TEACHERS SELECTED FOR MONTANA WRITING PROJECT

MISSOULA--

Sixteen teachers have been selected to participate in the 1984 Montana Writing Project (MWP), which will start with an institute at the University of Montana June 18-July 13.

During the intensive four-week institute, successful teachers of writing will share their expertise with each other. They will also sharpen their own writing skills and learn how to conduct writing seminars for other teachers in their districts or at professional meetings.

The MWP is a member of the National Writing Project, which has sites in 43 states and in Australia, Canada, England and Germany. MWP summer institutes at UM have trained 90 teacher-consultants for the state since their inception in 1978.

Beverly Ann Chin is director of the 1984 MWP and Henry Harrington is director of the summer institute. Both are members of the UM English faculty.

Teachers selected for the 1984 project, listed by town and school:
