CASTLE WILL SPEAK WEDNESDAY AT UM ON INTERBASIN WATER TRANSFER

MISSOULA, Mont.---

Dr. Emery N. Castle will present Wednesday at 1 p.m. in Chem-Pharm 109 the fifth lecture in the University of Montana School of Forestry's ten-lecture series on water problems of the Pacific Northwest.

Dr. Castle's lecture is entitled "Economic and Legislative Aspects of Massive Interbasin Water Transfer," including a discussion of the complex problem of interstate water supplies.

Dr. Castle is chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Director of the Water Resources Research Institute at Oregon State University, Corvallis. He serves as a consultant in agricultural economics to the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Interior and Defense. He previously served as Dean of the Faculty at OSU.

Dr. Richard L. Konizeski, UM forestry professor of hydrology and coordinator of the water lecture series, said the interested public is welcome to attend the water lectures.
