UNIVERSITY CENTER OPEN HOUSE IN FULL SWING AT UM

MISSOULA---

Guided tours, a public buffet and a live art show highlight open house activities Saturday at the new University Center at the University of Montana.

Gov. Forrest Anderson speaks at an invitational luncheon at noon Saturday during the second day of the Center's grand opening in conjunction with the 76th anniversary of the University. Joining Anderson at the speaker's rostrum will be UM President Robert T. Pantzer and Edward J. Leary, president of the Associated Students at UM.

The public may participate in guided tours of the $4.3-million student-financed structure between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Tours are by members of Bear Paws and Spurs, campus honorary service groups for sophomore men and women students, respectively. Following the tours, free refreshments will be served in the ballroom of the spacious three-tiered building.

The 1,500 dining-capacity ballroom, the Five Valleys Room, also will be the site for a public buffet from 5:30-7 p.m. Saturday. Background music for the buffet will be provided by the Student String Quartet.

Beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday the public may enjoy a student live art show in the spacious area of the landscaped mall on the first floor. The show features singers, dancers and other entertainment.

"Survey 69", a 10-state invitational art show will be on exhibit throughout the day in the art gallery of the comfortable new lounge on the second floor.

The doors of the new Center again will be open on Sunday, although no formal tours will be offered.

Grand opening celebrations conclude Monday night with a concert by jazz artist Ramsey Lewis and his trio. Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Center and downtown at the Cartwheel. Prices are $2 general admission and $2.50 at the door.
