MISSOULA--

The ladies will have a chance to learn the fundamentals of football at their own Grizzly Den luncheon which will be every Tuesday at noon throughout the football season.

University of Montana football coach Jack Swarthout will be on hand each Tuesday in the Florence Hotel for a luncheon-class on football.

Swarthout said, the object of the program is to teach the ladies the basics of the sport. They might eventually know more than their husbands, fathers or boyfriends know about football.

The Grizzly coach said often women do not like football because they don't understand it. "It is a complicated game even for the coaches, but I think if the women have some idea of what's goin' on they might learn to enjoy it more," the UM mentor said.

Swarthout plans to conduct his class by showing game films, then pointing out the fundamentals from the films.

Tuesday the Montana coach will show the movies from the North Dakota game last Saturday which was a 28-7 Grizzly win.

Swarthout said the men that can't make the weekly men's Grizzly Den luncheon on Wednesday are welcome to join the women.
