Art classes open to high school students

University of Montana–Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases/4593

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases, 1928, 1956-present by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
ART CLASSES OPEN TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

A few vacancies are left for high-school students in the Saturday art enrichment classes offered through the University of Montana Art Department, according to Prof. Richard B. Reinholtz.

Interested high-school students may enroll Saturday (April 19) at 9:30 a.m. in room 101 of the Fine Arts building. Projects planned include film making, ceramics, assemblage and mural making.

A few places are also open for pupils in grades six, seven and eight who are interested in two or three-dimensional designing.

All other sections are closed, Reinholtz said.