State & Local Government Syllabus

PSc 364 / Spring 2006

Tuesdays/Thursdays 12:20 p.m. - 2 p.m. / Location: LA 342

TEXTS

Primary: State and Local Government 6/e (Ann Bowman and Richard Kearney)

Supplement: The State of The States 3/e (Charles Van Horn) The 4/e of Van Horn is about to be released. It is possible that the 4/e will be sold at the UC Bookstore for this class. If so, the articles will change. This syllabus was made assuming that the 4/e would not be ready. The articles shown below are from the 3/e.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

State Government is one of the most exciting areas in political science. This course examines the evolution and development that has taken place in the states since the founding period. It focuses on the basic institutions as well as a broad spectrum of public policy issues that affect governing in the states. The theme of this course is built on one primary question: Has there been a resurgence of the states? That is, have states increased their capacity to govern, manage change, and innovate in various areas of public policy?

The primary objective of the course is to acquaint students with the complexities of state government and state politics. Local government is not covered in the summer version of the class. Upon successful completion of the course students should acquire considerable knowledge about comparative state government and politics in the states. Assessment is based on students' performance on two exams. Additional learning objectives are provided at PSc 364 Learning Objectives.

New Grading System (Plus/Minus and Credit/No Credit Systems)

The University of Montana now uses a version of the Plus/Minus grading system and a Credit/No Credit system (the CR/NCR replaces the Pass/Fail system used in the past). General education courses must be taken using the traditional letter grade to count toward one's general education requirements. PSc 364 is an upper division political science class; not a general education course.

To accommodate the Plus/Minus system a new grading scale will be used. In PSc 364 grades will be assigned based on the following grading scale. This scale and system is more complex than the system used in the past but rewards As only to those students whose performance in the class is "exceptional."

Grade	Point Scale	Point Range	GPA
A	93-100	8 points	4.00
A-	90-92	3 points	3.67
B+	87-89	3 points	3.33
B	83-86	4 points	3.00

B-	80-82	3 points	2.67
C+	77-79	3 points	2.33
C	73-76	4 points	2.00
C-	70-72	3 points	1.67
D+	67-69	3 points	1.33
D	63-66	4 points	1.00
D-	60-62	3 points	.067
F	59 or lower	N/A	0.00

GRADE WEIGHTS for PSc 364 (without the PSc 300 or PSc 400 writing class)

Exam 1	35%	March 16
Exam 2	35%	April 20
Paper/ or Presentation	30%	Presentations will begin on April 25

GRADE WEIGHTS for PSc 364 (with the PSc 300 or PSc 400 writing class)

For students taking PSc 300 or PSc 400 (either course constitutes a separate, one credit hour class), the writing component is separate. In this case, the grade weights for PSc 364 are the same EXCEPT that students MUST write the research paper, which counts as the whole grade for PSc 300 or 400 but averages into their final grade for PSc 364 as 30 percent. The details of the research paper are described later in the syllabus.

Midterm Exam	35%
Final Exam	35%
Research Paper	30%

There is not a presentation option for students taking the writing course (PSc 300 or PSc 400). The first draft is due April 25.*

The grade weights for PSc 300 or PSc 400 are:

Paper100% (The final grade on the research paper counts as the whole grade for PSc 300 or 400. Students are allowed to re-write and re-submit the paper once)

PROFESSOR: Jeffrey D. Greene

OFFICE: LA 356 Telephone: 243-6181

OFFICE HOURS: T,Th, 2 - 2:30 p.m.

Please note that I am available any time that I am in the office and not in class. Typically, I am in the office on most afternoons until 4 or 5 p.m. Monday - Friday.

REQUIREMENTS: All exams will be given in class. Students are expected to take the exams during the scheduled time. The exams will be subjective (terms and essays). All students will be expected to either write a 10 page research paper or make a 10-15 minute oral presentation on a topic related to state and local government and provide a written bibliography. Typically, public policy areas are the most popular. All topics must be approved by the instructor. The last few weeks of class will be used for the presentations. Note that the paper/presentation is an either/or option. Students may select either option, but presentations must be scheduled during the third week of class. A sign-up sheet will be passed out in class. All papers are due the last day of class prior to exam week. All papers are due on May 4 (Thursday).

