UM GRADUATE RECEIVES
HIGHEST HONOR DURING
ARMY STINT AT FORT LEWIS

MISSOULA, Mont.--

A 22-year-old University of Montana graduate this summer received the highest performance award available among 1,800 cadets during the 1969 Sixth Army Summer Camp at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Recipient of the Commanding General's Trophy for the second training cycle at Fort Lewis was 2nd Lt. Paul Hutchinson Dallmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hermann Dallmann, 3935 La Cresta Drive, San Diego, Calif. The Army officer received his bachelor's degree in history this spring at the University of Montana here.

The Commanding General's Trophy is presented annually to the outstanding cadet in each of the two training cycles during the Fort Lewis ROTC summer camp. Award recipients must display leadership and high scores in military proficiency testing, which includes rifle marksmanship and the leadership reaction test. They also must score high in written tests in communications, land navigation and small-unit tactics.

The younger Dallmann, who is single, was graduated from Point Loma High School, San Diego, in June 1965. This spring he was graduated with honors at the University of Montana. Lt. Dallmann participated in the Army ROTC program while enrolled at UM and he distinguished himself as a counter guerrilla unit commander.

While at UM, Lt. Dallmann served as president of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity (1967-69) and he also was a member of Bear Paws service honorary and the Judo Club.
