CUTLINE FOR PHOTO WITH STORY HEADED "PRESSED FLOWERS ARE MORE THAN MEMENTOS"

Sherman Preece, chairman of the botany department and curator of the herbarium at the University of Montana, and his research assistant, June Freedman, compare a herbarium sheet with a data sheet to insure that the information on the label of the former has been correctly recorded on the latter. The data sheet for the plant mounted on the herbarium sheet will be sent to the Plant Information Network data bank at Fort Collins, Colo., in connection with work being done by the UM for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Freedman, who is working for a Ph.D. in botany at the UM, is the daughter of May and David Freedman, Bayside, N. Y.
