UM EDUCATOR ATTENDS
TWO-WEEK INSTITUTE

MISSOULA--

Dr. Lyle L. Berg, director of Educational Research and Services at the University of Montana, was one of thirty educators from throughout the country chosen to attend the National Research Evaluation and Development Training Institute recently at Monmouth, Ore.

The institute was sponsored by the Oregon State System of Higher Education and was conducted at the Oregon State Teaching Research Center.

Each participant was given individualized material to study, with video and slide tapes to supplement the material.

Areas studied include logic of statistics, proposal writing, retrieval systems, individualizing instruction and behavioral objectives.
