CHARLES BOLEN HEADS
INTERNATIONAL GROUP

MISSOULA---

The dean of the University of Montana (UM) School of Fine Arts, Dr. Charles W. Bolen, recently was elected chairman of the International Council of Fine Arts Deans (ICFAD).

Dr. Bolen, who has been a UM faculty member since 1962, was named to the post during the annual meeting of the ICFAD in London.

As council chairman he will be responsible for planning the 1970 ICFAD annual meeting, which will be scheduled sometime in October at Chicago.

Dr. Bolen said the International Council of Fine Arts Deans "provides an opportunity for University administrators in the arts to discuss and share common problems and ideas as they relate to fine arts."

The University dean also is chairman of the Montana Arts Council, which was established in 1964 to promote the growth and development of the arts in Montana.

Dr. Bolen was named dean of the UM School of Fine Arts in 1962. After receiving a bachelor's degree in music education at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1948 he studied music literature and theory at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N.Y., where he received a master's degree in 1950. Dr. Bolen went on to earn a doctorate in music education and musicology at Indiana University, Bloomington, in 1954.
