Greetings to KGCK at Sidney, Montana, on station's 35th anniversary

September 11, 1961
Length - 2:15 minutes

I am indeed happy and proud to be allowed to join in the celebration of the 35th anniversary of Station KGCK. Thirty-five years ago Ed Krebsbach , an old friend of mine, founded a radio station at Vida, Montana. In 1942 that station was moved to Sidney; Ed and his wife, Keith and the rest of the family have made a great contribution to the knowledge of the people of eastern Montana. It has been an uphill struggle during many of the years which these stations have been in operation. I am happy to join with the many thousands of friends who have been served by this outstanding family and these outstanding stations over the past thirty-five years and to express the hope that the meritorious and valuable work KGCK has done down through the years will continue in the years ahead. It has been a pleasure to know these folks and it has been a pleasure to be able to participate on occasions, personally, and programs over KGCK and it is a real pleasure to know that this outstanding radio station affiliated with the Mutual Broadcasting Company will continue in the years ahead in the same impartial and unbiased manner to give the news to the people of these two great states in a manner which they will understand; in a manner in which they will appreciate it. Good luck to all of you.