Political Science 300 or 400: Students can take this class as PSc 300 or PSc 400 -- the writing class option. You do not have to be a political science major to take PSc 300 but you MUST be a political science major to take PSc 400. This is a one credit hour option that can be used to fulfill the university writing requirement. PSc 300 is the lower division class; PSc 400 is the upper division class. If you opt to sign up for PSc 300 or 400, you must get the approval of the instructor, fill out the appropriate paperwork, then turn the completed paperwork to the department secretary in LA 350 during the first week of class. It is the discretion of the instructor to allow more than 10 PSc 300 or PSc 400 students in any political science class. The requirements to complete PSc 300 or PSc 400 are described below.

All students using PSc 364 as a writing class must be properly signed up for PSc 300 or PSc 400. Students taking this option are required to write an 8 to 10 page research paper for PSc 300 (a 10 to 12 page paper for PSc 400) on a topic related to state and local government. The topic must be approved by the instructor in advance (before beginning the paper). These papers will be graded more rigorously than for students not taking PSc 300 or 400. Students will be allowed one re-write for their research papers. There is not a universally accepted writing style format to follow; writing styles vary from discipline to discipline. The political science department tends to use Kate Turabian's, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations. You do not have to use this writer's manual for this class, but you will likely have to use it for other writing classes with other professors in the political science department. Thus, it is advisable to use the Turabian model. All papers are expected to contain a cover sheet, a bibliography, and appropriate citations. Students taking the writing option cannot sign up for the presentation.

The first draft of the paper is due on Tuesday, April 25. The papers will receive two letter grades; one for content (the quality of the research) and separate grade for writing (composure, grammar, writing style, and clarity). The second grade is a technical grade and the standard that will be used is based on the technical writing style of social science research. That is, sentence structure should be clean, clear, and concise. The goal is to write a short, well-crafted, organized paper that is easy to read. After the first draft is graded, the papers will be returned and students will make any corrections and re-submit the paper by the last day of regular classes (the last day prior to exam week, which is May 4). The papers will be re-graded. The final grade for PSc 300 or 400 will be based solely on the average of the content/writing grade for the final paper. For example, if the final grade on the paper is A/C (92/75), the student will receive a grade of a "B" (the average is 83.5).

If you are happy with your first grade (the paper that is due April 25), you do not have to re-write and re-submit the paper on May 4. This grade also counts as the 10-page paper grade for PSc 364 but is averaged with the two exams.

ATTENDANCE: Students are encouraged to attend class. Poor attendance may affect one's final grade.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

The Provost requires that this statement be placed on all syllabuses at the University of Montana effective the Spring 2006 Semester

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by the University.

All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at: <http://www.umt.edu/SA/VP/SA/index.cfm/page/1321>

SPECIAL DATES:

March 16 (Thursday): I will be out of town attending the Annual Meeting of the Western Political Science Association. This the day for Exam 1. Someone will proctor the exam in my absence.

Spring Break, March 27-31 (Monday -Friday)

Final Exam Week is May 8-12. There is not a final exam in this version of PSc 364 administered during Exam Week. However, papers will be returned during exam week.

New Orleans, the Gulf Coast, and Hurricane Katrina dominated the news. Many claimed that it was a perfect example (and case study) about the weaknesses of federalism and intergovernmental relations. Below is an interesting article about New Orleans before and after Hurricane Katrina.

This article, from City Journal, is an interesting account of New Orleans. It is called "Who is killing New Orleans," by Nicole Gelinas. Another very interesting website is located in Montana. It is called Project Vote Smart. It contains detailed information about candidates in all 50 states at the national and state level.

Houghton Mifflin provides excellent online resources for the Bowman and Kearney text, including exams, outlines, and many links to state-local web sites. Click here to access these resources. (If asked for a username and password, the username/password needed to access certain parts of this website is government/rules). You will find this time line useful for the final exam's major essay. Also, Stateline.org is a great website dedicated entirely to news and information about the states and their local governments. Another website is Piperinfo.com, which contains information about state and local governments.

- Since state nicknames are often mentioned in class as trivia, click here to read more about the origin of the Tar Heel State (North Carolina). State mottos are also interesting. For example, The state motto for North Carolina, "Esse Quam Videri" is Latin for "to be rather than to seem." Click here for a humorous version of the 50 state mottos.
