Minor Sports Board

Minor sports, adopted as a part of the regular State University athletic program in the fall of 1928, attracted increased attention this spring with the revival of interfraternity sports competition after nine years of smouldering in the ashes of discontent and disagreement. Harry Adams, director of intramural athletics for men, controls interfraternity athletics, which include baseball, tennis, golf and horseshoes.

The minor sports program of the State University includes boxing, wrestling, swimming, fencing, tennis and golf. Eligibility standards are the same as those of major sports.

FOOTBALL

Varsity Football Team

Handicapped during the first season by newness here and not having had previous experience with the men, Bernard F. Oakes, varsity coach, completed his first year at the State University of Montana. The season was rather discouraging so far as the game scores were concerned but the squad soon gained a reputation as a hard, scrapping, fighting team.

The three high spots in the football season were: The Idaho game, with Montana's phenomenal rally in the last period; the Washington game, when Montana held the superior western team to a 13 to 0 score, and the following Saturday when it beat and trampled the Montana State players by a score of 37 to 6.

Holmberg
Varsity Manager

The State University team underwent a practice in the spring of 1932 and many likely prospects were uncovered for the fall season. With the return of lettermen and men with experience next fall, Montana can look forward to a real football season. Frank Holmberg of Anaconda was varsity manager during the season.

Montana-St. Charles Game

Outweighed, pushed about by a lethargic Grizzly, Mount St. Charles held onto a two-point lead gained the first quarter to defeat the State University for the first time in history, 2-0.

After a bad pass from center, Fox, Montana, attempted to run the ball out but was smashed by Donich, Saint tackle, for a safety.

During the second half, the alarmed Grizzlies opened an air attack but watchful Saints batted the ball down. Only one of 18 passes was completed during the barrage.

The defeat wiped out the Grizzlies' chance for a state football title, the Hilltoppers later defeating Montana State College.

Not yet at the season's height of playing form, the Grizzlies were battered down by Washington Huskies in the second game of the year, 25-0. Bledsoe, Hufford, Wolcott and Franklin each scored a touchdown in the game.

Montana made two threats, the first in the opening quarter and the other in the final minutes of play. On both occasions the Grizzlies rammed and passed their way to the Huskies' 8-yard line but could penetrate no farther.

Crowley, Meeker, Fox and Dailey were outstanding for Montana, while the ends and tackles showed great improvement over the week before.

In statistics, Washington outclassed Montana in every way.

Montana lost a probable touchdown in the first quarter when Caven, halfback, fumbled as he crossed the goal line.

In the last quarter, the Grizzlies shoved Hinman across the line for the first score. A little while later Caven sifted through for nine yards and a second touchdown. Caven missed both kicks.

Two sudden drives by a desperate Cougar in the fourth quarter broke up a hard-fought football game on Dornblaser field, 13-0. Kelley scored the first on a pass and Bendele drove through the Montana wall for the second touchdown.

Montana outgained the Cougars nine downs to seven, threatened twice, but was always stopped just short of the scoring line.

Washington State resorted to but few passes but their accuracy was demoralizing to the Montana team.

The defeat was costly for Montana. Dailey, fullback, sprained his ankle and Crowley, quarterback, suffered a minor concussion.

Montana-Montana State Game

Completely outclassing the ancient rivals from Montana State College, the Grizzlies ran wild to defeat the Bobcats, 37-6, at Clark park, Butte. Four touchdowns by Dailey, one by Caven and one by Lyman, who added the conversion, spelled the victory.

Parke, diminutive quarterback for the Bobcats, escaped the Grizzly defense for the lone Montana State College score late in the last quarter.

A crowd of about seven thousand persons watched the Grizzlies rout the Bobcats. The beating was the second worst that the Grizzlies have dealt to the Bobcats, upsetting all predictions as to the Grizzlies' power.

Oregon State Beavers, calm yet decisive on attack when within scoring range, downed Montana, 19-0, on Bell field. Both teams were on par in rushing and passing yardage. Superior punting and returning of kicks gave the Beavers a decided edge. Both teams made four first downs; Oregon had a six-yard advantage on rushing and one yard on passing.

Several times Montana backs, after trying the heavy O. S. C. line, would suddenly get in the open only to fall down with a touchdown in sight.

The Beavers scored late in the first quarter and twice in the fourth quarter.

Montana-U. S. C. Game

Later national champions, Southern California displayed overwhelming power drives with a fair passing attack in downing the Grizzlies, 69-0. The Trojans' power was unstoppable for any length of time. The Grizzlies were unable to puncture successfully the Trojan line.

Long runs accounted for the most of the Trojan scores. Pinckert raced 81 yards for a touchdown, the longest run of the day. He totalled 110 yards in three plays.

Reynolds was outstanding during the afternoon for his punting exhibition, outclassing that displayed by the men of Troy.

Murray, Peterson, McCarthy and Cox, playing their last game, were outclassed by the sheer power of the Trojans.

Cub football prospects turned out nearly one hundred strong at Coach A. J. Lewandowski's first call, with a wealth of material in sight. Thirty-six men, the largest number to receive freshman sweaters, were awarded numerals at the end of the season. Previously the high mark had been twenty-eight.

