Women To Vote on No-Hours; Pantzer Holds The Decision

Women will make the final vote tomorrow on no-hours dorm policy, Margaret Borg, AWS president, said yesterday.

UM Pres. Robert Pantzer will make a final decision on whether to establish no-hours on a permanent basis. Miss Borg said Pres. Pantzer will base his decision on the AWS vote. This decision will go for final policy recommendation to the Board of Regents.

The poll will ask if women are in favor of no-hours for all living groups, if parental permission should be needed for girls to live in no-hours housing and what closing hours they prefer if they want hours.

Candidates running for AWS offices are Susan Cramer, president; Sarah Stebbins and Judy Cook, vice-president; Virginia Stratton, second vice-president; Kathy Williams, treasurer; Barb Pallett, secretary and Kathy Bariana, historian.

Women will vote in their own living groups between 4 and 7 p.m. Women living off-campus will vote in the Lodge between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. UM identification cards are needed to vote.

Siege of Washington Begins While 400 Chant 'Freedom'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON—The Poor People's Campaign raised its wooden camp on a lawn by the Lincoln Memorial yesterday to begin what its leaders say will be a summer-long siege of Congress.

About 400 demonstrators chanted "Freedom!" with each blow of the hammer as the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove the first nail for the tent-shaped plywood dwellings that will house the throng of marchers converging on the nation's capital.

Abernathy promised protesters, "We're going to plague the pharaohs of this nation, with plague after plague, until they agree to give us meaningful jobs and a guaranteed annual income."

Harriman, Thuy State Demands

PARIS—In its turn, each side in the Vietnam war demanded yesterday that the other side scale down the bitter conflict as a step toward peace.

But the special emissaries of Presidents Johnson and Ho Chi Minh — Ambassador W. Averell

Harriman and Minister of State Xuan Thuy—were careful to muffle their charges and countercharges in relatively mild terms.

Harriman and Thuy, seasoned in the graces of diplomacy, each courteously promised to study the presentation of the other.

Columbia University Turmoil Eyed

NEW YORK—A blue ribbon panel headed by former U.S. Solicitor General Archibald Cox opened hearings yesterday into the "why" of the turmoil at Columbia University.

Cox said the fact-finders plan a "broad and far-reaching inquiry" into the Columbia demonstrations. He also announced the appointment of John S. Martin Jr., his former special assistant, as counsel to the commission, to "help shape" the hearings.

Rockefeller Race 'Beginning to Soar'

HONOLULU—Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon said yesterday that Nelson Rockefeller's race for the Republican presidential nomination is "beginning to soar" and the New York governor "may get it on the third ballot."

McCall made the assertion at a news conference at the Western Governors Conference. The scene of energetic behind-the-scenes efforts by Rockefeller backers to prevent Richard M. Nixon from sewing up the nomination.

Hershey Hears 'Hell No, We Won't Go'

TOPEKA, Kan.—Approximately 50 young demonstrators shouted "Hell No, We Won't Go" from a hallway in the Student Union at Washburn University yesterday as Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, addressed 350 students.

About a dozen demonstrators pounded and kicked the car in which Hershey was driven away after his talk.

Demonstrators Picket Depot As Prospective GIs Look On

Giving what was termed as "expression to the rising discontent" with the draft and the Vietnam War, about 35 students and faculty members picketed the Greyhound Bus Depot last night.

Men waiting to board the bus for the draft induction physical examination in Butte today watched the demonstrators, who waved signs and marched in a circle on the sidewalk in front of the depot.

About 200 persons watched the demonstration, including a number on the other side of West Broadway.

Most persons in the crowd watched quietly, but one unidentified man vehemently argued with the demonstrators, and another burned the anti-draft literature he had been given.

Some of the demonstrators handed out literature which criticized the Vietnam War. Others carried signs with anti-war slogans such as "Draft Beer—Not War," "When Will They Ever Learn," "Bring 'Em Back Alive" and "End the Draft."

A Phillipsburg boy who was taking the bus to Butte to take his physical said that he did not believe in the demonstration, but said the demonstrators had a right to express themselves. Another boy from Connecticut agreed that the demonstrators had a right to protest.

Paul Warwick, an English instructor who marched in the demonstration, said the protest group was giving expression to the rising discontent with the draft and the war. He said the Womens' Strike for Peace, which is made up of about 10 wives of faculty members, was instrumental in organizing the march.

Barclay Kuhn, UM political science instructor who also marched in the demonstrations, said no organization sponsored the march. One of the marchers said she heard about the march from Students for a Democratic Society. Another said he heard about the march on KYLT's "Party Line."

The demonstrators moved into the depot as a light rain started to fall and broke up when the bus left a few minutes later.

Faust Musical To Be Given In U Theater

Gounod's version of "Faust," a poem by Goethe, will be presented in the University Theater May 16 through 19 at 8:15 each night.

