In this course we shall aim to develop an understanding of the richness, diversity and complexity of Hindu religious traditions, in both contemporary and historical perspective. We will use both primary sources (translations of Hindu texts) and secondary sources (analytical and descriptive texts by scholars), as well as documentary videos, as materials. The first section of the course will consist of an introduction and overview, with the goal of providing, firstly, a 'map of possibilities' for understanding contemporary Hinduism, and secondly, a sense of the traditions' historical development. In sections two and three we will explore aspects of Hindu thought and practice.

Section 1: Jan 27th-Feb 24th

"Hindu Religious Traditions: an Introduction and an Overview"

Texts: 1. Kim Knott, Hinduism, a Very Short Introduction; 2. R. K. Narayan, Gods, Demons and Others

1

Exam: Thursday Feb 24th (In-Class)

Section 2: Feb 29th-Apr 4th.

"Currents in Hindu Thought—The Bhagavad Gītā (and its interpreters) and Patañjali's Yoga Sūtras"

Texts: 1. Barbara Stoler Miller (trans.), The Bhagavad Gita; 2. Barbara Stoler Miller (trans.) Yoga: Discipline of Freedom—The Yoga Sutra attributed to Patanjali. Exam: Tuesday April 4th (In-Class)

Section 3: Apr 6th-May 4th

"Aspects of Hindu Practice-Devotion, the Goddess, and Tantra"

Text: David R. Kinsley, Hindu Goddesses. Visions of the Divine Feminine in the Hindu Relgious Tradition.

Exam: Tuesday May 9th (8:00-10:00 am)

Note: the reading for each section will be supplemented with material from the remaining course text: Hopkins, The Hindu Religious Tradition.

The grade for this course is based on three exams and attendance. Attendance: Missing more than two classes will result in the loss of one letter grade.
