Twenty-three years of unselfish service... twenty-three years following a new trail toward a single goal despite almost insurmountable obstacles and repeated disappointments. Now, with the goal in sight, surely that unflagging struggle and that unselfish service deserve tribute... so, with all the reverence that has come from four years of association with him, we dedicate this 1937 Sentinel to Dean Stone. He has shown the way to greater growth of the State University of Montana . . . he has given us a school of journalism that takes its place high in the ranks of American schools of journalism . . . he has given the world leaders in his chosen profession. In this year of his triumph the staff feels that it is fitting that the student body's deep appreciation of the great service he has rendered be made articulate.

Freshman Class...

Ushered in to become a part of Montana State University amid the annual super-abundance of attention and exhausting activity the class of 1940 assumed its neophytic duties with the usual procedure... elected Jack Hogan, Frances Jensen, Patricia Hutchinson and Marie Trekell as its first year officers... painted the M while the Grizzly battled the Cougar in Pullman... stood in line to give the Greek organizations one of the largest pledge classes in school history... was large enough to give the registrar’s office an extra large fall quarter head-ache... received the ordinary amount of fatalities at the end of each quarter... gave coaches Fessenden and Adams plenty to hope for.
Heavy rushing, the confusion and red tape of matriculation, aptitude and placement exams, painting the M all combine to give the cots of the dormitory appeal to weary frosh... locked doors... interfraternity arguments... passioned appeals... then the freshman dance... ringing the bell after victories... second wind in time for finals.

Publications Board...

Appoints managers and editors... cracks down on campus groups who would solicit ads... advisor and guardian of Kaimin, Sentinel, Forestry Kaimin and Frontier and Midland... main purpose: their safety and their growth. This year a survey of college papers in west and north west... talk and thought of three issues a week.

Store Board...

Associated Student's Store is not small business... details handled by "Mac"... purchases, expenditures, equipment, service and books. Minor item number one... the baseball team. Sudden large increase in size and business presented no little problem for the Board to work out. Busiest place in the Student Union Building theirs to keep going.
Independent Council...

Purpose: to govern the large and self-assertive Independent organization... Membership: all non-fraternity students... Delegates: two from each class and two at large... Activities: groups entered in all activities and competitive intramural sports... Officers: president, Robert Ball... vice-president, Virginia Barrett... secretary-treasurer, June Paulson.

Student-Faculty Senate...

Voted into being last year by student body the campus' infant quasi-legislative group is nearing the end of a one year trial. Purpose: to present a trade market for the exchange of ideas and beefs between faculty and the student body and to bring about a better understanding... Delegates: one from each house... one from each dorm... one from each school or department.
Honorary service organizations picked from the outstanding students of each freshman class to serve during the sophomore year. Silent Sentinel and Mortar Board are big brother and big sister. Tannin-of-Spur is a member of national Spurs. Bear Paws a local with intentions of joining Intercollegiate Knights. co-guardians of the grass. the traditions. co-workers. Aber Day, Interscholastic, Basketball and Football games, all ASMSU activities, Varsity Ball.
Traditions Board . . .

Fall quarter is the biggest for Traditions Board . . . bonfires . . . rallies . . . half-time tricks for the football games . . . the Butte trip and all of its ramifications. Winter quarter goes more slowly with only the minor details of basketball games and the Interfraternity singing contests. Spring quarter not so small . . . Interscholastic track meet and June week give worries to the board. Noticeable in this year’s administration of traditions: bigger and better bonfires, parades definitely successful . . . nearly complete disappearance of one-time most cherished and loved traditions, S. O. S.
School Spirit . . .

Football Captain Swanson tells the crowd . . .

. . . and Noise

are the words of Traditions Board and the Yell King
. . . bonfires and speeches by players before home games . . . the largest of the year before Gonzaga and the Idaho games . . . incidentally every home game a victory.
Coach Doug Fessenden ended his second year as head football coach at the state university with six victories and three defeats. He gave Montana its first conference victory in six years, gave coast teams something to think about and is looking forward to giving them more. When the Grizzly came out of the mountains the conference big-shots hastily went elsewhere to look for games.
Woodburn "Tex" Brown gained the distinction this year of being manager of the "greatest since 1916." Saw to it that water and towels went to the boys as they won the first conference victory in six years . . . trounced a California team for the first time . . . took every game played in Montana . . . surprised and baffled an over-confident Sioux.

Senior members of the squad who hung up their cleats for the last time on November 26 with the bell of victory ringing in their ears are: Carl Swanson (captain), Robert Cosgrove, Clifford Olson, Charles Whittinghill and Norval Bonawitz. Each has successfully carved his name in the hall of Montana grid-greats and when the Grizzly to come plays Rose Bowl they will be on hand to see the "feast of pig".
A Montana sophomore team in a new W. S. C. stadium September 26 was favored by even money bets . . . tribute to Doug’s reputation of last season. Final score of 19-0 did show: Cougar-star Goddard play All-American football . . . Hollingberry’s baffling double shift . . . and experienced W. S. C. team work hard for two scores . . . take the third from a disorganized Grizzly in the closing minutes. The score did not show: occasional brilliance on defense and offense by Dolan, Noyes, and Matasovic . . . Popovich’s consistent ground gaining . . . the whole team fired up in the second quarter only to heartbreakingly lose two scoring opportunities on misplays while the Cougar led 6-0. Grizzly play only foreshadowed greatness to come.
The second leg of the 3000-mile jaunt found the Grizzly on November 3, in an after-dark tangle in the Los Angeles Coliseum... a bigger and more experienced Uclan won 30-0. With memories of a Grizzly-mangled Trojan still lurking... the uncertain Californians kicked 37 yards worth of brilliant field goal... add six on a Montana error before half-time... a nine point lead seemed uncomfortably small. Sparked by hard running and knock-em-down blocking in the second half, the Californians rolled up the score through the trip-tired Montanamen.

The twice beaten Grizzly spent an hour October 10 tearing through Idaho Southern Branch 45-13... a gratifying first home game.
Montana and Gonzaga met on Dornblaser field, October 17 . . . played before a record crowd the most spectacular football game seen in Montana in recent years.

Fast becoming a traditional classic, the 6-0 Grizzly victory surprised an over-confident Bulldog squad . . . did much to heighten the rivalry. Gonzaga rallied desperately in the final quarter with a passing attack that kept spectators on their feet . . . was stopped by the final gun a few yards from the goal. Also stopped was Gonzaga's Karamatic, whose razzle-dazzle runs were the talk of the Coast. Indicative of the contest was the breathless comment of a departing fan, "We won, but they gave us a hell of a scare."
1937 Grid Battles . . .

brought happiness to the Grizzlies at the Don game . . .
twenty minutes involuntary sleep to Vandal captain . . .
many people to Butte for the Bobcat fray . . . Alums and faculty to the banquet . . . worry to Ted Banks' face . . .
warm bonfires.
Despite the lopsided score the Grizzly, as well as the Bobcat played ragged football marked by many irksome mistakes... poor team work... boresome delays.