Firman H. Brown Jr., chairman of the drama department, will direct the opera which is being performed by students in the fine arts school.

Doug Dunnell and Charles Bryson will alternate as Faust, and Edd Blackler and James Selway will alternate as Mephistopheles.

Other members of the cast are Don Collins, Ron Robertus, Nick Alex, Ruth Silvius, Kathy Wruck, Nancy Senechal, Kerry Ehlen, Gloria Phillip and Pamela South.

Tickets are $2.50 and $2 with a $.50 reduction for UM students. Reservations may be made by calling the box office at the theater.

City Council Vote Gives Power to Anti-Racism Body

The Missoula City Council voted last night to refer a resolution to establish an open housing ordinance to the recently formed Human Relations Committee.

Four people, representing Missoula churches, spoke at the city county meeting in favor of the open housing ordinance. Several written requests for open housing were also read at the meeting.

The council stated that the Human Relations Committee was formed for the specific purpose to study problems relating to racial discrimination in Missoula and should be given a chance to work.

Several problems related to an open housing ordinance were discussed. It was felt the cities in Montana cannot do anything unless they are given permission by the state. Also that the jurisdiction of the Police Court is too limited in that it cannot force anyone to do anything.

The ordinance was referred to the Human Relations Committee which will be given the responsibility to study all of these problems.

Miscalculation Causes Move

The track at the new Dornblaser Field is being moved 25 feet east of its present position, J. A. Parker, physical plant director, told the Kaimin yesterday.

Parker said that the track is being moved to allow more seating space and to allow for the widening of Higgins Avenue in accordance with the city's future plans for expansion. The present gridiron will not have to be altered, Parker said, and added that it entailed the moving of six inches of topsoil from one area to another.

THE GRIZZLY TRACK TEAM should be assured of victories on the home track next year due to a miscalculation in the placement of the new track and bleachers. Runners on the inside lanes will have a clear path but the runners in the outside lanes will be hindered by a small obstacle, the bleachers. The track must now be moved 25 feet east. UM Is Free of Filth

You think we have it bad? You think the mummified mentality of our administration with its regressive policies and laughable social philosophy is bad?

You're right, but take a look at MSU to see how much worse it could be.

The inmates in that range-riders' reformatory were told last week that they were altogether too young and impressionable to read underground newspapers.

Pres. Leon Johnson apparently has the only mind at MSU with sufficient moral armament to withstand the rottenness of the papers without ill effect. He said people would "lose their values" if they were exposed to the "garbage," but he held out hope he would not be adversely influenced by reading the papers himself.

Mr. Johnson said he condemned the papers because their advertising was "filthy," thus following the precedent set by the United States Supreme Court in condemning Eros magazine on the same grounds.

It's time someone said a good word for filth. Honest filth in advertising is a worthwhile commodity, and is much to be preferred to the Establishment advertising code that won't allow a bobbing Adam's apple to be shown in a beer ad, but permits all manner of sly ads for a shaving lotion called "Studd."

Not only can a little tasteless filth brighten your day but it can also be educational.

The MSU Bookstore only carried the papers as instructional materials at the request of several English instructors, so their removal amounted to administration meddling in teaching methods, something the UM administration has not sunk to recently.

Fortunately, UM students may rest assured no newspapers will ever be removed from our bookstore, since there are none to remove.

Obviously, a bookstore that doesn't have room for books can't be bothered with newspapers. All that filth and literary nonsense gets in the way of the Grizzly sweatshirt and Teddy Bear sales department.

Staples Suggests Feeding the Poor

To the Kaimin:

So the people say you can not get refunds for missed meals because of contracts. Well, why not find some people from the city of Missoula that are poor and in need of a couple of meals. If they have any! Then make a deal with the food service on letting these people eat in our place with our meal passes.

MSU Flies Kites

To the Kaimin:

When President Leon Johnson of MSU banned four underground newspapers from the MSU bookstore last week he said, "MSU has been known as a hard-hitting, no-nonsense type of institution."

On April 26 the MSU Exponent, in a front page story reported MSU's first kite day, which consisted of a kite flying contest.

Support Asked for Anti-A.W.S. Election

To the Kaimin:

In a recent poll taken by Central Board it was discovered that a majority of women on campus and off were opposed to a $1.50 increase to help support A.W.S. The poll results indicate a lack of interest and support among the women for A.W.S. In spite of this the administration and A.W.S. have seen fit to ignore the majority of women's feelings and conduct an election of A.W.S. officers.

I would like to present a few things for women to think about.

1. Are A.W.S. projects such as Lantern Parade ties to A.W.S. or could these projects be sponsored by Traditions Board?

2. Is it fair that men have to pay activity fees which go to A.W.S.?

3. How many women feel that they are really represented by Standards Board and that they would have a fair hearing if they were ever brought before the board?

