Utopianism & Its Critics

My utopia is actual life pushed to the limits of its ideal possibilities.--Lewis Mumford

A map of the world that does not include Utopia is not worth even glancing at, for it leaves out the one country at which Humanity is always landing. And when Humanity land there, it looks out, and seeing a better country, sets sail. Progress is the realization of Utopias.---Oscar Wilde

Course Description: This seminar has a very timely quality, partly because we are in a new millennium. Yet with the future looking increasingly uncertain and unpredictable, it seems that the Utopian tradition has entered a period of terminal crisis. This has happened, according to Judith Shklar, because nothing is as simple as it was once—there is so much we don’t know—or what we do know, we know can hurt us. Either way, the future looms rather than beckons. There is even speculation that we have arrived at the "end of utopia," that is, we have reached whatever goal we might realistically wish for, and so no further Utopias need or can be conceived.

But what would it mean for political theory if the search for Utopia was called off? Would there not be a loss (as well as a gain) if the habit of playing with ideal alternatives were to be thoroughly discredited? Perhaps it is time to take stock. This semester we will examine classic and contemporary utopias, from Plato’s Republic to Barbara Goodwin’s Justice by Lottery as well as their critics, to determine what it might mean if we abandon utopianism.

Readings:
* Plato, The Republic, Chaps. III-V.
ed. Frederic White, Famous Utopias
William Morris, New From Nowhere
Lewis Mumford, Story of Utopias
B.F. Skinner, Walden II
Goodwin’s Justice by Lottery
C.P. Gilman, Herland
FAC PAC: Masc. Utopias
Course Objectives: upon successfully completing the course work, the student should be able to:

1. Identify and assess the major themes, works, and political thinkers associated with utopian literature.

2. Develop a coherent position with regards to ethical idealism, political realism, elitism, democratic doctrine, individualism and communitarianism.

3. Orally critique an essay in terms of its analytical clarity, accuracy in its interpretation of primary readings, and the logic of its conclusions.

To achieve the above objectives—Course Grading:

This course will be taught as a seminar. Each student will submit and orally defend in class 3 critical essays (45% of course grade or 20pts each), not to exceed three double-spaced pages. The essays (see note for those taking this course to fulfill writing requirement) will be assigned weekly and are due no later than the class period before you are scheduled to orally defend it. (For topics, see below.) If you are absent the day we are scheduled to discuss your essay, you will not get credit for it.

In addition, each student will complete a take-home final (30% of course grade.) Each student will be graded on class attendance (10%) and participation (15% of course grade.) As Burke said, it does not honor a writer …to read him without seeking to challenge him . . . or her.

Cautionary note: if you are absent more than 3xs, three attendance points will be deducted for every absence thereafter. Excused absences require a medical note for illness, injury, family emergency, or letter from instructor for field trips, ASUM service, music/drama performances, intercollegiate athletics, military service. Instructor will also excuse absences for reasons of mandatory public service.

Note: If taking this course to fulfill writing requirement, then student will be expected to revise and resubmit all three of their essays. Substantial revisions will be expected.

Graduate Students, in addition to completing the above assignments, will submit a 10-15 page research paper on one of the utopian thinkers or their critics which addresses a substantive theoretical topic in consultation with the professor. This paper will be of publishable quality, and will probe more deeply a theoretical issue related to modern thought than those of the undergraduate essays. The paper shall include an introduction that clearly identifies a question or issue and its significance in modern political theory, and will draw upon appropriate primary & secondary literature to support the paper’s thesis and analysis.

- Plus/Minus Grades will be used based on the following:
  100-93 = A; 92-90 = A-; 89-87 = B+; 86-83 = B; 82-80 = B-; 79-77 = C+; 76-73 = C; 72-70 = C-; 69-67 = D+; 66-63 = D; 62-60 = D-; 59 < = F

Or

Essay (due 11/5): How much does Gilman borrow from Plato’s utopia in setting up the educational and work system in Herland? What, if anything does Gilman reject from Plato’s ideal society?

Or

Essays (due 11/7): ‘In some respects, Gilman’s utopia shows the same 19-early 20th century biases as her male counterparts. That is, she’s not radical enough in her thinking.’ Discuss

NO Class November 12th Veterans Day Holiday

11/14

_The Lottery Society_
Read: Goodwin, Chaps 3.

Essay (due 11/9): Goodwin’s utopia appears to be more 'revolutionary' than any previous work, so much so it's almost _unutopian_. Discuss how she departs from previous utopias we have examined thus far.

11/16

_Lottery Liberation?_
Read: Goodwin, Chap.6.

Essay (due 11/12): Who’s utopia would score more points for liberating women, (men, and children): Gilman or Goodwin? Why?

11/19

_Job Lotteries_
Read: Goodwin, Chap. 9.

Essay (due 11/16): Does Goodwin’s “job” lotteries presuppose a high or low degree of human talent?

Thanksgiving Break

Job Lotteries continued

Essay (due 11/19): Would Goodwin’s lottery system help (or hinder) the artist & enhance the arts? Why, why not?

11/28-11/30

_Lottery Politics & Consensus_
Read: finish Goodwin, Chap. 9.

Essay (due 11/26): What kind of social/political questions would be undesirable to submit to a lottery? Are there many or few issues that ought to be decided in this fashion? Discuss with examples.

Or

Essay (due 11/28): All things considered, is Goodwin’s TLS equitable, fair, and moral?

12/3-

_Utopia & Its Critics_
12/5 Read: Mumford, Chaps. 11-12

12/6 Lewis Mumford & His Pilgrimage through Utopia
Essays (due 12/7): Given all of our reasons to despair of modern humanity, why does Mumford remain hopeful? Which is the more utopian characteristic: the despair or the faith?

12/12 Wednesday Utopia Final Due by 12 p.m..

Final Paper:

Each student will choose one topic to examine with regard to all the utopias read this semester, and write an analysis (8 double-spaced pages). Please sign up with me on the subject.

Final Essay Topics: How will those decisions that we think important be made in utopia? Specifically regarding:

1. choosing a mate; male-female relationships & roles, friendship & marriage
2. deciding how many children to have; parents & childrearing
3. choosing a school/university; purpose & content of education
4. a career/job; types & purpose of work: good or bad?
5. determining crimes & punishment; administration, purpose, and nature of law/justice
6. indulging one’s tastes/appetites; houses, gold, and the money economy
7. health care treatment/policy; illness, disease, accidents, & death
8. joining a church/embracing a faith; spirituality & tolerance
9. freedom of artistic expression; the role/purpose of art
10. selecting a government/making policy; selection of rulers, citizen participation, and civic obligation

While it is not required, you may wish to read secondary literature to support your final paper, or —better still— just out of curiosity. The following is a good start:
