Applicants View Election Topics

By CHERYL HUTCHINSON
Kaimin Reporter

A more effective committee system, the Student Union Building and the social regulations issue were the main topics discussed by the applicants for ASMSU positions last night.

Seventeen of the 19 announced candidates campaigned in the sorority and fraternity houses. According to ASMSU Pres. Rick Jones, none of the applicants have been approved by Central Board but all are assumed eligible to run for office. Central Board will approve the applicants at a meeting tonight. Because of lack of a quorum at the Central Board special session on Friday, the applicants could not be approved.

The primary election will be Wednesday, and the general election April 29.

Bob Liffing, a junior mathematics major, said that action and hard work are the main elements in his platform for ASMSU president. He said he is a firm believer in the committee system, would like to see more interest in student politics, and would like to expand the present ASMSU program.

"I'd like to see the establishment of a student public relations committee designed to relay student opinion throughout the state," he said.

Liffing is presently editor of the Sentinel. He has not been a previous elected official in student government.

He would like to "delete the old worthless groups" in the committee system and get "responsible men into responsible positions."

He mentioned the social regulations issue and the student union as issues for next year. He labeled the Student Union Building as a "necessary evil" that should be settled soon. He said the university needs the facilities.

Kent Price, a junior history and political science major, wants a strong, effective student government if elected to the presidency. He feels the lack of space in the Lodge is a problem, and would call for a referendum to determine student opinion toward a new student union. He said the present restrictions placed on women students is "an infringement on people's rights." Anyone who is of legal age "should live wherever he wants to live," he said.

He said the parking problem on campus is acute. He would like to see more cooperation between the city and the campus. He said that better communication between the student government and the student body should be established.

Price, who has served on various ASMSU committees and is now chairman of Model United Nations, is not pleased with the general student apathy towards student government and the reluctance to run for office. He explained the power of the administration by saying, "It is stable but the students are more transitory. They are here for only a few years but the heads of the administration have been here for many years."

Bonnie Bowler, a junior Latin major, is running unopposed for the office of vice president. She said she "feels a responsibility to the student government" to stay active in student politics. She is ASMSU Secretary this year. She would strive for a continuation of the investigation of social regulations, and would work for a new student union building. She also feels that the student government should work closer with the administration.

Lela Weggenman, a sophomore pre-education major, is unopposed for the office of secretary. She said she would devote her interests to the mechanics of the office and in active participation on Central Board." She has had experience as a secretary for a Montana Congressman and she is a Spur. She would like to "irradiate the lack of spirit" and cooperate on any student union or social regulations issues.

Ron Pitt, a pre-business administration major, is a candidate for junior delegate.

Jim Webb, a history and political science-law major, was not present for the campaigning but has filed for junior delegate.

Duncan Crump, a history and political science-law major, was not present for the campaigning but has filed for sophomore delegate.

Bruce Dailey, a history and political science-law major, is a candidate for sophomore delegate.

Jim (Whitey) Fairley, a speech major, is campaigning for sophomore delegate.

Leslie Griffin, an English major, is a candidate for the position as sophomore delegate.

Tom Johnson, with a general major, is a candidate for sophomore delegate.

Edwin Russell, a business administration-law major, is a candidate for sophomore delegate.

Nancy Taylor, a liberal arts major, is running for sophomore delegate.

James Tangen, a pharmacy major, is a candidate for sophomore delegate.

Margaret (Margo) Low, a sociology major, is running for senior delegate to CB.

John Ulyatt, a business administration major is also running for senior delegate.

Kaycee Clausen, a journalism major, is a candidate for junior delegate.

John Edwards, a physical science major, is also running for junior delegate.

Model UN Deliberates Proposal To Admit Red China to Assembly

The Model United Nations General Assembly spent almost the entire session discussing the question of admission of Red China at its meeting last weekend in Spokane, Wash.

Although a majority favored Red China's admission, a resolution failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote, according to Gary Cummins, chairman of MSU's delegation, which represented Morocco and voted for the admittance of the Communist nation.

Morocco sponsored a resolution, which passed in both the Security Council and the General Assembly, guaranteeing that when and if Red China was seated in the MUN, Nationalist China also would retain her seat. It was the only resolution passed by the Security Council, and one of approximately five passed by the General Assembly.

Margaret Reese was elected as a clerk of the Administrative and Budgetary Committee. Her duties were to report the resolutions of the committee to the General Assembly.

In response to news of a revolt of Africans against white domination in Southern Rhodesia, Cummins addressed the General Assembly on the danger of possible action by independent African states and retaliation by Union of South African and Southern Rhodesian military forces.

An emergency Security Council meeting was called to discuss the problem, but Cummins said no resolution could be passed because Russia tried to place an amendment calling for admission of Red China on each proposed resolution.

Delegate Marshall Dennis said the Afro-Asian bloc, to which Morocco belongs, dominated committee action throughout the session. The Afro-Asian nations have a near-majority in both the UN and MUN.

The MUN session was picketed by demonstrators carrying signs saying such things as, "Get the U.S. out of the UN" and "The UN has forgotten God."

Dennis said some delegates carried the flag of Katanga and pictures of destruction during the UN's action in the Congo. An accompanying sign said, "Your tax dollars did this."

Variety to Mark Duo Reed Recital

A senior recital featuring music from Baroque to contemporary Brazilian and American will be performed in the Music Recital Hall at 8:15 tonight.

Norman Brunken, Missoula, saxophone, will join Larry Christopherson, Leduc, Alta., Canada, who will play the bassoon.

Brunken will be assisted by pianist Fay Gonzoir and Christopherson by Patricia Krout.

Harold Herbig, music instructor, said that the performance of "Course No. 7" by the Brazilian composer Villa Lobos will mark one of the few times the work has been played in this country.

Speech Head to Discuss Scientific Responsibility

A discussion of the responsibility of scientists is tentatively planned for tonight's Tuesday Topic session.

Featured speaker for the meeting, the first of the quarter, will be F. L. Brissey, chairman of the speech department.

Mr. Brissey plans to review a magazine article, "Science and Responsibility," by Eric Hutchinson. He said he hopes to develop Mr. Hutchinson's theme and stimulate discussion from the audience.

Mr. Hutchinson, in the March, 1964, issue of American Scientist, maintains that when science moves out into the public political or social domain, it is time for scientists to devote more attention to their responsibilities in relation to the large public support and privileges they enjoy.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the College Inn.

WUS Week Begins With Carnival, Dance

WUS Week will be launched tonight with a carnival and street dance on Gerald Avenue as the $1,000 goal drive begins.

The carnival sparks a series of events which include university co-eds waiting tables at men's living groups on Wednesday night, a student-faculty talent show, and a women's touch football tournament, Saturday at 10 a.m. on the Clover Bowl.

The carnival and street dance begin tonight at 8. They will end at 11:30. Fraternities, sororities, and other campus living groups will have booths for fund raising projects at the carnival.

Funds raised at the carnival and throughout the week will be sent to Geneva and ultimately to student-aid projects for needy persons.

Students and faculty will combine efforts for the WUS campaign in a talent show Thursday night from 6:30 to 8 in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge, according to Georgia Mack, WUS Talent Show chairman.

The talent show will feature Miss MSU, Bonny Beals and other campus entertainers, which include James Leedy, assistant professor of art, Doug James, Dennis Craig and Patsy Maxon. The modern dance group, Orchestis, will perform.

Dan Witt, instructor in speech, will emcee the program. Admission is 25 cents. Contributions to this international service can be made at any time during the WUS activities, according to Pat McGillis, WUS committee chairman.

Poster Rules For CB Race

These regulations concerning posters must be followed by candidates for Central Board positions.

(1) Except in the grill and dining room areas, no poster may be larger than 22 x 14 inches.

(2) Posters may not be placed on glass surfaces.

(3) All posters must be approved at the Lodge desk.

(4) Banners are permitted in the grill and dining service area, but must be approved by Miss Gertrude Chamberlain, director of the Food Service.

Several posters exceeding the regulation size have been removed from the Lodge and can be picked up at the desk according to Jerry Van Sickle, student union program director.

Masquer Play Is West Story By MSU Grad

A play by a Montanan, about Montana and for Montana will open in the Masquer Theatre tomorrow night.

"Shadow of a Great Rock," a play which presents the dying of the mythical American West, was written by a Missoula man and MSU graduate, Dean Regenous.