Bob Flint,
Manager

The Cubs, in their only game of the season, defeated the Bobkittens, 40 to 6 at Bozeman, November 7. The game was featured by long passes and brilliant runs. Cub stars, Hileman, Vesel, Duffy, Swanson and Rhinehart, on the receiving end, used both Cub and Bobkitten passes to make it a spectacular and one-sided game.

The lone Kitten touchdown came in the last quarter with all of the Cub substitutes playing. Previous to this victory no State University freshman football team had ever won a game at Bozeman.

Grizzly Basketball Season

Montana's basketball season started in a very inconspicuous manner—four straight defeats—but ended the season with a split two-game series here with Montana State College that had about two thousand fans yelling hysterically.

The squad suffered one misfortune after another. Jack McDonald left school; Dick Fox, guard last year, underwent an operation. Then influenza at different times incapacitated most of the team.

The Vandals grabbed two contests at the State University. On the first night they fought hard to win, 44-40, and then turned on the Grizzlies the next night, beating them 41-27. Everett Logan and Al Dahlberg made 13 and 11 points respectively the first night but Idaho found the basket twice too often.

When the Grizzly invaded the Palouse country, he was beaten back 49-22 by Idaho, and 54-25 by Washington State College. Again Montana was overwhelmed twice by the Cougar, who thundered through the Grizzlies, 52-36, and 60-31. Rogers, Gordon and Holsten proved too elusive and accurate.

After a week's rest, the Grizzlies wrestled a game from Gonzaga, 33-27, and then the Bulldogs won the second contest, 41-33. It was Montana's first victory in seven starts and the campus denizens cheered hopefully.

Montana State College assured itself of the retention of the state title as the Bobcats out-scored the Grizzlies, 40-34, and 30-20, but not without a struggle. The second night the score had been tied three times but always the Bobcats had the power to pull away. Wendt of the State College scored 19 points the first game but in the second contest he was shut off with but one point, Buzzetti scoring 18.

The Huskies pounded out two victories over the Grizzlies, 44-16, and 34-14 at Seattle. Once more it was a case of being clearly outclassed, which coupled with the long journey, spelled defeat.

While on the coast tour, Grizzlies dropped two games to Whitman by scores of 29-28 and 38-31. But apparently tired of losing, the State University team ended the tour with a brace of victories over Gonzaga, 31-30 and 28-27.

Just previous to the Oredigger-Grizzly games, Captain Glenn Lockwood suffered an attack of influenza and Jimmy Jones developed heart trouble. But replacements filled in capably and the Grizzlies took two more games, 39-29 in the overtime period, and 45-36.

The State University captured the second game of the Montana State College series here, 43-30, but lost the first, 43-37, before a huge crowd. Both teams played nip and tuck basketball and it was a slam-bang battle all the way. Montana substitutes who were rushed in stood staunchly in the way of the Bobcat offense and in both games they contributed heroic support. Murray, playing his last game for the Grizzly squad, was outstanding at guard. Captain Lockwood was forced to sit on the sidelines on account of illness.

Freshman Basketball

Cub basketball men, under direction of Coach A. J. Lewandowski, averaged $40\frac{3}{8}$ points per game to win eight games during a short season. Defense was a minor part in the game, both guards and forwards taking part in the scoring.

The Cubs defeated Fort Missoula twice and won one game each from the Orange Crush, All-Star, Idle Hour, Alsteens, Missoula county high school and Boettcher quints.

Lehman Fox,
Manager

During the season, the freshmen scored a total of 323 points to 128 points for their opponents. Albert Heller took the scoring honors in six games with Jimmy Brown and Glen Frisbie each being high-point man in one of the other games.

The consistent playing of Naseby Rhinehart, Cal Emery, Albert Heller, William Hileman, James Brown and Glen Frisbie was a great contributing factor in the Cub success.

Varsity Track

Montana swept through the State Intercollegiate track meet with a total of 86 1-3 points in 1931. Montana State College took second with 39 points. A soggy track kept the men from breaking any race records but Lockwood threw the javelin 186 feet 11 inches for a new state record.

Records fell like raindrops in April when Idaho defeated the State University, 71-60, on Dornblaser field. Lockwood boosted the javelin record to 190 feet 9 inches. Nelson lifted his high jump record to 6 feet 1½ inches. and Ruth established a new record in the broad jump at 22 feet 5¼ inches. Idaho set two new records for that state in the shot put and the high hurdles.

Watson won both the mile and the two-mile runs with a smooth style which astonished Anderson, Vandal coach, but pleased Grizzly backers. Montana won the relay in 3 minutes 32.1 seconds.

Lawrence Neff,
 Manager

Montana received nine points from one first, one third and two fourths in the northern division of the Pacific coast conference track meet. Bob Nelson cleared the bar at 6 feet 1 inch for a first but tipped the stick off on a try for a new record at one inch higher. Clarence Watson took third in the two-mile run after a fast sprint on the homestretch. Harold Ruth leaped 21 feet 9¾ inches for a fourth in the broad jump and Glenn Lockwood threw the javelin 187 feet 1 inch for another fourth.