The annual Grizzly expeditionary force, 700 strong, properly equipped, journeyed from the campus to Butte by special train on October 24 for the thirty-ninth Bobcat fracas... witnessed a definitely stronger University team pile up a 27-0 score. The traditional two-school sideshow... parades... Grizzly and Bobcat hanged in effigy... combination band stunts... distracting invasion of all parts of the mining city by collegians... gave no hint of the sluggish game to come.
The right of the university to its sizable score was only upheld by: Popovich twice dashing fifty yards for scores after dallying in mid-field while interference formed...continuance of scoring by second string...failure of the Bobcat in keeping passes away from Mateosic. State College honors go to: linemen Stroup and Willett...backs Zupan, Olivera and Taylor. Game honors to the outweighed and outclassed Bozeman team which fought spunkily from whistle to gun.

To Montana it was merely a victory...neither team aided its reputation.
The Grizzlies played their only "bad weather" game in ankle deep mud at Corvallis, October 31. It was a slip-splash game headed for a repetition of last year's 0-0 tie until the Beavers maneuvered a second quarter touchdown. It was then "Popo" made national football headlines by returning the kickoff 102 yards . . . touchdown . . . score 7-7. The Beavers went to work the second half and stayed hard at it until they finally scored in the fourth quarter to win 14-7.
Tasting conference blood for the first time in six years, Montana crushed the Idaho Vandal 16-0 on Dornblaser Field, November 14. Contributing to the final score were: Doug's ruse of putting the clever Jenkin where Idaho expected Popovich . . . then reversing the strategem . . .

the Vandal floundered by a Montana score in the first five minutes of play . . . offensive and defensive powerhouse display by the line . . . another field goal from Whittinghill's charmed toe. Adding festivity to the glory of the victory were: campus open-house . . . homecoming . . . extra fancy display of the band between halves . . . the brilliance of the weather.
"The Richest Hill on Earth Greets the Golden Gate." So Butte heralded the first California football invasion of Montana by the San Francisco Dons on November 21. A state-wide crowd was thrilled the first half by: the Grizzly pursuing a break of the game for six points . . . the Dons capturing a half-time lead of 7-6 on the most razzle-dazzle play of the season that started with a pass and carried to the goal with basketball tactics. Montana took charge of the scoreboard the second half by pushing through a wilting Don defense . . . at the final gun it read 24-7.
Victory closed Montana's greatest football season on Thanksgiving Day with the last 1936 scoreboard manipulations showing Montana 13 — North Dakota Sioux 6. Thrills and spills on the slippery hoar-frost covered field kept a capacity crowd unmindful of a biting chill. Confident of adding one more scalp to their success record of nine wins in ten starts, the Dakotans did not expect to see: swivel hipped Pollard matched by Popovich . . . a hard charging line that consistently broke up their plays . . . the errorless blocking that cleared the scoring paths. The glory of the victory was in winning a game so evenly and sportsmanly played. Strong contributions were: the determination of five seniors to win their last game . . . they did . . . Captain Swanson's pre-game announcement the Grizzly would score first and stay one touchdown ahead . . . it did.
under the tutelage of former Grizzly guard John Sullivan ran through a season of strenuous practice . . . a Bobkitten team and Gonzaga frosh team . . . leaving definite indications not unpleasing. More often than not the Varsity was hard-pressed in scrimmage. Bozeman fell 46-0, Gonzafrosh went down 22-0. Outstanding show of season was Stentson’s three field goals in Spokane stadium. Numeral winners: Ends—Bofto, Tabaracci, Hoon, Mitchell, Chesbro, Malahowski, Holliday . . . tackles—Duncan, Shaffer, Kelly, Narbutas, Clawson . . . guards—Von Bramer, Evans, Tate, Bucklan, Norman . . . centers—Lundberg, Inverness, Bradley . . . backs—Stentson, Ogle, Morris, Nugent, Rogers, Ralston, Emigh.
Interfraternity Football . . .

Won this year by Phi Sigma Kappa . . . the game has become so scientific and thrill-filled that crowds almost as large as the Saturday afternoon real-stuff congregations attend the finals and semi-finals . . . the tournament this year also saw the entrance of the water-boy on the scene. Led by Phi Delts, Phi Sigs and Sigma Chis during the early stages the semi-finals left Phi Sigs and Phi Delts with seven wins and one loss apiece . . . Phi Delts having fallen previously to the Gerald avenue squad and the S. A. E.'s having "lucked" out a victory over Phi Sigma Kappa. The play-off of the tie was rough and rowdy as usual with a field goal by Nick Mariana in the third quarter placing the cup on the mantle at 1011 Gerald.
Purpose: to develop leadership and interest in athletics . . . to promote school spirit. Membership: Eligibility is earned by being on the first team in a major sport or receiving equivalent credit in individual sports . . . highest award—an "M" and sweater for 9 team credits. Montana's would-be Atlantas tried soccer for the first time this year... formed a freshman and an upperclass team... played a two-game tournament on the hockey field late in the quarter... frosh took both.

The annual fall quarter inter-class hockey tournament was won by the combined junior-senior team... late in October three teams played round-robin... Mary Ann Christianson captained club-swinging upperclass women to two victories... freshmen fell 3-0... harder work downed second year amazons 3-1.

