MISSOULA---

University of Montana President Robert T. Pantzer called together a committee to act as a clearing house and coordinating agency for Camellia Bowl activities.

Serving as chairman of the committee is George L. Mitchell, UM Administrative Vice President. He suggested that information requests be channeled through Mike Frellick, director of special projects for the UM Foundation. Frellick, executive director of the Camellia Bowl Committee, will coordinate information for the Montana part in the Camellia Bowl and may be contacted by calling 243-5211.

Frellick will assemble information on the bowl and direct informants to the proper sources for tickets, travel and lodging for the Dec. 13 event.

The Committee entertained suggestions for possible financial assistance to raise funds necessary for the Sacramento trip.

Committee members from the University attending the first meeting of a weekly series were President Pantzer, Frellick, Andrew Cogswell, dean of students, George Mitchell, administrative vice president, J. A. Parker, physical plant director, Lawrence Stuart, information services director, Earl Martell, athletic business manager, Dean Robert E. Sullivan, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, John Delano, executive director of the alumni center, Tom Collins, director of public services and the UM Foundation, Don Brunell, sports information director, Joe Mazurek, ASUM president, Mark Mertens, ASUM business manager, and Ron Mehrens ASUM athletic commissioner.

Representing the Century Club were Col. Tom Davis, president, Keith D. Wright and Bill Nooney. Others attending were Bill McKinsey, president of the Missoula Mavericks and Gino Bronchetti, manager of the Cook's Travel Agency.

The Committee will meet next Tuesday at noon to formalize progress reports and iron out problems arising.
