OVERVIEW OF COURSE

The purpose of this course is to expand students’ views of legal systems around the world, and to provide students a context to understand our own legal tradition from a more global point of view. Another aim of this course is to explore the methodological issues with comparing legal rules, systems and traditions, and study the impact that history, philosophy, legal reasoning, and culture have on law, and law’s interplay with non-legal norms.

This course will provide an overview of the various legal traditions of the world, including the customary legal tradition, civil law legal tradition, common law legal tradition, and religious legal traditions, including Islamic law. The case will begin discussing comparative law methodology, and various approaches to methodology and conceptualizing the comparative process. We will then explore the history, philosophy, and functioning of various legal systems within each tradition.

At the end of this course, students will have a better understanding of the major legal traditions of the world, and the legal systems and rules within each tradition. Students will have a global context in which to conceptualize our own legal rules, system and tradition. Through readings, guest speakers from various countries, and lectures, students will come away with exposure to non-western concepts of law and a better understanding of other systems, traditions and rules.

READINGS: Readings will be posted on Moodle. No course pack or textbook is necessary.

GRADING:
Your grade will be determined as follows:

25% Reading Question Responses: Each week reading questions will be posted to moodle.
  • Hard copy answers to these questions must be turned in each week.
  • Responses should be no more than 1 – 2 paragraphs per question.
  • Please include your name and class number (i.e., class #1, #2) on each reading question response.
  • Do NOT email me your response. If you miss a class, bring me your response the following week.

5% Class participation and roundtable presentations: This includes your contributions in class, including roundtable presentations, case presentations, and contributions to class discussions, including your own questions and your ability to answer questions regarding the reading. All students are expected to come to class prepared to answer questions regarding the reading.

Roundtable classes and presentations: There are two Roundtable classes in this course. A small group of students will be assigned one of a number of sources for each roundtable class. Each student in the group will be expected to analyze the source, and the group will work together to present the source to the class during the roundtable class. Students are only responsible for analyzing and preparing a presentation for their assigned source, and are not responsible for analyzing other sources presented during roundtable classes.

All students are required to observe a court proceeding in the Missoula County courthouse or the Montana federal court house in Missoula by November 1 and be prepared to discuss the proceedings observed on November 1 in class.

25% Mid-Term Take Home Essay Exam: I will post the mid-term exam on Moodle on Wednesday, October 23. This is an open book exam, however, students may only utilize their own notes, and may not discuss the questions or answers with anyone else or any other students. DO NOT UTILIZE SOURCES OTHER THAN COURSE MATERIALS TO ANSWER THE QUESTIONS ON THIS EXAM.

All students must turn in a hard copy of their exam answers on Thursday, October 25. Answers are limited to 500 words per question. A good exam response will be well-organized, show that the student had read the materials, reflected on the reading, attended class and synthesized the concepts discussed in class.

45% Final In Class Essay Exam: The final exam will take place on December 13 from 5:30 – 7:30. This is an open book exam, however, students may only utilize their own notes, and may not discuss the questions or answers with anyone else or any other students. DO NOT UTILIZE SOURCES OTHER THAN COURSE MATERIALS TO ANSWER THE QUESTIONS ON THIS EXAM. Answers are limited to 500 words per question. A good exam response will be well-organized, show that the student had read the materials, reflected on the reading, attended class and synthesized the concepts discussed in class.

READING: Each student is expected to come to each class having read the assigned reading for that class. Each student should be prepared to answer questions and engage in discussion regarding the reading materials.
