UM SUMMER DANCE PROGRAM FEATURES TWO GUEST INSTRUCTORS

MISSOULA--

A four-week summer program of ballet, jazz and modern dance taught by two guest professional dancers is planned for June 13 to July 8 at the University of Montana.

Students must be at least 12 years old and may take two to four classes daily, depending on ability and schedule. Classes meet between 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and may be taken for credit. Auditions for class placement will be held on the first day of classes.

Because enrollment is limited, registration forms and a $50 deposit are due by May 13. Cost for two or more classes is $210, or $125 for one class.

Full-time instructors associated professionally with a dance studio or educational institution may register for the teacher workshop and take one or two classes at $100 per class. Teachers are required to assist with the workshops and concert promotion. Instructors interested in the teacher workshop must send a letter of application and credentials to the Center for Continuing Education by May 13.

Joe Goode, who will teach modern technique, has directed and choreographed works off-Broadway and at regional theaters in Florida and Virginia. He has performed in experimental dance/theater productions at the Open Eye Theatre in New York City and has been a member of the Margaret Jenkins Dance Company since 1979.

The ballet and jazz instructor, Helen Coope, trained for six years in England and then spent three years at the Royal Ballet School in London.
