Office phone: 406-243-2256

Office: DAH 429

Office hours: Monday and Wednesday 2-4pm or by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

Through this course, you will gain a better understanding of short-form (one minute or less), cross-platform video and its role in today's online media. You will learn to produce short-form videos independently and in teams using DSLR cameras, smartphones and Adobe Premiere. You will produce text "explainer" videos that can supplement radio and print stories, shoot videos that include yourself as a reporter and explore creative ways to use video to make serious topics more accessible to the general public. We will also discuss current trends in the industry and various markets for your work. You will leave the course able to identify and produce compelling short-form video stories and more confident in your ability to find and engage subjects.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the semester the successful JRNL 494 student will:

- Be able to identify and produce compelling short-form video stories on deadline
- Recognize the role online video plays in strengthening radio and print stories as well as its role as a stand-alone medium
- Be proficient in various video and audio gathering techniques
- Be able to edit quickly and efficiently in Adobe Premiere Pro
- Demonstrate sound news judgment and journalistic ethics
- Embrace creative approaches to online video production
- Be able to critique short-form videos and multimedia from various media outlets
- Understand what leading media outlets are looking for in video and multimedia

REQUIREMENTS

This course combines lectures, critiques and applied practice. You will be expected to participate in class discussions and critiques, complete various practical assignments and examine your work in the context of professional journalism.

ATTENDANCE

I expect you to be in every class. If you know you are going to miss class or be late, let me know in advance. An excused absence generally involves personal or family illnesses or emergencies. Routine medical appointments, job obligations, computer problems, extracurricular activities or work for this or others classes are not valid reasons for missing class. If you have two unexcused absences, your final grade will drop by 10%. Three or more and you will fail the class.

TEXTBOOK AND READING ASSIGNMENTS

There's no required text for this class, but there will be required online readings and viewings. Please refer to the syllabus.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

- External HD with 500GB of free space dedicated to this class
- Card reader for your camera memory card type (CF or SD)
- Video capable DSLR camera (you may check out J-school cameras for assignments if necessary)
- Smartphone (any model as long as it shoots video)

CELL PHONES

If you bring your cell phone to class it must be in the off position. Don't test me on this.

ASSIGNMENTS

All video assignments must be submitted to me as an MP4 via Moodle by the deadline listed on the syllabus unless otherwise noted in class.

Partner audio interview	20 points	Video pitch and resume	60 points
Process video shoot and edit	20 points	Doc in a Day	80 points
Movie trailer edit	20 points	Text explainer video	100 points
Producer presentation	20 points	Attendance & participation	100 points
Steller story for mobile	20 points	Quick turnaround video	200 points
Smartphone video	20 points	Final project	200 points
2 quick turnaround ideas	20 points
2 final project ideas	20 points	TOTAL POSSIBLE:	900 points

DEADLINES

Deadlines are indicated on the syllabus next to each assignment (with the exception of the “quick turnaround video” which we will discuss in class). You will lose one letter grade for each day an assignment is late (an assignment due at 12pm on Tuesday is one day late at 12:01pm Tuesday and earns one letter grade lower than it otherwise would have). This is a journalism course designed to mimic the “real world.” As such, missing deadlines will hurt your grade significantly.

NUMERACY AND DIVERSITY

As part of numeracy and diversity requirements by the School of Journalism, one of your video assignments must include a diverse point of view; a second must include a numeracy component. We'll discuss these requirements in class and determine which assignments will conform to the initiatives.

GRADING

Letter grades will be used on the following scale:

A: 93-100	B-: 80-82	D+: 67-69
A-: 90-92	C+: 77-79	D: 63-66
B+: 87-89	C: 73-76	D-: 60-62
B: 83-86	C-: 70-72	F: 59 or lower

ADDITIONAL COURSE POLICIES

- Students with disabilities and/or special needs should notify the instructor at his or her earliest convenience and contact Disabilities Services for Students, umt.edu/dss/or x2243.
- Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code: All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the university. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code: http://www.umt.edu/vpsa/policies/student_conduct.php
- DOUBLE-DIPPING: No element (recordings, story ideas, scripts, etc.) for another class can fulfill assignments for this class without DOCUMENTED ACCEPTANCE from instructors of all involved courses. Failure to do so will result in failure on that assignment.
- PLAGIARISM and ETHICS: Turning in something written or recorded by someone else and presented as your own is unacceptable in all coursework. Penalties range from failing this class to expulsion from school.
- If you are a JRNL graduate student OR undergraduate student admitted to the professional program, your security code has already been generated for the semester and your GrizCard has already been activated to enter the front doors of DAH. You will have continual access (during the semester) to DAH until you graduate or drop from the Professional Program. If you have forgotten or misplaced your six-digit code, please see Cameron in DAH201 or call her at 243-4001 to obtain it.