Directed by Dan Witt, instructor of speech, the play stars Jim Baker, Conrad, as Father; Joan Campbell, Missoula, as Mother; Wayne Buchanan, Missoula, as Abram; Delbert Unruh, Bloomfield, as Andrew, and Georgia Tree, Missoula, as Ellen.

The play will run through Sunday night. All seats are reserved. Tickets may be obtained at the Masquer Theatre box office, $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for students.

'Highly Successful' Jazz Concert Viewed

By BARBARA LAPE
Kaimin Reporter

The Jazz Festival's opening number, "Play It Cool," and the Dan Witt-icisms of the master of ceremonies set the stage for a highly successful concert Saturday night.

Sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity, the Jazz Festival featured three groups, The Columbians, the Arnie Carruthers Trio and the Blue-hawks.

The peppy Columbians under the direction of MSU graduate Don Lawrence showed no signs of exhaustion in opening the show. They had been in competition all day in the District Two Music Festival. This high school group of sixteen men and two women from Columbia Falls exhibited a near-professional bounce that justified their being on the same program with a college and a big-name group.

The high school group from Columbia Falls displayed showmanship rare in so young a group with melodies ranging from a toe-tapping arrangement of "Love Is Just Around the Corner" to a smooth, creamy trombone feature of "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Witt-y Entertainment

Dan Witt, speech instructor, entertained between groups with a refreshingly unmelodious rendering of a folk song, "Waco Gal," accompanied by guitarist Jim Rector. He was accompanied by drummer Jim Thompson in a half-chanted, half-sung tale of how the world was "begat."

The featured group of the evening, the Arnie Carruthers Trio from Spokane, led off with a spirited "Dearly Beloved."

Swinging into Duke Ellington's "Satin Doll," the group not only did complete justice to the faintly exotic piece, but also added the special touch of complete empathy that the audience came to recognize as the Carruthers trademark.

"A Long Introduction" brought chuckles from jazz fans not only because of the title but also because of the sophisticated clowning displayed. Sometimes it seemed that the drummer, Jack Edie, wasn't paying attention, but no cue, no matter how subtle, was missed.

Bassist Noel Waters showed the talent that makes him a vital part of the group in his rendition of "God Child." Leaning over the body of the instrument, he seemed to coax out the fantastic sounds.

Versatile Trio

"Deep in the Dream" provided a change of pace and displayed a smooth versatility.

The trio ended with a jazzed-up version of "Up With Montana, Boys" that would put any pep band to shame.

The Bluehawks, under the direction of MSU senior Tom Kenney, opened the last section of the program with "Theme from Picnic" and "Groovin' High," a longtime jazz favorite by Dizzy Gillespie.

In "Bluer than Blue," trombonist Ernie Carlson's mellow solo was perhaps the high point of the Blue-hawks' appearance. Carlson, a high school junior, is already better than most college players, and shows qualities that mark a true professional.

Kenney did most of the directing while playing the lead sax. He ranged from a sedate, good-humored sound to a sometimes brilliant melody run.

RRR and the LA for EMCE

It was not without some concern that we read that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Roland R. Renne told a Billings audience Saturday that he favors strengthening Eastern Montana College of Education, including a general liberal arts degree.

We had hoped that Mr. Renne's 20 years as president of Montana State College would have convinced him of the present inadvisability of the LA degree for Eastern.

With one candidate declaring his support of the liberal arts degree for Eastern and the other two from Billings, education in Montana in general and MSU in particular has been placed in a vulnerable position.

While Gov. Babcock has often stated he would not favor the LA for Eastern if the level of education in the state would suffer, we fear that pressures from his hometown may cause him to back down from this stand. He has already stated that he has hopes the LA degree will be feasible by 1965.

Democrat Mike Kuchera, a Billings furniture dealer, while not considered a serious threat for the governor's office, likely favors the LA for Eastern too.

Renne qualified his statement, made to a Billings Renne for Governor Club, by saying he would not favor expanding the EMCE program without the funds to pay for it or at the expense of quality education.

But where will such funds come from? What else could result but a loss in quality education?

Where will Eastern obtain the money to staff a faculty necessary for the LA? Where will it get the money to expand the presently inadequate library to a sufficient level? How will it build the new classrooms necessitated by the expansion that would result?

