Underground Press Adds to Flower Power

NEW YORK (AP)—The turned-on generation is finding a new voice in the burgeoning underground press.

Underground newspapers — a romanticized self-description that contradicts their easy availability — are popping up across the country like posies adding to flower power. There are about 80 such newspapers.

Within their pages, America's rebellious youth has found itself free to bell that cat called Establishment and to print the unprintable.

EVO IS OLDEST

One of the oldest and liveliest of the underground papers is the "East Village Other" published in New York's Greenwich Village. Evo, as it's familiarly known, seems hung up on sex, drugs, the Vietnam war, psychedelic phenomena and mysticism. Tips on how to avoid the draft are dished out like advice to the lovelorn.

Rep. Joe Pool (D-Tex.) has called the newspapers "a nationwide conspiracy to try to contaminate and ruin the youth of America." He prompted the House Un-American Activities Committee to begin a preliminary investigation of the newspapers.

UNDERGROUND SYNDICATE

The newspapers exchange news through the Underground Press Syndicate. Bob Rudnick, coordinator of the syndicate, said its 80 members have a combined monthly circulation of one million. He figures readership is five times that much.

Opinion mixes with fact in the underground press and often overwhelms it.

Allan Katzman, editor of Evo, contends that all newspapers make up stories from time to time and that the underground press is no exception.

"We don't necessarily tell the truth. We just tell the other side of the story," he said.

It is an understatement to say that the hippie papers are irrelevant.

A favorite target for wit and wrath is President Johnson. In one issue Evo showed him in a Nazi uniform doing a Sieg Heil salute. The swastika armband had been replaced with a dollar sign.

Evo is published in a down-at-the-heels office above a defunct theater in the eastern section of Greenwich Village. Psychedelic posters and graffiti cover the walls.

Huddled over typewriters in an inner office, with only a small electric heater against the sub-freezing cold, were Katzman and Peter Leggieri, the editor-in-chief. The heat in the building had been turned off because of a legal dispute involving the theater.

ACCOUNTANT TURNED POET

Katzman, 30, is a former accountant and department store buyer who turned to poetry. He has lost most of his hair, but he wears a beard. Leggieri, 25, a law school dropout, also bearded, wore a green wool cap. Each takes home about $50 a week salary.

Katzman and Walter Bowart, an artist, who is publisher, founded the paper in 1965 with $1,500.

"This is the only paper in New York where you can walk in off the street and rap with the editor," said Leggieri.

"It's personal journalism," Katzman added.

The classified advertising is startling.

Some advertisements are overtly homosexual, some aggressively heterosexual, but few leave to the imagination what is being offered or sought.

This classified ad turned up in a recent Washington Free Press: "LOST: Four H-bombs in the vicinity of Greenland. If found call 456-1414."

The number is that of the White House.

Proposed Narcotic Laws Aimed at Curbing Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—An assurance by Commissioner of Narcotics Henry L. Giordano that proposed penalties for possession of LSD would be aimed at pushers, rather than experimenting students, cleared the way yesterday for early action on the proposal to curb dangerous drugs.

"As far as I am concerned," Giordano told a House Commerce subcommittee, "these penalties are not aimed at putting young people in jail. They are aimed at the trafficker."

Giordano noted that the federal penalty for possession of marijuana is now two to 10 years in prison and said, "I have yet to know of any high school or college student that was involved with one marijuana cigarette that was prosecuted under federal law."

Rep. Tim Lee Carter (R-Ky), who has termed the proposal to make possession of LSD a misdemeanor punishable by up to one year in prison "absolutely unenforceable," said he supported the measure and agreed with Giordano on the need to concentrate on pushers and traffickers.

Carter had been the only subcommittee member who questioned the proposed penalty for possession, and all members favor the rest of the bill to strengthen existing penalties on the sale, manufacture, distribution and possession of hallucinogens, depressants and stimulants.

Giordano testified that the absence of a federal law against possession of LSD is one reason for increased use of marijuana.

"Since it is widely known that LSD is more potent, and more dangerous than the type of marijuana which is usually available," he said, "the more stringent laws which control marijuana have been made to appear hypocritical.

Bolen Renamed To Arts Council

Charles W. Bolen, dean of the fine arts school, yesterday was reappointed to a five year term as chairman of the Montana Arts Council by Gov. Tim Babcock.