The fall quarter interclass swimming meet, held December 2, proved outstanding event... Allison Vinal set new university plunge record... all teams ended within a two point range... Junior-senior team won... 48-47\(\frac{1}{2}\), 46\(\frac{1}{2}\).
Still new . . . rapidly becoming settled as an established institution . . . still in the trial and error stage with the errors rapidly going it has at last fulfilled its place . . . the center of campus life. Dances, banquets, headquarters for student administrations . . . now supplemented by art exhibits, hobby shows, literary clubs, discussion forums, camera club, vocational guidance programs . . . chess, checkers, bridge and ping-pong also receive attention.
Overseers Paul Bischoff, E. W. Briggs, Helen Gleason, Dr. Marvin Porter, Carl Chambers, Kenneth Coughlin, Barbara Keith, June Paulson, Ty Robinson (executive committee) advise and pass on money matters, policy matters . . . details left up to manager Badgley and student manager LaBar, secretary and hostess Johnson . . . Mel Rawn, bookkeeper, and Wilbur Wood, student auditor, keep main office in order.
New functions and increases in scope gave rise to the necessity of sub-committees. Mel Singleton, Bill Andrews, Howard Fogelsong, Ward Buckingham and Lt.-Colonel G. L. Smith have functioned during the year as men's affairs committee to take care of numerous programs sponsored for women students. Alberta Wickare, Marion Smith, Edna Helding, Caryl Jones and Mrs. R. H. Jesse were named for the women's affairs committee. Variety of uses for all parts of the building grows.
Hoped for definite program of outside entertainment sponsored by the Student Union led to the forming of a committee: LeRoy Purvis, Peter Murphy, Bill Shallenberger, Alex Tidball and Dr. Edward M. Little . . . problem of publicity gave Ruby Mae Flint, Leslie Dana, Marie Trekell and Andy Cogswell committee positions. Between the law school and the Union Garbo meets comers and goers offers to play . . . Cookie participates in fundamental student body function.
Student Union . . .

House committee, functions in keeping eye on general equipment and furnishings . . . members: Maryalys Marrs, Eunice Flemming, Leroy Seymour, Harold Bartley and Helen Gleason . . . the ballroom committee, advisory group on management and renting of the ballrooms, is made up of Gerald Monegan, Lela Woodgerd and John Gravelle. That the varied activities of Masquers and the Union Building may not get in each other's way Jac Rimel, Kai Heiberg, Betty Sherman, Joimae Pollock and Mr. Harrington form the Masquer coordination committee.
Activities . . .

and entertainment for fall quarter brought "Holiday" from Masquers . . . Beaux Arts with elaborate decorations from Masquers and fine arts department . . . wrinkles to Harrington . . . Jooss ballet to delight the campus . . . business to campus orchestras (Silent Sentinel proxy Whittinghill and cohorts Schmoll and McDowell question trumpeter Williams).
Donal Harrington, taking over the direction of University dramatics, met with only average success in his first major production, Holiday. A higher compliment to his skill was the second major production, Bury the Dead, acknowledged by many campus playgoers as one of the best shows in the past two University seasons. Bringing an atmosphere of professional rigidity to rehearsals, Harrington works hard and expects the casts to follow suit. He should easily surpass his first efforts.
Philip Barry's Holiday, a comedy about lousy rich blue-bookers, was picked by Director Harrington as his first major production with an eye to sounding out actors and audience new to him. The unconvincing plot, with its intended social problem, was lost in the bounce of the rubber dialogue.

Giant-striding Margaret Hendrickson interpreted Linda Seton with so much of her own energetic personality that it was made to seem improbable the heroine would have been bothered by the simple complications of the plot. Her fine sense of timing on the humorous lines, her confidence and experience made the character more than an amusing bluster. Johnny Case, according to script, was supposed to be a mature worldly fellow, but this was not relayed to the audience by Frank Shaw's acting which made the hero more juvenile. Never completely at ease, even his own interpretation failed of conviction.
Small rave notices go to Will Baucus who made the most of his opportunities to sparkle, to Pat Rutherford who balanced his performance by equaling it, and to Koyne Osborne whose smooth ability was a pleasure to watch.

The audience attending Holiday was so unresponsive that those who chuckled at the gag lines chuckled alone and sat thankful for the protecting blackness of the house. It was a difficult burden for actors who, expectantly pausing for laughs and correctly so, were forced to rush along with the subsequent feeling they had misfired.

Eunice Pinkney, Bob Gail and John Alexander did the champagne comedy, Farewell Supper, with the proper amount of bubbling sophisticated exuberance to take honors for the best fall one-act play.
Tune Detective . . .

Sigmund Spaeth with whimsical dissertation left audience much impressed by seriousness of sentences . . . amused, entertained, taught much. His grace and presence and easy display of personality won him words of praise from town and campus. The Jooss European Ballet, something new to the campus, also won praise . . . the presentation of International prize-winner "The Green Table" nicely weighted performance of comedy, romance, satire and drama without benefit of words . . . graceful movements of individuals and routines kept audience in awe.

Jooss Ballet . . .
Long noticeable has been the absence of a costume ball on the Montana campus... long felt has been the desire to establish such a traditional function. Much labor on the part of Masquers and the fine arts students brought...

A Novel Advent...

Beaux Arts Ball, given to the students for the first time December 4... paper covered the walls of the gold room, intricate "murals" depicting the arts covered the paper... the dance... the masque... the chisel and the brush... the lute and the lyre provided the motif... costumes covered more or less territory. Combined forces of campus organizations sold many tickets... Masquers helped students acquire costumes by opening an agency for a Spokane firm... better than ordinary publicity... curiosity aroused by secret comings and goings of students who did murals... an unusual success for a first timer.
Varsity Ball...

Showing the expected amount of growth the other infant of the fall quarter traditional terpsifunctions took its second bow... second of what fond sponsors, Bear Paw and Spur hope will be an indefinitely long string of annual bows... caused some tongue clucking... validity of certain ensuing acts at question.

Debut, fall of 1935... designed on the more-money-for-the-athletes basis... patterned after similar functions in other schools... likewise arrived when need for all-school fall dance was felt. First appeared as a semi-formal... introducers intended it to become formal when growth insured existence and tradition made attendance dependable... justification for leap to studs and corsages not recognized by second-time sponsors... justification for change of proceeds tradition not recognized by others than sponsors.

A. J. Lewandowski...

The 1937 season... Lew's last at Montana... for he returns to his own... Nebraska U. He goes highly recommended by his basketball successes... by the respect of head football coaches whom he served as assistant.

ATHLETIC BOARD...
Mid-Western Tour...

Sardining into two cars, nine basketball players and Lew started a five-game tour of the mid-west, December 16. The first stop was Nebraska University... two small-town night stops and 700 miles away.

The Cornhuskers proved too tall... too experienced for a Montana team that could keep things interesting only by their scrappiness. "Six-foot-six" Huskers consistently tipped 'em in over the top of tallest defensive Grizzlies to win 53-39. Thomson... finding an early season shooting eye... proved to be the Montana mainstay in scoring.

At Peru Normal the Grizzlies... reversed the result of the Nebraska battle by winning 51-37... evened the game score for the trip. Tobin, Miller and Chumrau... alternating at guard... put on the pressure at the right times to disorganize the Peru offense.

"Should have won"... was unsatisfactory shower room consolation at Wabash. Inconsistent at the basket... harrassed by a defense that proved impregnable at the critical points . . . Montana was short-ended 36-40 in a nip-tuck tangle. After the game Mariana said, "Judging from the way that fellow stuck to me, he must have been told I was an All-American."

