"Back Jack" will be the theme for this year's University of Montana Century Club Roundup drive set for Wednesday, Sept. 3 in Missoula.

A 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting in the Florence Hotel for coaches and Club members participating in the drive will kick things off.

Keith Wright, Club president, and Tom Davis, his drive co-chairman, will be plugging Jack Swarthout's athletic program hard during the coming weeks in an effort to reach this year's membership goal of 800. Last year's total, the highest ever, reached 736.

Members pay $100, tax-deductible, and have an option of donating the full amount or using part for choice tickets at Montana football and basketball contests.

Gary Hughes, UM ticket manager who handles the Club's books, pointed out that the $100 does not have to come in one lump, but can be paid quarterly if so desired.

The money goes for athletic scholarships in all sports at the University.

As of Wednesday, the membership for the coming year stood near 400, with many of last year's memberships yet to be renewed. Century Club volunteers will carry on telephone and drop-in-and-visit campaign during the next few days to "round up the strays" before the big Roundup Wednesday.

Swarthout attended a Wednesday breakfast meeting of the Club's directors, and reported that his grid squad reported back, on the whole, in tremendous physical condition.

"The kids appear to have a sound mental attitude, something we need badly if we're going to win," he said. "I think things look excellent at this point."

Swarthout has won 9 of 19 games since taking over as athletic director and grid boss in 1967, and he thinks the chances for a rebound from last year's 2-7 mark are excellent.

"BACK JACK"--2

"You don't build an athletic program in one or two years," Davis and Wright said jointly. "It's going to take from three to five years to see real results, and we honestly believe that Swarthout is in the midst of building a fine overall program. But he needs loyal fan support through the Century Club."

While football appears to be getting back in the groove, basketball coaches Bob Cope and Lou Rocheleau are looking forward to their upcoming campaign, which starts in late November. A taller, faster cage squad appears to be in the offing at UM.

Persons interested in joining the Century Club can contact Gary Hughes at the Adams Field House ticket office, phone number 243-4051 or 549-4151.