Herbert Jacobson of Helena was appointed to replace Archie L. Joslyn of Missoula. Four other members were reappointed to serve five-year terms.

Negro Elected To Congress In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Negro leader Charles Evers won a runoff spot against a white conservative yesterday in a special election for southwest Mississippi's congressional seat.

Running against six white opponents for the 3rd Congressional District post vacated when John Bell Williams became governor last month, Evers posed the first real Negro challenge of the century for a seat from this Deep South state.

Evers had 31 per cent of the vote with an estimated 80 per cent of the votes counted, with two white Democrats battling for the other spot.

Charles Griffin of Utica, who was on Williams' congressional staff, led State Sen. Ellis Bodron, Vicksburg, for the other spot in the runoff.

Jurors Needed For Mock Trials

Students desiring to serve as jurors for the Law School mock trials during March and April should call the school at 243-4642, according to Jack Holstrom, senior law student.

Holstrom said trials are scheduled for March 4, 11, 12, 26, and April 1, 2, 8, 9 and 22. He said each trial requires 12 jurors and any student is acceptable for the position.

Holstrom said the experience would teach students about the workings of the courtroom through actual participation in trials. Both civil and criminal trials are scheduled during the sessions.

UM Law Students Submit Plan For Student Legal Publication

A legal pamphlet for students was proposed to Budget and Finance last night by Frank Kamf and Ken Tolliver, UM law students.

The purpose of the pamphlet would be to advise students of their legal rights and duties and it would deal with problems occurring in student life. The pamphlet would be compiled by a staff composed of law students advised by a local attorney and a law faculty member.

A committee of Budget and Finance members was formed to consider the proposal.

In other business Budget and Finance tentatively approved the 1968-69 budget for all ASUM committees at $102,246, which is the same as the 1967-68 budget. The committees and their tentative allocations are: accounting, $7,000; Alumni Commission, $1; ASUM travel coordination, $600; auxiliary sports, $9,000; Band, $4,965; debate and oratory, $4,700; facilities and usage, $4,400; fine arts travel coordination, $4,000; Garret, $1,400; general fund, $5,369; Leadership Camp, $700; M Book, $1,230; Model United Nations, $1,500; Montana Kaimin, $22,000; Montana Masquers, $6,800; Montana Model U.N., $650; Program Council, $24,000; Sentinel, $4,500; The Book, $1,150, and Traditions Board, $1,035.

The committee will recommend to Central Board that the 1967-68 reserve fund be transferred to the 1968-69 Program Council budget. The reserve fund is about $10,000.

A stipulation was made that all ASUM organizations submit a new budget to Budget and Finance explaining how they will spend their 1968-69 funds. This stipulation will enable Budget and Finance to be certain that funds are spent for the purpose they are allocated.

The committee also recommended that issues of the Garret, campus literary magazine, be sold at 25 cents a copy to help pay production costs.

Budget and Finance will hold an open meeting at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow and any organization may attend to question its budget allocation.

Former SDS National Officer To Talk on Actions of Pentagon

A former national secretary of Students for a Democratic Society will speak on the current actions of the Pentagon and the "Black Panthers" tonight at 8 p.m. in Journalism 304. The speaker, Gregory Calvert, former history teacher at Iowa State University, is on tour for SDS.

"We are working to build a guerrilla force in an urban environment," Calvert was quoted in a New York Times interview. "We are actively organizing sedition."

In the same article he was quoted as saying the SDS has few Negro members but that black power is absolutely necessary. "When we have organized the white radicals, we can link up with the Negro radicals," he said.

On Ernesto Che Guevara, a hero of the New Left mood, Calvert was quoted: "Che's message is applicable to urban America as far as the psychology of guerrilla action goes... Che sure lives in our hearts."

He is quoted as describing himself as a "post-communist revolutionary," but has since denied the article.

Students for a Democratic Society has more than 200 chapters and more than 6,000 dues paying members. Calvert estimated there are more than 25,000 others who actively participate in the chapters.

Plan Underway For Parking Lot

Preliminary plans for improvement of the parking lot east of the law school are underway, according to J. A. Parker, physical plant director.

Mr. Parker is selecting a group of engineers to draw up specifications for improvement of the lot. The bid is expected to be awarded early in June. Construction will be completed this summer.

This will be the second phase of a $200,000 parking lot improvement project. Construction on the first phase, a $24,000 paving project for the lot south of Elrod Hall will begin this spring.

