EDUCATION'S ROLE
IN LAW, ORDER
THEME OF UM CONFERENCE

MISSOULA--

"Law and Order in a Democratic Society: The Role of Education," will be the theme of the Education Problems Conference July 7-8 at the University of Montana.

Administrators and school board members in the state will participate in the conference, which is sponsored by the UM School of Education.

The conference, to be in the University Center, has been coordinated by Dr. Harland D. Seljak, a professor of education at UM.

Dr. Forbes Bottomly, superintendent of schools, Seattle, Wash., and Dr. Clarence Simpson, president of Whitworth College, Spokane, Wash., will deliver the opening addresses Monday at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., respectively.

Dr. J. Francis Rummel, dean of the UM School of Education, is in charge of the orientation program and introductions preceding the addresses Monday. Registration is at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

Group meetings will convene at 1:30 p.m. Monday, with a Montana school administrator heading the discussions.

School Superintendents who will be group leaders include Clifford Harmala, Glendive; Earl J. Barlow, Stevensville; Karl D. Bell, Missoula; W.R. Anderson, Polson; D.P. Langbell, Kalispell; W.C. Greer, Glasgow, and Shelby O. Bewley, superintendent of Missoula County High School.

School principals listed as group leaders include Hiney P. Lund, Bozeman Senior High School; Homer V. Loucks, Helena Senior High School, and Wendell Rafter, Fergus County High School, Lewistown.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. July 8 the reaction to group reports will be lead by: Lloyd A. Markell, research director, Montana Education Association, Helena; Elmore S. Smith, superintendent of schools, Alberton; Mrs. Delores Colburg, state superintendent of public instruction, Helena; Peter Vukad, superintendent of schools, Hamilton; Paul O'Hare, superintendent of schools, Billings, and James Kenny, executive secretary, Montana School Board Association, Helena.
