Course Description

This course addresses the constitutional role and historical development of the American Presidency. We will also examine the theoretical explanations of the institution’s relationship to democratic government, the separation of powers, and the expansion of national administrative power. This broad understanding of the historical and theoretical presidency will inform our consideration of current events and the 2008 presidential election.

Required Texts and Other Readings

The following book is required and is available at the University Bookstore:

Other readings can be accessed on the internet at the addresses listed on this syllabus or will be posted on the course’s Blackboard website. Blackboard readings are designated on the syllabus as: “(BB).” Contact me if you are not familiar with Blackboard.

In addition, students are required to read those news stories dealing with the American presidency in a national newspaper such as the New York Times or the Washington Post.

The instructor reserves the right to add, delete, or alter course readings as needed.

Requirements and Grading

Exam 1: 20%
Exam 2: 20%
Paper: 20%
Final Exam: 20%
Participation (including debate): 20%

Exams: Exams 1 and 2 will be administered in class on Monday, March 9 and Friday, April 10. The Final Exam will be held on Wednesday, May 13 from 3:10 – 5:10. Exams may include a combination of multiple choice, identification, short answer, and essay questions. Makeup exams will only be permitted if I have been notified prior to the missed exam and only if I agree that the absence was necessitated by a serious, documented emergency. Check your calendar now to make sure you do not have anything that conflicts with the exams.

Paper: Select two memoirs written by administration officials of a modern or contemporary president. Both memoirs must come from the same administration. Your paper should go beyond merely describing the two memoirs. Rather, in a 6 to 8 page, double-spaced paper with 1-inch margins and standard 12 point font, you should offer a critical analysis and comparison of the interpretations and the events themselves. We will discuss this assignment in more detail in class. Papers are due in class on Friday, May 8. Extensions will be available only for illness or serious family circumstance, and then only with advance permission. Papers will be marked down half a letter grade for each day they are late.

Participation: Much of our class time will be spent discussing the course readings in a seminar-style. Consequently, both quantity and quality of class participation will be very important. Students are expected to do all of the assigned readings before each class meeting and come to class prepared to discuss the material. Daily attendance will be taken and factored into participation grades. Students missing more than ¼ of our class meetings will not pass the course. In addition, each student will participate in a group-based deliberative, formal, cross-examination policy debate. We will discuss the debates in more detail in class.

Grades: Grades will be assigned according to the following percentages:

- A   93-100
- B+  87-89.9
- C+  77-79.9
- D+  67-69.9
- below 60  F
- A-  90-92.9
- B   83-86.9
- C   73-76.9
- D   63-66.9
- B-  80-82.9
- C-  70-72.9
- D-  60-62.9

* All three exams, the paper, and the debate must be completed in order to pass the course.*

Academic Honesty

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and a disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available online at http://life.umt.edu/SA/documents/fromWeb/StudentConductCode1.pdf. I take academic honesty very seriously, and will do my utmost to prevent, uncover, and penalize any form of cheating. Please contact me if you have any questions or concerns about academic honesty.

DSS Students

Qualified students with disabilities will receive appropriate accommodations in this course. Students with disabilities requesting accommodations on exams, papers, or other course requirements should contact me as soon as possible, and must contact DSS in order to arrange for and provide me with a letter of approval for accommodations at least one week prior to the first exam. DSS is in Lommasson Center 154.