The obvious answer is that the money will come from the pockets of the Montana taxpayer. With the state now supporting six units, it is not doubtful that sufficient funds could be squeezed from the taxpayer.

When the study on the feasibility of an LA degree for Eastern was conducted last fall, only 13.5 per cent of its faculty had doctor's degrees. The additions necessary to bring this to an adequate level—at least 40 per cent according to Harry K. Newburn, former MSU president—would not be made without considerable expense and would not occur overnight.

The expansion of the library, presently termed by the Eastern administration as totally inadequate even without the addition of an LA degree, will also be costly.

We agree that Eastern eventually should get their liberal arts degree; it will certainly be in keeping with the trend of a liberal arts education for teachers. But we can't visualize this happening during the 1960's without a setback for education in Montana.

The already-poor situation of six state-supported schools can only be compounded by adding degrees at Eastern that are offered at other state schools. If Eastern were granted the LA there would be no reason to deny MSC a similar program. Then Northern and Western would clamor for equal treatment.

Our greatest fear is that if the Board of Regents opens the door even a crack for the limited LA degrees—in math, English, and history—at EMCE, the cries for a full multi-purpose unit will not be far behind.

The state can not afford to allow this to happen. —djf

Grad Student Says 'Freedom for Price' Makes Joke of Social Regulations Issue

To the Kaimin:

Pages and pages of the Kaimin have been devoted to the subject of social regulations at MSU this year. Some sane and may inane justifications for the present social regulations have been recorded, and almost every discussion of the problem has centered on the protection of the morals of the University women.

However, whether one agrees or disagrees with the proposition that it is the function of the University administration to legislate the social conduct of the women students, can there be any controversy concerning the "morality" of the sale of "late time" to the women?

In Friday's Kaimin, the value of the coming WUS activities was explained at length in an interesting and informative article. However, the succeeding article, "AWS Sells Time as WUS Begins" or "Freedom for a price," makes a joke of the entire issue of social regulations at MSU. Why do we bother discussing the moral obligation of the students or administration, when in fact the hours women must keep can be bought and sold? Although the sale of hours occurs perhaps only once or twice a year, once is sufficient to knock apart all of the arguments which attempt to support the administration's position as moral guardian of the women students.

And I ask Miss Donalee Beary to explain her views on this matter, since her campaign for AWS President was strongly flavored with promises of a good fight for the social rights of the women students at MSU.

Constitutional Amendment

The following proposed amendment will be on the ballot in the general election, April 29. In order for the amendment to be effective, 30 per cent of the active members of ASMSU must vote, and two-thirds of those voting must vote for the amendment.

Constitution:

Delete present Sections 7, 8 and 9 of Art. IV:

Sec. 7: The president, vice president and business manager must have attended Montana State University for five quarters, must have the equivalent of seven quarters' college residence and must satisfy the senior position credit requirement set forth in Div. I, Art. V of the by-laws at the time of election. The secretary must have attended Montana State University for three quarters, must have the equivalent of five quarters' college residence, and must satisfy the junior candidate credit requirement set forth in the same article at the time of election. No candidate for one of these positions shall include the quarter for which he is currently registered to satisfy the above requirements.

Sec. 8: Candidates for the above offices must have a 2.5 grade average at the time of election.

Sec. 9: Should the University term or method of computing grade point averages be changed, all qualifications shall revert to their nearest equivalent.

Add Section 7:

Candidates for the position of president, vice president, business manager and secretary must meet the requirements for office as set forth in Div. I, Art. V, Sec. 2 (a), 2 (b) and 2 (c) of the general by-laws.

General Bylaws

Change Sections 2 and 3 of Art. V to Sec. 3 and 4 respectively. Add new Sec. 2:

Sec. 2: Requirements for candidates for president, vice president, business manager and secretary shall be as follows:

a. Previous Sec. 7 of Art. IV of the ASMSU constitution.

b. Previous Sec. 8 of Art. IV of the ASMSU constitution.

c. Previous Sec. 9 of Art. IV of the ASMSU constitution.

Grizzlies Shooting for 5th Straight Win

WMC Here for Twin Bill Today

The Silvertip baseball team, fresh from twin wins over the MSC Bobcats, plays the Western Montana Bulldogs in a non-conference doubleheader today at Campbell Park. Game time is 1 p.m.

The Grizzlies beat the Western club twice in Dillon last week, 13-5 and 6-0. Neil Malkasian and Gary Eudaily probably will start for MSU.

Coach Milt Schwenk's crew dropped the Bobcats 4-3 and 2-1

Saturday. Pitcher Larry Oddy had a comfortable lead going into the final inning of the first game when a torn fingernail forced him to the sidelines. The Bobcats scored twice in the final frame before relievers Tony Smith and Jon King came in to stop the uprising.

Oddy's injury is not regarded as serious. He struck out nine on the way to winning his second game.

Shortstop Tom Croci had two hits to lead the Grizzly attack while Mike Cyrus and Frank Spear connected for singles. The Bobcats outhit the Grizzlies five to four in each game.

In the second game, Bill Irwin hammered a shot into right field with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning to bring home Bob Myse with the winning tally.

Senior Gary Eudaily went all the way for his third victory this season. His mound opponent, Gary Keeter, fanned 11.

Two Grizzly double plays got Eudaily out of trouble in the early innings. Coach Schwenk was pleased with the defensive play of second baseman Jim Forman and said that it was "the best team effort to date."

"These were timely wins, and they proved that our team is coming along. It takes a while to weld a team together, especially when you have so many youngsters," said Schwenk. MSU has won four in a row and six of its last eight games.

Schwenk said that the team is still hurting because of the lack of team hitting. The Grizzlies have only one man batting more than .300.

The leading hitters after 15 games are Mike Cyrus .466, Frank Spear .297, Bob Vick .271 and Tom Croci .256.

Eudaily leads the hurlers with a 3-2 record. He is followed by Oddy 2-3, King 1-0, Neil Malkasian 0-3 and Stan Stohr 0-1.

Grizzlies Set Marks But Lose to Bengals

Three Grizzlies set four new school track records Saturday but the Idaho State Bengals defeated MSU 79-66 in a Big Sky meet on Dornblaser Field.

Junior Bill Rice cleared the bar at 6-7 to win the high jump and break his old mark of 6-6.

Distance ace Doug Brown set an MSU record for the three-mile run with a time of 14:06.5. Last season Brown hustled home in the race with a time of 14:06.7. The Red Lodge sophomore also won the mile in 4:12.8 to break his former record of 4:15.

The third Silvertip to set a new mark was Jerry Short. He ran the 330-yard intermediate hurdles in 38.9 and broke his old record of 39.4.

Other Grizzlies winning events were Lynn Putnam, Keith Seim, LaFay Hope and Marvin Mickens. Putnam pole vaulted 12-7, Mickens hurled the javelin 177-1, Seim threw the discus 147-2½ and Hope won the 880 in 1:55.7.

The individual top scorer of the day was ISU's John Briggs. He took first in the 100, the 220, the broad jump and the triple jump. He was also on the winning Bengal 440 and mile relay teams.

Eleven dual meet records were broken.

Tip Golfers Blank MSC

The University golfers won, the rodeo team placed fourth and the tennis team was defeated during spring quarter's most sport-filled weekend to date.

The golf team defeated Montana State College 12-0, tied Idaho State 7½-7½ and ISU defeated MSC 10½-1½ in the triangular meet Saturday.

The results for the MSU golfers were Gary Koprivica, 1-1; Don Waller, 1-0-1; Gary Peck, 1-1; John Warren, 2-0, and Bill Ruegamer, 1-0.

In rodeo action, Russ Gasser placed third in the bareback riding event and Bill Lake placed second in the ribbon roping for MSU. Brigham Young won first place in the men's division and MSC first in the women's division.

The tennis team was defeated 6-3 by ISU in the Grizzlies second match of the season. Mike Emerson and Joe Daley won in the singles matches for MSU while Dick Brown, Rich Curry, John Alexander and Brett Asselstine lost.

In the doubles, Emerson and Nick Arthur were victorious as MSU won one out of three matches.

U.S., U.S.S.R. Plan Arms Cut

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK

● The United States and the Soviet Union announced Monday a cutback in the production of nuclear explosive materials, in an effort to ease the atomic arms race. Great Britain is expected to endorse the move.

President Johnson first revealed the plan to American newspaper publishers at The Associated Press luncheon in New York and told them, "We reduce tensions while maintaining all necessary power."