Race horse basketball at Evansville . . . where the Grizzlies outran and out-scored every Purple Ace threat to win going away . . . A slippery floor made the game hilarious for spectators . . . baffling for players who met with plenty of hot temper work in the tumbles.

Purdue . . . class of the Big Ten . . . used players liberally to trounce the Montanamen with a record score of 68-25. Exceptionally fast and mercilessly accurate on a night when the Grizzlies were in poor form, Purdue found little resistance either defensively or offensively.

On to Chicago! Grizzlies relaxed from training regimen long enough to stalk the city streets . . . flavor cosmopolitan life . . . then back to the high mountain haunts. Westward ho!
Bobcat Series...

The first week-end after the tour found the Grizzlies making their Montana debut in Bozeman. No match for a "red-hot" Bobcat squad that could throw baskets from any angle on the floor. Grizzlies lost 60-25. Insulated but not disheartened, the Grizzlies determined to win the second. Going stride and stride with the Cats until the closing minutes, they made a surprising comeback. But, with basketball energies scattered over 4000 miles of mid-western tour, they couldn't match the Bobcat finishing drive and lost again 31-40.

Bobcats journeyed to Missoula to close the University season. Grizzlies ball-hawked and hustled all the way, still lost the third by six points. Haunted by Rocky Mountain championship ambitions, Breeden, choosing to save his first team, used second string Bobcats through the final game. A dispirited University team playing at half speed took over the offered game 42-36. Only the skin of victory.
W.S.C.-Idaho Series . . .

Rising to form . . . Montana split a two-game series with Idaho at Missoula. Both teams showed polished floor work . . . fast on offensive . . . close on defense. Last minute drive . . . previously lacking . . . won the first for the Grizzlies, 32-29. The second game required overtime. Montana seemed bound for a last minute victory when an Idaho Merriwell . . . made a heroic heave from the corner as the gun sounded . . . "swished" away the game by one point.

At Pullman, the W. S. C. supporters . . . stirred uneasily . . . cheered with misgiving . . . remarked the surprising strength of a Montana squad that was busily demonstrating they were no "breather". The demonstration kept the score tied until the last three minutes . . . finally succumbed to Cougar long range desperation shooting. Final . . . 38-44. A wiser . . . better prepared W. S. C. squad came to Missoula to play the second game. Grizzlies did an iron man stunt, playing five men against the entire W. S. C. squad . . . lost 30-46.
Gonzaga-Cheney Series...

Against the Gonzaga Bulldogs in Spokane . . . Grizzlies built an assuring lead . . . tried to coast to the end. Gonzaga's Yandle had another idea . . . personally engineered a rally that put the skids under the coasters . . . result was a two-point loss for Montana. Wasting no opportunity at Cheney the next night . . . Grizzlies won 38-34. At Missoula the Spokane result was reversed with Cheney winning and Gonzaga loosing. A superior Montana squad should have done better than a split series with these two opponents.

The Grizzly gobbled at will the unresisting small college competition in Montana . . . clean sweeping the home and home series with Dillon Normal and Montana School of Mines.

Playing consistently on rebounds, Bill Lazetich . . . sophomore forward . . . garnered high point honors for the season. Lost through graduation . . . Tom Tobin's experienced guarding . . . Holmquist's relief at center. Coming up . . . tall, speedy freshmen . . . inexperienced but accustomed to winning . . . new coach "Jiggs" Dahlberg. Glancing forward . . . success.
Frosh Basketball...

Standing: Roseborough (manager), Trosper, Shaffer, Shields, Ogle, Rolston, Galles, Murphy.
Seated: Ryan, Merrick, Nugent, Stentson, Gregory, Thompson.

Freshman coach Jimmy Brown "mented" the youngsters squad through an undefeated season... developed several ultra hopefuls for the new head basketball coach Dahlberg... provided both flashy and dull hooping for fans in curtain raisers.

Outstanding feat of frosh squad this year was the double defeat of Kalispell Standard Oilers, much-touted as one of strongest independent teams... Whitefish Ramblers likewise fell ignobly... Butte Business College took defeat both at home and in Missoula. Noted as hopefuls were Nugent, Ryan, Shields... and others.
University minor sportsmen captured again the state intercollegiate tournament... this year held at Bozeman, March 12, 13. For the first the boxing division was taken by others than Grizzlies... local boys cleaned up in wrestling and swimming to finish with 85 points... Bobcats 77... Miners 21.

Ned Clarke battered out only Grizzly victory in ring... Leland Yates, Hugh Kennedy, Walt Westman and Harold Lewis took state titles on mat... Bill Holt, Bob Chichester, Carl Burgess, Jack Hughes each took first places in swimming events. Missoula hopes who failed in boxing: Carmody... three rounds draw, and extra... McAuley... opponent butted... gash over eye could not be closed... technical knockout... McLaughlin and Gillogly... no alibi.
Bowlers battered pins at the downtown alleys for dear old (name your own) during the winter quarter . . . with several new score records being set . . . Phi Delta Theta coming out on top. The winners took the lead early and rolled on through to victory . . . Saturday mornings the alleys resounded with the clatter of the balls . . . score keepers marked up day, game, and individual high scores.

Phi Sigma Kappa, winners in football, also took the basketball championship . . . smashing through a lead held by the Independents and through favor margin given other team . . . taking every game but the one with the Sig Eps in stride they batter their opponents with fast scoring that kept score keepers busy. Team that ended third from the bottom upset them once . . . thereafter furious playing was mettled by caution. At the finish the teams stood as follows: Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Chi, Independents, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Lambda.
Seated: Ralston, Beal, Vadheim, Cliff Olson, Pomajevich, Whittinghill, Mata-sovic, Mariana, A. Petersen, Forte, Chumrau, Miller. Standing: Lazeti-ich, Vogel, McDonald, Brown, P. Peterson, Shields, Dolan, Gedgoud, Holmquist, C. Olson, Smith, Lundberg, Golden.

M Club...