Five records topped as the meet developed into the fastest that has ever been held by northern division schools. Washington took first with $60\frac{1}{2}$ points. Montana placed fifth, just above Idaho.

Ten men received letters for their efforts during the 1931 season. They were: Elbert Covington, Bob White, Don Stevlingson, Clarence Watson, Glenn Lockwood, Harold Ruth, Bob Nelson, Bob Parmenter, Emile Perey and Al Flint. Of this group Covington, White, Watson, Lockwood and Flint are members of this year's track team. Archie Grover and Emile Perey captained the track team last year. This year no captain was chosen.

Under usual weather conditions, Coach J. W. Stewart began to bring his men along rapidly after the first two weeks of practice. The discus men developed the most rapidly of the squad, early in the season throwing the platter more than 130 feet.

As the season opened it appeared that Montana would be strong in at least three events—the mile and half-mile runs and the javelin throw. On his record of the year previous it looked as though Clarence Watson would go far in the conference circles. Lockwood, it was thought, would break his own state record and cause some misery for javelin men in the conference. White, although beaten by Thomas of Idaho by one stride in the half-mile last year with the clock at 2:02.3, has developed into a dangerous runner.

Through an agreement between the coaches, the freshman athletes were allowed to take part in spring football practice and the upperclassmen to compete on the track team. After football was over the freshmen appeared on Dornblaser cinders for their workouts. In this way possible point winners on the track would not be hampered by having to attend sessions of the two sports. Freshmen, also, would get acquainted with Coach Oakes' style of football before they became eligible for the varsity.

A list of this year's track men shows: Sprints—Monte Robertson, Fred Griffin, John Bills; high hurdles—Al Spaulding, Art Caven, Billy Vickerman; low hurdles—Victor Agather, Art Caven and Al Spaulding; 440-yard dash—Elbert Covington, John Bills, Owen Loftsgaarden and Jack White; half-mile run—Bob White, Charles O'Neil and Armin Glenn; mile and Idaho, a dual meet with Idaho here and the northern division of the Pacific coast conference meet.

For the coming year Montana's best prospects lie in Robertson who should score in the broad jump and the dashes, Clarence Watson and Bob White in the distance and middle distance runs respectively. Covington should be able to make some good time in the 440-yard dash and Peterson, Cox and Murray are looking good in the weight events. Bill Hawke should come forward in the javelin due to Lockwood's ineligibility.

This year's track team is the last State University team that will be coached by J. W. Stewart as the vacancy left open by his resignation will be filled by Harry Adams.

Freshman Track

With several Interscholastic Track Meet point-winners from previous years on the Cub track squad, Coach J. W. Stewart was optimistic from the start about their possibilities. The Cubs worked out with the varsity men, going through their paces simultaneously. This, Stewart believed, would give the freshmen a chance to see what they will be expected to do as varsity material.

Kenneth Duff, former Butte Central track star, and Roy Peden, Miles City sprint flash and holder of the 100-yard dash record, waged a continual dual in the sprints. Dave Duncan, winner of the half-mile and mile runs in the 1931 Interscholastic, was outstanding in those races. Rudy Saylor, point winner for Missoula county high school last year in the annual high school meet, showed well against the varsity this year.

The Cubs did not enter into competition with any outsiders. Some of them did, however, enter the interclass and interfraternity track meets.

R. Bell scored for the Grizzlies by taking third in the 100-yard breaststroke and third in the 100-yard free style. The medley relay also went to the State University men. O'Neil placed third in the 100-yard breaststroke and M. Crowley was second in the diving events.

South Hall Basketball

Third West, with a record of five victories and no defeats, was an easy victor in the fourth annual South hall basketball tournament. Six teams, one representing the faculty, were entered in this year's competition which started early in the winter quarter. One team represented the first floor, while second and third floors were represented by two teams, one from each wing.

After starting out the season by receiving defeats from First Floor and Third West, the faculty team, headed by Carl Ross and Ted Rule, came back in its third game to defeat Third East, 73-13. The following evening the faculty slaughtered Second West, 84-6, and in the final game defeated Second East, 31-27, to tie with that team for second place in the final standings. First Floor followed in third place, with Third East just out of the cellar, which was held down by the much-defeated Second West team.

Jimmie Brown was manager of all west wing teams and Lincoln Bohlander managed those from the east wing. James Swango captained the First Floor team; Cale Crowley, Third West; Owen Barnes, Third East; Cal Emery, Second West, and Richard Jones, Second East.

Cale Crowley, Lewis Hartsell, Jimmie Brown, Cregg Coughlin, Elmer Link, Charles Stroup, Bob Lacklen, Kenneth Duff and Merrill Grafton were members of the victorious Third West team.

The participation of a faculty team in intramural basketball was a new event this year and its sensational rise from cellar position to second place caused no little interest in the tournament race. Besides Ross and Rule other members of the team were Kirk Badgley, Carl Blair, E. L. Freeman, Andrew Cogswell and Harry Adams.
