SHORT COURSE ON MULTIVARIATE STATISTICS TO BE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

A short course in multivariate statistical analysis will be held at the University of Montana February 22-26 and March 1-5 for about two hours each afternoon, starting at 3:30. The fee is $4.

The videotape course will be presented jointly by the Forestry Sciences Laboratory of the Northern Region Forest Fire Research Laboratory and the UM Department of Mathematical Sciences. Acquisition of the course was made possible by the UM Foundation and the U.S. Forest Service, and is sponsored by the Montana Chapter of the American Statistical Association.

Detailed course information may be obtained from Rudy Gideon at 243-2261.
