DR. E. W. PFEIFFER
TO DISCUSS DEFOLIATION
IN UNIVERSITY ADDRESS

MISSOULA---

Dr. E. W. Pfeiffer, a zoology professor at the University of Montana, will discuss defoliation as it has occurred in Cambodia Friday in the first in a series of environmentally oriented seminars on the Missoula campus.

The discussion, which is open to the public without charge, is scheduled for noon Friday in room 307 of the Natural Science Building. The UM Departments of Botany and Geology are cosponsoring the series during winter quarter.

Besides the general public, the series is open to students, faculty and staff.

Title of Dr. Pfeiffer's talk is "Defoliation--A Brown Christmas in Cambodia." He recently returned to Montana from his second trip to Southeast Asia in connection with scientific studies on the ecological effects of the large-scale military use of chemical herbicides.
