FRANK DUNKLE TO SPEAK AT FORESTRY AWARDS BANQUET THURSDAY

MISSOULA--

Frank H. Dunkle, director of Montana's Fish and Game Department, will be the featured speaker at the University of Montana / School of Forestry's annual awards banquet Thursday evening (April 30).

Dunkle will discuss the problems the professional resource manager may encounter in his relationships with the land, with the public and with various government agencies.

The 7 p.m. banquet will honor outstanding UM foresters with scholarships and awards which this year total more than $1,700.

Rick Kelsey, president of Xi Sigma Pi, honorary forestry fraternity, said that tickets for the banquet are available at the School of Forestry at a cost of $3.50 per person. Reservations should be made by Thursday morning.

Gerhard Knudsen, a forestry school instructor, will be master of ceremonies at Thursday's banquet, which will be held in the Bitterroot Room of the Florence Motor Inn.
