FULBRIGHT COMPETITION OPEN

University of Montana students interested in Fulbright scholarships and other grants from the Institute of International Education must apply by Oct. 19, according to Robert Acker, campus Fulbright adviser.

The grants are for graduate study or research abroad in academic fields and for professional training in the creative arts during the 1985-86 academic year. About 700 awards to more than 50 countries will be available.

UM students who will have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before September 1985 may apply. Information about other requirements and application procedure should get in touch immediately with Acker, associate professor in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures.

Interested students who are not enrolled at UM should write to: Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017.