4. Do A.W.S. rules and regulations help you learn standards and values or is that something each woman must discover on her own?

5. Are A.W.S. rules continuously and fairly carried out or are they changed and overlooked in certain cases?

6. If A.W.S. must exist is it fair that membership in the organization is mandatory for all women students?

7. Finally, we feel that students on this campus who have violated regulations should come before a student judicial board made up of men and women students: not A.W.S., Standards Board, or the Dean of Students. An elected student judicial board would be a far more equitable means of enforcing such regulations. A student appearing before the board should also be provided with counsel from a law student.

It is generally felt that A.W.S. along with other administrative representatives brought about the lessening of dorm and the no hours dorm. If it hadn't been for pressure from concerned women students with petitions demanding changes would A.W.S. ever have met with other parties to consider these issues? It was action from individuals that forced the wheels of A.W.S. into motion.

When A.W.S. holds its elections we will hold another election for all women who want to vote no to A.W.S. Our election will be held Wednesday in the Lodge. After the election results will be sent to the administration which will be asked to take appropriate action. Come out and vote in an election which can really affect your future on this campus.

DEMOCRAT FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

"We do not have in Montana the national political issue of crime in the streets and we will not have... unless we talk it into being a problem or fail to take preventive measures. As attorney general I would hope to project to the state level what we developed in our county: The confidence of the people served while instilling respect for enforcement and justice in those who break the law. Law enforcement administered with mature judgment and prosecution that never becomes persecution, I feel, is Montana's answer."

Grizzlies Seek to End ISU's Conference String

It's all over but the shouting for Big Sky track teams this week. But the shouting consists of the conference track meet in Ogden, Utah, on Friday and Saturday.

The meet will decide who is the best in the league—Montana or Idaho State. The teams did not meet in the regular season as both rolled up impressive records.

Montana will be out to end the Bengals' three-year domination of the league championships. Last season, ISU compiled 160½ points to win the title. The Grizzlies were second with 98½ points.

Four Grizzlies will be returning to defend their championships. Willie Jones was the meet's high scorer last year, winning the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and the long jump.

Fred Friesz won the mile and three-mile championships in Ogden last spring.

Mike Lyngstad, one of the area's best javelin throwers, will be out to pick up another first place medal.

The Tips ended the regular season Saturday with an easy 102-39 win over Eastern Washington State College. Even with some of the team members not competing in their usual events, UM had little trouble with the visitors, winning 12 of the 17 events.

One stadium and school record was broken in the meet as Mick Harrington cracked his own mark in the 880-yard run with a time of 1:51.9.

Bruins Lose 4 Games on Road

Idaho handed the Grizzly baseball team its third and fourth straight losses in conference action in Moscow yesterday. The Vandals won the first game 8-7 and took the nightcap 6-3.

The losses moved the Tips' season record to 9-14-1.

The Tips will play Carroll in Helena on Friday and MSU in Bozeman Saturday.

On Saturday, Gonzaga shut out the Tips in both ends of a double-header. Gonzaga, led by Jim Richardson's three-hitter, won the first contest 10-0. Gonzaga scored seven unearned runs in the fourth inning thanks to four Montana errors.

In the second game the Zags came up with another three-hitter and another seven-run inning, capitalizing on three hits, two wild pitches and two errors. Bob Ashcraft pitched for the Bulldogs.

Tips Prepare Title Defense For Golf Meet

The UM golf team will seek its fourth straight Big Sky championship in Ogden, Utah, on Friday and Saturday.

The Grizzlies wrapped up season play with three victories in a home meet on Saturday.

Grizzly scores were: UM 10½, Montana State, 7½; UM 15½, Eastern Washington 2½, and UM 14, College of Great Falls 1.

UM's Rick Carpenter tied MSU's Jim Kernaghan for medalist with 72.

UM Tennis Team Wins 1, Drops 2

The UM tennis team rounded out its regular season competition with a 5-2 loss to Whitworth College yesterday.

Next action for the Grizzlies is the Big Sky meet in Ogden, Utah, on Friday and Saturday.

In the Whitworth match, Bud Schatz and Steve Meloy won for UM.

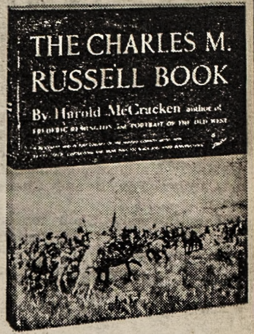

On Saturday, the University of Idaho blanked Montana 9-0. In an earlier match the Grizzlies lost to Idaho 8-1.

On Friday, UM blanked Montana State University 9-0.

Lonely Hearts 16, Fish 12

The Lonely Hearts scored 12 runs in the second inning to overcome a 6-1 deficit and defeat the Fish 16-12 in an intramural softball game on Friday. Denend was the winning pitcher for the Lonely Hearts.