Purpose: To advance Grizzly athletics and create student interest in Montana teams. Membership: All students who have been awarded one of the coveted "M's" in a major sport—football, basketball or track . . . senior managers in these sports are also eligible for membership following their tenure of office. Activities: M club sponsors an annual mat and mitt tournament featuring the competitively-picked cream of the university's boxers and wrestlers . . . This, with several mixers a year, finances the M Club scholarships awarded to outstanding Montana high school athletes. Officers: president — Charles Whittinghill . . . vice-president—Carl Swanson . . . secretary-treasurer
—Joe Pomajevich.
March 2 culminated a long period of training and eliminating matches when 22 boxers and wrestlers slugged and groaned for university championships and a cup . . . the cup went to Ed Holiday for his performance in winning the heavyweight boxing crown . . . upsetting pre-bout dope that favored Perry Stenson . . . the boxing championships went to:

Ned Clarke, bantamweight boxer . . . Chuck Gillogly, welterweight . . . Ken Leibach, middleweight . . . Roger Lundberg, lightweight . . . Holiday, heavyweight. Wrestling championships were gained or retained for the year by: Lee Yates, 125 pound . . . Walt Westman, 135 pound . . . Harold Lewis, 145 pound . . . Al Muchmore, 155 pound . . . Frank Stejer, 190 pound . . . And exhibition by last year cup winner McCauley and local boy Sommers was disappointing to the crowd.
Women's Sports...

In the winter . . . individual sports . . . ping-pong . . . shuffleboard . . . basketball . . . for which points are awarded individuals for the granting of M sweaters and the giving of the sorority trophy. Basketball tournaments . . . interclass and intersorority. Montana M women are kept busy supervising and partaking . . . arranging schedules and umpiring affairs.

M women . . . Lewis, Swanson, Bartley, Davis, Justiss, Berland, Christensen, Stuckey, Olson, Paulson, Morrow.
fired at will in competition with other teams of the Garden City league, three Fort Missoula teams, two Forest Service teams, a city team and the University men (winners this year) . . . placed third in the tournament . . . received R. O. T. C. awards and W. A. A. points towards letters.

Individual . . .
Winter quarter always makes the pool popular with the women... ping-pong, of the individual sports, always attracts the greatest number of participants... gets the most attention in arranging of practice hours and schedules.

As winter quarter drew to a close plans got under way for Montana mermaids to enter swimming competition with Puget Sound, Mills, Oregon and Oregon State, Redlands, U.C.L.A., California, Utah, Washington. Those who placed on the tentative team and began practice were: Pat Driscoll, Pat Rutherford, Eleanor Reidy, Jeane Mueller, Joy Gerharz, Janet Ottman, Katherine Parkins, Catherine Mills, Mary E. Sandford, Altha Stuckey, Jean Brown, Frances Jensen, Elaine Baskett, Alice Rice, Charlotte Fritz, Pat Benson.
Women's groups are strongly governed in rushing and pledging matters by Panhellenic council... close coordination with the national administration allows much constructive work towards building up friendly feelings between houses and the strength of sororities on the campus. Dictorial powers of the group not being misused, the advantages of its work to the houses have made it a strong group on the campus.

The combined forces of the men's social organizations . . . quasi legislative in many respects . . . actual in rushing rules and competitive rules . . . has taken a place on the campus of one of the major champions of student affairs . . . attempted to organize fight for removal of tax on fraternity property . . . to reduce prices at Wilma theater . . . to get changes made in health service (this last year) . . . talk over such things as politics . . . the problems of the individual houses.

Phi Sigma Kappa representative Howard Fogelsong was president during the first two quarters of the year . . . his withdrawal in spring quarter left Alpha Tau Omega representative Carl Chambers in position of acting president.

the actors in the pit, waiting their calls walk and talk off the jitters . . . after all amateurs can't be expected . . . Argentine Baritone Silveira inspects the SENTINEL and thinks of L.S.U.
Convocations Committee...

The child of Central Board's addition to ASMSU activities... convocations committee was appointed first time this year... functioned throughout year in arranging programs for Thursday morning relief sessions and producing Varsity Varieties. First year's work considered successful... first year's convocations accepted well and assured of continued existence.
To help make up for the loss to the campus of the once traditional Varsity Vodvil, the convocations committee, in conjunction with the Student Union building, produced, in winter quarter . . .

Varsity Varieties . . .

a novel program based on the amateur hour idea with prizes going to the winners . . . three acts of continuity razzscript thrown in. An expected flop that was received with creditable applause . . . Will Baucus was master of ceremonies . . . awarded prizes (decision by judges) too . . .
to John Gravelle, baritone . . . Watson Dutton and Dorothy Ann Baile, operatic duet . . . Tom White and Augie Zadra, accordion duet . . . dancing, singing, imitations, hill-billies and the take-off on "Girl's Dormitory" with acting honors going to Frank Stanton, John Pierce, Eleanor Miller for their parts in play that was weak and funny in parts . . . Tom Gedgoud for his train whistle . . . Popovich for his singing (?). much touted that the orchestra managed nicely to drown out. The campus did not know quite what to expect . . . is not yet sure it got what it expected . . . is satisfied that it was at least worth the price (two-bits).
Irwin Shaw's Bury the Dead, a war satire based on the very imaginative idea of six dead soldiers protesting from the grave against the stupidity of war, proved to be the kind of exciting propaganda so easily adaptable to the stage. The author's flare for dialogue made many parts highly actable and some speeches extremely forceful with poetic simplicity.

Monk Stanton, as a "damn" tough soldier with a delicate sense of smell, ("Bury 'em, they stink!") was the star performer by general acclaim. Koyne Osborne gave intense meaning to his part as Private Driscoll who spoke the whole philosophy of the play. Clarettia Dunn did her brief interlude with near-professional skill to make Martha Webster the most convincing character in the play. There were probably many others in the large cast.
of 35 who gave fine speeches they will never get credit for because they couldn't be heard past the footlights.

Give A's to the backstage crew who seem to be preserving on the new stage their Little Theater traditions for technical excellence.

The Sabine men lost the Sabine women, but they took the whole show in exchange. Gerald Evans, brain-storm leader of the short-skirted Sabine men, shouldered the burden of the play, after it had tittered through the first act, and personally carried it to new heights for laughs per minute. The one forward and two backward lock-step march of the Sabine men, symbolizing that discretion is one step the better part of valor, was the most humorous scene of the year.
Purpose: To further dramatics at Montana State university. Membership: Students outstanding in campus dramatics. Fifteen Masquers points necessary for pledging, 30 for initiation, and 65 for membership in Masquer Royal. Activities: One major production and a bill of one acts each quarter as well as invitational performances cast, directed, and produced by Masquers Royal. The annual spring picnic. Beaux Arts Ball. Officers: president—Lela Woodgerd, vice president—Kai Heiberg, treasurer—Margaret Hendrikson, secretary—Richard Pope, historian—Jac Rimel.

Montana Masquers...
Two young artists still seeking their places in the spotlight were brought in during the quarter by the Student Union building. Edna Nardini, a Montana girl with the technique of a genius . . . gave listeners Chopin backwards and forwards . . . Scriabine and Villa Lobos . . .