Council of Graduate Schools Urges Lottery Use in Military

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON—The Council of Graduate Schools in the United States appealed to Congress yesterday to abolish all college draft deferments and turn to a random lottery of 19-year-olds to serve in the armed forces.

The council, which represents major universities across the country, also strongly opposed designation of certain subjects to which students would be eligible for deferment.

The council's position paper said the rule barring future draft deferments for graduate students imposes serious planning burdens on universities which rely heavily on graduate teaching assistants to teach some freshman courses.

Cubans Halted in Escape Attempt

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va.—Three Cubans seeking political asylum seized a 292-foot ship yesterday but were thwarted in an attempt to bring it into Norfolk because they couldn't get the anchor up, U.S. Coast Guard crewmen related.

With a Coast Guard cutter standing by helplessly, they put off in a lifeboat, but the lifeboat soon was rammed twice by the Cuban vessel, dragging its anchor.

Viet Cong Hit Airbase Near Saigon

SAIGON—Viet Cong gun squads shelled the big Bien Hoa airbase and other military targets around Saigon before dawn Wednesday.

The attacks and reports of large enemy troop units in the area led support to fears of another Red drive on South Vietnam's capital.

Attorneys Receive Cheadle Report

BUTTE—A long-sought report on the prison cell death of convict Larry Cheadle was presented yesterday to attorneys for both sides of a $305,000 wrongful death suit, but it still was not available to the public.

The report covered the investigation by Martin T. Mangan, state criminal investigator, and was part of a deposition given yesterday by Mangan.

The last issue of the Kaimin for this quarter will be published Tuesday, March 5. News notices for this issue must be submitted to the Kaimin by noon Monday, March 4.

As The Kaimin Sees It

A Parable of a Kind

"Our revered dean of women informs me that you wing assistants have some scandalous offenses to report," Polly Puton, chairman of a Women's Conduct Board at a small Midwestern university, said as she called the meeting to order. "You may begin, Miss Facade."

Fanny Facade, second adjutant assistant east wing conduct chairman, rose and began to speak, referring constantly to the large clipboard she had brought with her.

"Miss Baker, No. 55673-J was seen yesterday walking in front of the administration building wearing cutoffs and smoking a cigarette," Miss Facade said, pushing her octagonal glasses back up the bridge of her nose and checking nervously to make sure the collar button on her high-necked blouse was fastened," and Miss Hargrove, 17439-B, was spotted sitting in the hall lounge with her legs crossed and several men were looking at her!"

"My goodness!" Miss Facade gasped.

"What will the punishment be on that one?" asked the board secretary timorously.

"Ah . . . er . . . two campuses for the cigarette, three for the cutoffs and 15 for crossed legs," the dean of women said as she woke from an uneasy sleep and tightened her red plaid shawl around her neck.

"And now, Miss Stopenflop?" Miss Facade said.

Sharon Stopenflop, third adjutant assistant west wing chairman in charge of secret observation and room searches, rose and began to read from her clipboard.

"I am afraid I have even greater transgressions to report," she said.

"Miss Mirehouse, 19345322418551-Q, was seen personally by me walking toward the dormitory with her escort, and his arm was wrapped in hers. Why, his hand must have been within 18 inches of her, her . . . bosom!" Miss Stopenflop said, blushing.

The others in the room raised their eyebrows, gasped then shifted forward in their chairs.

"And then they stopped in front of the door and stood there for at least 20 minutes kissing!" Miss Stopenflop said, growing more indignant. "Estimated time on the longest was three minutes, 15 and one-half seconds. This was the third occurrence of such behavior, and, as all of you on the board know, Miss Mirehouse is not affiliated with one of our fine sororities. Her escort also was found not to be affiliated with a Greek organization."

"Great work, Miss Stopenflop!" said Miss Puton, clasping her clipboard in her folded arms.

The dean of women smiled and nodded but shot an angry glance at Miss Stopenflop when she sat down and crossed her slender, pigeon-toed legs.

"What will the sentence be on this case?" asked the board secretary meekly.

"One campus for every inch under six feet that the young man's hand was found to be from the . . . er . . . ah . . . aforementioned area above Miss Mirehouse's navel," said the dean of women, fumbling with her shawl, "one campus for every minute the pair was observed kissing and suspension of food service privileges for two days for independent thought."

