oct. 1 forecast.

The Agriculture Department said an unusually long growing season promoted sizing of beets this year.