Silveira, from the Argentine . . . spent three days on the campus . . . won many friends with his naïve enthusiasm for everything American . . . a baritone of quality . . . operatic ambitions . . . as good at acting his songs as at singing them.

The Russian Imperial Singers . . . something new to the campus . . . more delightful than anything before . . . six voices like bells . . . a bell song that kept the audience in open-mouthed awe . . . as did the whole performance . . . spokesman Slepoushkin cracked hearty jokes about his companions, made semi-vaudeville that the crowd accepted as as good as the rest . . . a delighted campus still talking.
The Sentinel Goes to a Party . . .

where hob-nails are in style . . . the guest of honor brings his ox . . . smokes a pipe . . . is 16 feet tall . . . his ox 42 axe handles and a plug of tobacco between the horns . . . incidentally the SENTINEL catches dancers at a more dignified affair . . . coming down the stairs for cokes . . . Gregg Coughlin was chairman of the committee that made this year's dance one of the best yet.
Forester's Ball...

Most coveted of jobs to forestry students is that of Chief Push for the annual ball held during the winter quarter. This year Orville "Dusty" Sparrow got the job... and no small job it is... to supervise the cutting of the trees, the hauling of the trees... the turning of the gymnasium into a forest and logging camp... the boxing room into a saloon... the wrestling room into a forest primeval... the working out of novel plans for programs, decorations, tickets, publicity for the year’s biggest and most expensive dance.
of all the creatures of cutting and conservation is each year sent an invitation . . . from his home by the North Pole he carries on correspondence for a period with the Chief Push, impersonal enough to make the Kaimin columns . . . as do tales of his exploits and adventures.

Following the inevitable acceptance of giant from the north and his blue ox [forty-two axe handles and a plug of tobacco between the horns] Babe . . . the log-wheels and sign on the oval . . . signs on all the trees . . . and finally the campus awakens one morning to find that Paul and Babe have left footprints incredibly far apart all over the campus. The dance . . . the crowd . . . the costumes . . . flashy and fancy . . . few stay away . . . the Chief Push sighs and starts tearing down the hundreds of pine trees. The biggest without question . . . and to the Push the biggest job.
Druids...

Purpose: The promotion of unity between the School of Forestry and its alumni... the development of fellowship between upperclassmen and faculty members. Record: Founded in 1922. Membership: Forestry School faculty, juniors and seniors who are outstanding scholastically and in extra-curricular activities... Honorary members are chosen from departments associated with the Forestry School.

Activities: Ritualistic initiation of members based on old Druid rites secretly performed each fall and spring at the "Sacred Grounds of the Druids" in Pattee Canyon. Officers: president—George Gable... vice-president—Lloyd Bernhard... secretary—Harold Lewis... treasurer—Ted Falacy... custodian of the records—Richard Williams.
Forestry Club...

Purpose: to further the interests of Forestry in Montana State university by creating opportunities for interchange of views in Forestry or allied subjects . . . to disseminate knowledge of the purpose of Forestry, its ideals and achievements. Membership: Enrolled students and faculty members of the School of Forestry. Record: One of the oldest organizations on the campus . . . organized in 1910. Activities: Forester's Ball, of course . . . fall and spring hikes featuring climbing of trees, chopping and sawing of logs . . . a smoker given as thanks to the advertisers who support the Forestry Kaimin . . . the Loan Fund which gives financial aid to members. Officers: president—Arnold Bolle . . . vice-president—Lou Demorest . . . secretary—William Wagner . . . treasurer—Arne Nousianen.
the home ec department has started playing house with a nursery this year . . . the business office of the Union building collected as much money as ever during the quarter . . . Lew and the Mrs. were surprised by the cameraman at a dance . . . DeLoss Smith posed . . . the grade curve went higher . . . and higher . . . the most strenuously patronized activity was throwing snowballs for Garbo.
First into the spotlight this year . . . complete auxiliary of Kappa Kappa Psi, band fraternity, and sponsored by that organization . . . the Band Club is open to all who play in the Grizzly Band. Meetings and social functions for the group . . . become devoted to talking over the trips, planned and taken . . . R. O. T. C. parade and the band in full maroon uniforms presenting half the show and all of the music . . . Sarge Peterson and his twirling stick . . . trip to Butte for game . . . combined Bobcat-Grizzly band tricks at half time . . . tricks on Dornblaser . . . shaking rafters in the gym during basketball games.

First Row: Cunniff, Morrow, Hill, Barrett, Mueller, Young, Burns, Garlington, Hess, Rosholt, Pease, Wilson, Patterson, Edwards.

Men singers, coached and directed by Dean DeLoss Smith, present frequently their accomplishments (not small) to the student body and the townspeople. Yearly appear on the stage of the Wilma theater. Often sing over local radio station. Entertain at convocations. Practice hard and join with women's glee club in singing and picnicing at Stevensville.

The female counterpart, much larger, just as accomplished, also directed by Dean Smith, has won acclaim at convocations and other functions by renditions of the works of both old and modern masters. Singing in Stevensville is done for the benefit of organ fund.
Band...

As a backfield must have a line and a line would be worthless without a backfield so a school must have a band... a part of the Grizzly battalion... football, basketball or R.O.T.C... directed by Stanley Teel... this year larger than ever... offered as an alternative to military training.

Symphony Orchestra...

Although membership is not limited to University students comparatively few outsiders come in... A.H. Weisberg directs the thirty-eight players... has formed a smooth functioning unit that gives several concerts a year well received by students and townpeople... provides music for commencement, other events.

Debate and Oratory...

Offering training and experience and (now dubious) recognition by Central Board to all students interested, Montana debate teams are formed under the direction of Professor E. H. Henrikson of the English department... this year the squad of twelve debated the question of minimum wage and maximum hours for labor with State College, Dillon Normal, Mines and Carroll... won second in the Northwest junior college tournament... second in state tournament. For those individualists who do not feel the need of team mates awards are offered for the best speeches... the Aber award contest and the Peace Oratorical contest. Coaching, arranging schedules and finding money for trips provides time-taking job for Mr. Henrikson... keeping speech trained and correct, logic logical and untangled and arguments straightened out and understood in the minds of the debaters are parts of thankless task.
Phi Sigma...

Purpose: To promote scientific research and discussion among biology students. Record: Lambda chapter of this honorary fraternity was established here in 1921. Membership: Biology majors with the required scholastic standing and with sufficient interest and ability in a particular field to go on into future research. Activities: Bi-weekly meetings with discussion by students and professional scientific men. Officers: president—Karl Conklin...vice-president—William Trosper...secretary—Frank Stanton...treasurer—Helena Eck.

