FAMILY PLANNING WORKSHOP
SLATED JULY 14-25 AT UM

MISSOULA--

A special two-week workshop, "Comprehensive Planning to Meet Family and Community Needs and Services," will begin Monday, July 14, at the University of Montana.

The home economics workshop (July 14-25) is designed especially to assist those persons working with day care centers, social welfare programs, Head Start and similar agencies.

Featured guests will be Dr. Wathena Temple, head of the Department of Home Economics at East Texas State University, and Mrs. Dorothea Davis, nutritionist for the Montana Board of Health.

Dr. Temple will coordinate the first week of the workshop which will deal with housing problems of today, with emphasis on low income families. Specialists in Montana housing programs will assist in the week's class.

The second week's class, coordinated by Mrs. Davis, will include discussion of nutritional problems by consultants from federal and state child and youth programs.

Workshop sessions run from 8:40-11:50 a.m. and 2:20-4:30 p.m. five days a week, Monday through Friday, in the UM Women's Center, Room 215. No pre-registration is required. Registration will take place during the first session Monday.

The workshop is a three-credit course for two weeks. No credit will be given for one week's attendance. Those wishing to take the course for non-credit may register as listeners for one or both weeks. Anyone wishing additional information may contact Mrs. Sara Steensland, chairman of the UM Department of Home Economics, 243-4841.
