MISSOULA--

The University of Montana baseball team travels to Butte Tuesday for a doubleheader with Montana Tech.

Grizzly diamond coach Lem Elway said the team hasn't seen action for a couple of weeks but are ready to go.

Elway plans to start Kendall Kelvig and Bob Shouquist on the mound for the Tips; however, he said that Marty Frustaci could share the pitching chores.

The Montana team is 6-8 on the season and need but one win to tie their last year's mark. Bad weather and unfinished construction at Campbell Field have kept Montana from participating in their home schedule. Elway said he will put out a revised schedule later this week.

After the Butte series, the Grizzlies open their home season with a double header against Carroll College.

Elway plans to start John Kidd and Les Parks against the Saints. Game time at Campbell Field Wednesday will be 1 p.m.

The Grizzlies will have Harry Allen, first, Mike Hoonan, second, Bob Rutledge, shortstop, Marty Frustaci, third and Roger Neilson behind the plate. Elway will go with Mick Gapay, left, Jeff Hoffman, centerfield and Ken Wise, right field.