Pre-Medics Club...

Purpose: the cultivation of medical science and literature...elevation of standards among pre-med students of Montana...the furnishing of information regarding medical schools. Membership: all pre-med, pre-nursing and medical technology advances...social hours after meetings. Officers: Marcus Nichols—president...Medical students...Activities: speakers from off the campus...reports by students on latest...Louis Brown—vice-president...Thomas Ogle—secretary...Fred Honeychurch—treasurer...Dr. Meridith Hesdorffer is the sponsor of the club.
Wesley Club...

Purpose: To form an organization for Wesley-Methodist university students. Activities: Sunday evening social and devotional meetings, firesides, quarterly banquets, the spring quarter seminar at the Flathead Lake Methodist lodge, to outside towns go deputations featuring plays, debates and discussions. Officers: president—Howard Doyle, vice-president—Russell Anderson, secretary—J. Wayne Rasmusson, Treasurer—Donald Whitsitt. Wesleyan upperclassmen are eligible for assistance from the Foundation's student loan fund.

Newman Club...

Purpose: To promote unity among Catholic students and strengthen the ties of faith. Membership: Open to all university students. Activities: Study clubs review Catholic drama and magazines, the history of the Church and evolution from the Catholic viewpoint, sausage breakfast followed by meetings on the second Sunday of each month, a party each quarter, with the spring Pilgrimage. Officers: president—Marybeth Clapp, vice-president—French Kellog, secretary—Peggy Donahoe, treasurer—Robert Van Haur. Father Hugh A. Faley is sponsor of the group.
Home Economics Club...

Purpose: to discuss the fields of home economics and aid in showing individual members to which one they will be best fitted. Membership: majors and minors in home economics. Activities: one social function each quarter... the club is affiliated with state and national organizations of the American Home Economics Association.

Officers: Wilmina Kurth—president
... Ena Ostberg—vice-president
... Betty Jane Frahm—secretary-treasurer... the club is sponsored by Miss Helen Gleason.

Forestry Rifle Club...

Thanks to the R. O. T. C. department they have a convenient place to develop their riflcraft talents... regular practices are held during the year in the R. O. T. C. indoor range. The club is a member of the National Rifle Association and submits annual reports of firing scores to the Director of Civilian Marksmanship. The membership of the club is large year after year despite pictorial evidence to the contrary.
Another Quarter . . .

ends . . . heavy activities gone . . . snow turning to slush, to water . . . signs of spring with Whitcomb reading the paper in the sun . . . Cookie still sleeping . . . Singleton thinking of baseball . . . Student Union steps gaining in popularity . . . Ranger’s dream just a memory as Mount Sentinel and the leaves shade into green.
Green . . . and cool shadows. Warm breezes replace Hell Gate gales and the campus dons its best clothes. Activities, numerous but not blustery . . . Aber Day, clean up and elections . . . R. O. T. C. drill while the campus watches . . . picnics . . . hikes . . . tennis . . . golf . . . baseball . . . track, Interscholastic, decorations and high school visitors swarming the campus . . . white clothes and all the campus colorful and alluring . . . summer heat and tests . . . a year ended . . . students hurry away for vacations to while or work away the weeks while Mount Sentinel and the Campus wait patiently again for the time when they shall shade into brown.
Green . . . and Cool Shadows Spring Comes... to the Montana campus and brings with it soft rains . . . warm spring sunshine . . . spring picnics in Montana's lake region . . . leaves that luxuriously frame the buildings of the campus beautiful . . . soft billowing clouds that make study hard and naps in the open under trees easy . . . Montana truly dressed up.

Senior Class . . .

Governing the class through the last year . . . when activities all crowd into the last few weeks and a mad scramble to keep up on grade points and get incompletes worked off make the members of the class truly class conscious . . . the lordly seniors who four long years ago were as green as the rest . . . now they know all the answers . . . now they are ready for the battle with life . . . the disappointment of finding themselves only small shots their freshman year akin to the disappointment of finding that although the world is their oyster the shell must be cracked. Yet . . . the world is theirs, to them it belongs and wise old teachers smile and wish them well as they point their stars toward the future . . . towards forever.

Officers
Senior Honoraries...

Mortar Board...

Purpose: Recognition of senior women of high scholarship, leadership, and willingness to serve the university. Spring Mondays....

Army drill... anxiously awaited by freshmen and sophomores all week... three hours... drill, lecture, extended order drill... Co-ed Colonel Swanson inspects the battalion... the flag and the M. compulsory training to all freshmen and sophomores . . . band the alternative . . . overtly everyone beefs . . . covertly all wish they could, too, wear a saber and Sam Brown . . . advance courses optional . . . leads to commission in Reserve Officers Training Corps . . . Cadet Colonel Robert Larson and Lieutenant Colonel G. L. Smith watch the color guard pass.
MONDAY DRILLS . . .

on the Oval attract large crowds . . . the band gives music and color . . . battalion review and once during the quarter inspection by the commanding officer of the Ninth Corps Area . . . the rifle team . . . winners in Garden City League . . . trounced Aggie team during winter quarter.
CO-ED COLONEL . . .

Esther Swanson, the first in the history of the battalion . . . picked last spring for Military Ball . . . also first. Two traditions that took root in one year and are heartily accepted by the school. Color and glamour lent to the R. O. T. C. . . . the ball is sponsored by Scabbard and Blade.
a national fraternity of student officers . . . for fellowship and cooperation . . . members picked by chapter from advance course students . . . best contribution to student affairs: Military Ball . . . in two years the most important spring dance. Members, as seen above: Standing: Bergeson, Frisbee, Sanon, J. Miller, McDowell, Nelson, Smith, Van Haur, Sjaholm, Singleton, Chumrau, Quam, Conrad. Seated: Paulson, Vladimiroff, Larson, Conklin, Worden (Captain), Whittinghill, Price, Wickes.
Spring Clean-Up . . .

in honor of Daddy Aber . . . hushed expectancy for a week . . . no one knows just when . . . the work list . . . the bell in early morning . . . visitors at the houses . . . elections . . . lunch . . . a clean campus . . . high court . . . everybody works.
Aber Day . . .

The campus is cleaned . . . lawns are raked . . . gutter gangs take leaves out of road . . . the football field, the track, all spots given a general working over . . . then lunch for all . . . high court with every body on the pan . . . law school seniors behind the eight ball.

