BGEN 445 – Sustainability Reporting

Spring Semester 2018
College of Business
The University of Montana - Missoula

Section 01 (37392) 2:00 – 3:20 PM TR 119 Gallagher Business Building

Course Description:

This course provides students with an understanding of sustainability reporting by organizations. Topics include an overview of what organizations currently report about their environmental, social, and economic performance, and what organizations should be reporting about their sustainability performance. Regulation of sustainability reporting, greenwashing, and external assurance of sustainability reports are also covered. In addition, carbon trading, carbon taxes, and carbon offsets are covered.

Course Learning Goals:

Upon completion of this course students will understand:

- The importance of reporting on sustainability
- A history of, and the current state of, corporate sustainability reporting
- Regulation of corporate sustainability reporting
- Sustainability reporting frameworks with a focus on the Global Reporting Initiative and the Carbon Disclosure Project
- Understanding the different types of performance indicators used to measure sustainability performance
- How to find information on corporate sustainability reporting
- External assurance of corporate sustainability reports
- The future direction of sustainability reporting
- Greenwashing
- How to evaluate third party certifications of environmental and social performance
- The essential elements of carbon trading, carbon taxes, and carbon offset programs

Course Prerequisites:

Junior or senior standing. The course is also open to graduate students. Graduate students must complete additional work to receive graduate credit.

Additional Course Information:

- This course is only offered in the spring semester.
- Monday, April 2nd is the last day to drop this course without a petition as specified in the University of Montana catalog.

Grades will be assigned based on the total points accumulated in the course during the semester. Plus/minus grading will be used in this course to differentiate students who are close to a grade cutoff.

Final course grades are not negotiable.

Class Participation: Class participation is a function of preparation, skills, attitude, and a willingness to share one’s ideas with the class. Frequent and ongoing evaluation will be made in this area, and credit will be given for progress over the term. A fundamental part of class participation is class attendance. Absence from more than six class sessions will result in a failing grade in the course.

Incompletes: An incomplete grade for the semester is not an option to be exercised at the discretion of a student. In all cases it is given at the discretion of the instructor within the following guidelines. A mark of incomplete may be assigned students when (1) they have been in attendance and doing passing work up to three weeks before the end of the semester, and (2) for reasons beyond their control and which are acceptable to the instructor, they have been unable to complete the requirements of the course on time. Negligence and indifference are not acceptable reasons.

Assignments: Assignments must be completed and submitted when due to receive full credit. English grammar, spelling, and punctuation will be graded.

Cheating: Cheating on an exam or assignment will result in a score of zero on that exam or assignment. Cheating on more than one exam or assignment will result in a failing course grade.
Graduate Increment: Graduate students enrolled in the course are required to write up a short research assignment (group activity) and present an article to the class on a sustainability topic (individual).

Expectations of Students

Personal Electronic Devices: All personal electronic devices should be turned off during class.

Class Attendance: Plan to arrive on time and prepared for each class. Arriving late or departing early is disrespectful to the instructor and your classmates. If you must leave class, please do not return during that class meeting. If you know in advance that you will need to leave class early, let the instructor know before class starts.

Student Conduct: All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by the University. The University of Montana Student Conduct Code specifies definitions and adjudication processes for academic misconduct and states, “Students at the University of Montana are expected to practice academic honesty at all times.”

It is the student’s responsibility to be familiar the University of Montana Student Conduct Code. The Student Conduct Code is available at http://www.umt.edu/vpesa/Dean%20of%20Students/default.php.

Students enrolled in courses offered by the College of Business are also expected to adhere to the College of Business Code of Professional Conduct. This is available at: http://www.business.umt.edu/ethics/professional-conduct-code.php.

Moodle: Information about class assignments, tests, etc. is posted on the Moodle site for this course. You are expected to check the Moodle site on a daily basis.

Exams: During exams everything should be cleared off the desk except calculators, pens and pencils, and extra blank sheets of paper for calculations. Cell phones must be put away.

Exams belong to the College of Business. Keeping exams and/or making copies of exams will be considered a violation of the University of Montana Student Conduct Code.

If a student is unable to take an exam or quiz on the assigned date, the instructor must be notified in advance to see if other arrangements can be made for completing the exam or quiz. Otherwise the student’s grade on the exam or quiz will result in a score of zero.

Final Exam: A specific time and date for the final exam is assigned for this course. The final exam is an integral part of this course and students are expected to take the final exam on the scheduled time and date.

Students with Disabilities: Students with disabilities will receive reasonable modifications in this course. The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students. “Reasonable” means the University permits no fundamental alterations of academic standards or retroactive modifications. Your responsibilities are to request reasonable modifications from me with sufficient advance notice (preferably the first week of class), and to be prepared to provide current verification of your disability and its impact from Disability Services for Students. Please speak with me after class or during my office hours to discuss the details. For more information, visit the Disability Services for Students website at http://www.umt.edu/dss/.
