Preparation: Many students find this to be a rigorous course that demands a significant amount of study time outside of class. Initially you should plan on spending approximately six hours per week reading and studying the text and completing homework problems. This time may need to be increased if you are having difficulty. Note that the concepts build throughout the course and it is important to gain a good foundation early in the semester. Regular attendance and class participation, even though not a formal part of the grade, are usually very important elements of success.