From Moscow, came a similar announcement in which Premier Khrushchev hailed the cutback as "an opportunity for improving mutual understanding with other states on the necessity of avoiding a nuclear war."

● A judge yesterday issued a temporary restraining order, effective immediately, barring interference with all modes of transportation to the World's Fair, which opens tomorrow.

Justice Joseph M. Conroy of the Queens State Supreme Court signed the order, aimed at forestalling the planned stall-in by civil rights groups.

WASHINGTON

● The United States served notice on Monday that its planes will continue to fly over Cuba. It warned Fidel Castro that use of any newly acquired Soviet missiles against these aircraft would create a highly dangerous situation.

The warning was issued by the State Department as high officials expressed concern about what may happen if and when the Cuban prime minister gets control of advanced anti-aircraft rockets previously Russian-manned.

● President Johnson was described by a high source Monday as optimistic for settlement of the railroad crisis following reported tentative agreement on about a dozen issues.

The report came after an earlier White House announcement that "some definite gains" had been made in efforts to avert a nationwide strike next Saturday.

The talks are in the 12th day since Johnson won a 15-day strike postponement April 9.

● Mike Mansfield and Roland Renne, considered by many to be the big names in the Democratic primary election picture, filed petitions of candidacy Monday—Mansfield by mail and Renne by messenger.

Mansfield, 60, whose filing plans were announced in personal notes to selected editors and broadcasters, will be seeking a third term in the U.S. Senate.

The Senate majority leader, he is unopposed so far in the June 2 primary.

● Gov. Tim Babcock appointed Arnold W. Bolle of Missoula to the Board of Forestry for the unexpired term of Ross Williams of Missoula, who resigned. The term ends July 1, 1965.

Surgeon Law Student Honored By Barristers at Dinner-Dance

Outstanding law students, including a surgeon in search of a law degree, were honored Saturday at the Barristers Ball.

The surgeon, Dr. C. P. Brooke of Missoula, received the Charles N. Pray award for scholastic achievement. Dr. Brooke is a candidate for a law degree in June.

Gorham Swanberg, Great Falls, was awarded the Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity award. It's given to a student selected as the outstanding member of the fraternity at MSU. Swanberg is a former editor-in-chief of the Montana Law Review.

Kemp Wilson, Helena, was the recipient of the Wall Street Journal award for excellence in the field of business organization. He also received the Lawyer's Title Insurance Corporation award for excellence in the law of property.

John Tonnsen, St. Louis, Mo., was this year's winner of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation scholarship. It's given to a student participating in a research project relating to mineral law.

The new staff of the Montana Law Review for 1964-65 was announced at the dinner dance. Sam Haddon, Missoula, was appointed editor-in-chief. Robert Baxter, Thompson Falls, Joe Reber and David Niklas, Helena, and Tony Koessler and Fred Rathert, Missoula, are the new associate editors.

William Coldiron of Butte, president of the Montana Bar Association, spoke at the traditional dinner dance. The affair climaxed a schedule of events honoring state jurists.

A Freudian Analysis of the Remington Lektronic II

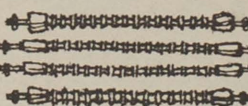

It's a mature shaver. There's no unnatural dependence upon a cord. Built-in, rechargeable energy cells let you shave cordlessly. In case you forget to recharge, there is a cord. Plug it in. Shave on the spot. That makes you feel secure.

And you'll feel secure about your appearance, too. 348 cutting edges of durable high-carbon steel slice whiskers off cleanly. They're honed on an angle so that skin doesn't get ploughed up and irritated.

The LEKTRONIC II will give you a superiority complex. It has a big head. Shaving head, that is. 756 whisker-gathering slots feed whiskers to the cutters faster. Make short work of shaving.

Now here's the part masochists hate: the Roller Combs. They make shaving pure comfort. Roll skin down. Pop whiskers up into cutters, so they're stroked off gently.

What's the greatest Freudian benefit of the REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II?

IT MAKES YOU LOOK SEXY!

The LEKTRONIC II may cost a little more than most electric shavers. That's because it's worth more. LEKTRONIC: Trademark, Sperry Rand Corporation, REMINGTON ELECTRIC SHAVERS, BRIDGEPORT, CONN
