Professor: Jeffrey Greene

TEXTS

Primary: State and Local Government 5th Edition (Ann Bowman and Richard Kearney)

Supplements: The State of The States 3rd Edition (Charles Van Horn) and Who Runs for the State Legislature? (by Moncrief, Squire, and Jewell)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

State Government is one of the most exciting areas in political science. This course examines the evolution and development that has taken place in the states since the founding period. It focuses on the basic institutions as well as a broad spectrum of public policy issues that affect governing in the states. The theme of this course is built on one primary question: Has there been a resurgence of the states? That is, have states increased their capacity to govern, manage change, and innovate in various areas of public policy?

The primary objective of the course is to acquaint students with the complexities of state government and state politics. Local government is not covered in the summer version of the class. Upon successful completion of the course students should acquire considerable knowledge about comparative state government and politics in the states. Assessment is based on students' performance on two exams. Additional learning objectives are provided at PSc 364 Learning Objectives are available on the Online Version of the syllabus. Many other links are provided on the Online Version of the syllabus.
