DR. HARLAN HATCHER
TO DISCUSS THE STUDENT
AND HIS UNIVERSITY AUG. 7

MISSOULA--

Former University of Michigan president, Dr. Harlan Hatcher, will lecture Aug. 7 at the University of Montana.

A foremost educator and author, Dr. Hatcher will discuss "The Student and His University" at the University Center at 8 p.m.

The public lecture, which deals with today's university student and the colleges and universities of tomorrow, is sponsored by the University of Montana summer session lecture program. There will be no admission charge.

Dr. Hatcher was president of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor from 1951-67. He is now a special consultant to Constantinos Doxiadis, a well known authority on the study of cities and human habitation.

In his Montana lecture, the former Michigan educator, who is 71 and a native of Ironton, Ohio, will attempt to answer the question of how a complex modern university can best organize the massive accumulation of knowledge for our young people. His discussion also will include the role of the federal government in education.

Formerly vice-president and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Ohio State University before going to Michigan, Dr. Hatcher has written 12 books, including "The Great Lakes," "The Versification of Robert Browning" and travel and history books about Ohio.

Dr. Hatcher was awarded his bachelor's degree in 1922, his master's degree in 1923 and his doctorate in 1927 from Ohio State University, Columbus.

As past president of the Association of American Universities, Dr. Hatcher headed the American delegation to the International Conference in Tokyo. He also headed the Ford Foundation-sponsored study mission to South America and the mission to the Soviet Union for study of higher education.