"This meeting is now adjourned," Miss Puton said, bringing her gavel down gently on the top of the desk. "Oh! I almost forgot, ladies. Be sure to pick up your new wire tap equipment and telescopes at the door as you leave, and remember the Conduct Board motto: 'On to 1984!'" Ben Hansen

Miss Tschache Sees Beautiful Chance To Get Rid of AWS

To the Kaimin:

Well girls, let's not screw up another beautiful opportunity to rid ourselves of one of the most useless organizations this campus has to offer. The fate of AWS was put to us in a poll: Did we want to preserve "our" organization ("Girls, this is your organization!") as a separate body through the addition of a yearly $1.50 to our fees or did we wish to relegate its few functions to Central Board? Unfortunately the majority appears to have favored the former course.

An obsolete, malfunctioning leftover from the days of suffragettes, AWS seems to have no worthy purposes which could not be dealt with effectively and justly by Central Board. ("After all, girls, this is your organization too.") Easing of women's dormitory restrictions, the hours problem, and all the rest of it could be handled as well and probably better through bisexual channels of student government. As for Big-Little Sister parties, Snow Weekend, and Lantern Parade, I have met few women who do not find it annoying to have to even think about them, much less participate in them.

Well, ladies, I realize how hard it is to give up the last strings of that security-lending Susan B. Anthony complex, but you must realize that until women consider themselves equal enough to participate in and submit to government by the same body that govern the free male, we cannot hope to obtain equal treatment and the

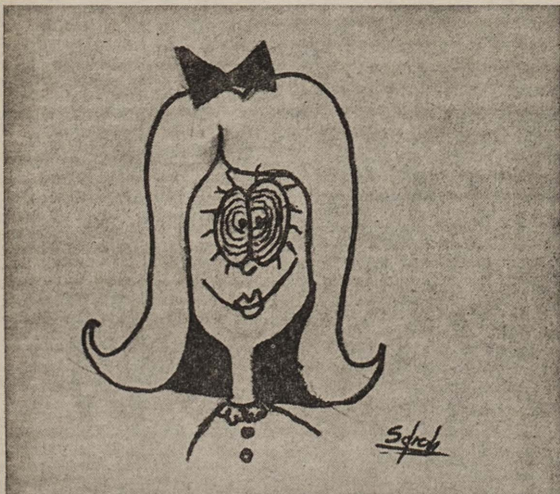

"freedom" which we insist upon pursuing fruitlessly through AWS. "Separate but equal" is a fallacy. JUDY TSCHACHE

Mickey Mantle Signs Contract

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) —Mickey Mantle, veteran star of the New York Yankees, signed his sixth consecutive $100,000 contract yesterday and promptly set his sights on moving into third place on the all-time home run list.

"I think I can hit 30 home runs. I don't think that's out of the question," said the 36-year-old Mantle, who made a successful transition last season from center field to first base.

Mantle hit 22 homers last year, giving him a lifetime total of 518. Ahead of him are Babe Ruth with 714, Willie Mays 564, Jimmy Fox 534 and Ted Williams, 521. Of the four, only Mays is still playing.

Skiers Capture NCAA Berth

The Montana ski team copped second place in the Big Sky meet and qualified for the NCAA meet, at a meet at McCall, Idaho last weekend.

The Big Sky meet was opened in conjunction with the Vandal Invitational Ski Meet. Montana State won both the conference meet and the Vandal meet.

Montana State had a total of 374-94 points, for a sizable margin over the second place Grizzlies. Montana scored 303.35 points, and Idaho finished third with 277.81 points.

In the Vandal Invitational, Washington placed second, Utah third and Montana fourth.

Three squads, Montana State, Montana and Washington, qualified for the NCAA championship meet which are scheduled in Steamboat Springs, Colo., next month.

Education Class On Drugs Offered School Teachers, Health Personnel

A drug education class for high school teachers and health personnel will be offered July 22-26.

The course will be sponsored jointly by the pharmacy and education schools. Illegal drugs such as heroin and marijuana as well as common drugs such as aspirin will be discussed.

Robert Van Horne, dean of the Pharmacy School, said the more common drugs contained in the household medicine chest may cause drug dependence, illness, poisoning or death if used in an improper manner.

He said the pharmacy school has been collecting information about illegal and potentially dangerous drugs since 1960.

Recently, representatives from the pharmacy and education schools have been meeting with the State Board of Health and Public Instruction. They have been trying to initiate programs on drugs and other health threats into school health programs.