Traditionally given to a three-letter man, the job of Aber Day manager brings work with honor. Cliff Olson, three years a foot- ball back, was appointed by Central Board this year. The making out of the work list is the biggest job . . . every name in school hidden in paragraphs of names . . . every one searching for theirs and cursing the manager for not putting them on the crew with so and so. A big job . . . little thanks after it is all over.

... job brought work with honor.
"Boy and Girl" politicians vie for students' favor and offices... seen in multitudes at primaries on Aber passing out cokes and cigars.

Elections...

sometimes egg throwings make the elections more interesting... frequent primaries are hotly contested... always they are accompanied by the cross on the ballot and the double cross... "you vote for me and I'll vote for you"... "put the power on the throne not behind it"... and people get accused of the most horrible things, during and before...
Panhellenic Ball...

Put on by Panhellenic council each spring... until Military Ball the best of the spring quarter dances... a formal that lives up to the name, only... where tickets do not cost... but there is still hope for a spring Co-ed.

Junior Prom...

little more than an all-school mixer is the annual Junior Prom... a degenerated tradition that is held so late in the quarter that it has lost attractiveness... pretender to the throne of June week activities, last year same as before.
Interscholastic . . . .

The campus overrun with visiting high school students . . .
decorations . . . crowds to meet the trains . . . spring rushing . . .
teas . . . dances . . . all that goes with it . . . three days of festivities and high school athletes thronging Dornblaser.
Interscholastic . . .

Each house decorates to welcome high school visitors . . . prizes are given by ASMSU for the best decoration . . . lights and colors add attraction to Gerald and University and surrounding territory . . . streets crowded evenings with sight-seers inspecting decorations . . . Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Chi last year's winners.

Two days of track and field competition . . . Dornblaser at its best . . . hundreds of athletes in colorful sweat suits . . . dashes . . . hurdles . . . distance runs . . . relays . . . field events going on at the same time . . . the crowd is kept busy for two afternoons keeping up with the events . . . the three ring circus of athletics . . . the largest of its kind in the country.
Won again by Butte last year the thirty-fourth Interscholastic meet ran according to schedule . . . noticeably abandoned was the "queen" idea of the before. Noticeably present was the Kaimin extra . . . announcing the winner ten minutes before the end of the meet.

J. P. Rowe, head of the geology department, has been in charge of the meet as long as anyone can remember . . . chief aim has been to build it into a bigger and better one . . . he has been successful. Traditional starter for the meet is George Varnel, Seattle newspaperman who has sent more boys flying away from the starting blocks than the ordinary track official can shake a stick at.
Hampered several weeks by a cold spell . . . common complaint of spring in the Rockies . . . it was difficult for Harry Adams to condition his track men for the season. Running indoors for the first month of the spring quarter . . . finally got on cinders April 3 . . . participated in a dual meet with University of Idaho May 9 . . . State Intercollegiate meet at Missoula May 16 . . . triangular meet with Idaho, W. S. C. at Pullman May 23 . . . finished the season by electing Stein and Rose co-captains for the 1937 season. Competed against the Idaho cross-country team at Moscow in the fall . . . entered and placed fourth in an indoor meet at Spokane during March.

Working under the handicap of short season year after year patiently builds teams that do not lack respect of other teams. Former football and track star Adams frequently fools larger coast schools . . . usually trims other state schools.
To test his team and find new talent, Coach Adams each year makes them compete with novices who form class teams. April 28, 1936, showed him that his men were getting into shape. Sophomores, led by Varsity men, easily outclassed other competitors. Several records were approached.

Against Idaho the Grizzly cinder men were outclassed and hampered by short training. The Vandals swept into first 85-46. Grizzly Ben Taylor set a new University record for the half-mile. Ten firsts went to the Moscowmen. Four of them were clean. All places. Montana firsts were won by Ben Taylor, 880 yard run. Doug Brown, high hurdles. Clayton Olson, broad jump. Fred Stein, pole vault.

The day was successful enough for the Grizzly. The feast of pig tasted good after retreat from Moscow. The disappointments were no greater than expected. The century run was the only heartbreaker.
At Pullman May 23, the pig was absent again . . . Montana took the short corner of the triangle . . . as W. S. C. garnered 98½ points with eleven firsts . . . Idaho 49½ . . . Montana 16.

Unable to cope with the unquestionably better stars of the Vandals and the Cougars no Montanamen were able to place higher than second . . . Rose took third in the two mile . . . Brown fourth in the high hurdles . . . Stein and Duffy tied for second in the pole vault . . . Taylor took the last point making position in the half mile . . . Popovich copped third in the low hurdles . . . Jack Davis barely appeared on the point list in the low hurdles. The 1936 season ended with the Grizzly bowing to no one within the state, to several without.
Freshman Track....

The forgotten men of major sports are the freshman tracksters...only those who are outstanding enough to look like heavy point winners for the next year are heard from...struggling along on the track only getting occasional attention from anyone they work patiently...they build the foundation for the Varsity squads...they deserve more credit than they get...but get it the following years when Adams puts them through their paces for the fans of Montana and the Northwest. With a great deal of promising material on hand the 1937 squad is being watched more closely than usual...more pig feast than before are expected...hoped for.

Baseball . . .

The University has no representative in the king of sports other than the Student Store team . . . it needs no other if quality is all that counts. Showing themselves to be far above the class of the rest of the state teams, taking any independent team that wishes to risk its reputation . . . turning in good showings against visiting teams from out of the state.
University Tennis...

is no longer such a minor sport... despite the title... competition with larger schools of the coast conference is beginning to bring reputation to the foot of Mount Sentinel. In intra-school competition the University championship for singles has belonged for the last year to Bill Shallenberger... doubles, Shallenberger and Phil Garlington. In inter-school competition Montana beat Idaho, Gonzaga... tied with W. S. C. for fourth in Northwest.
Women's Tennis...

is the big sport of the spring quarter for W. A. A. Champion during the past year was Jean Mueller who took the field... of Betty Eiselein. June Paulson, ex-champ, and Dorothy Gillen, runner-up... besides tennis the big event is the W. A. A. picnic at which awards are given for point winnings during the year.
Archery

and the substitution of the bow and arrow for the rifle ... an interesting sport ... strenuous as hockey when one gets down to real shooting ... the team enters into telegraphic matches with other schools.

Badminton

another sport that is gaining each year in popularity ... falls into the individual sports category ... requires skill and energy ... is played in the gym with the crowds watching tournament matches assuming larger and larger proportions.
Kappa Tau.....

Purpose: The promotion of scholarship. Record: Organized in 1915 and has grown with the school. Membership: Granted to students whose index is 2.1 or over, and who have 108 credits, 75 of which must be earned in residence. Activities: Announcement of new members at Awards Convocation, initiation at the annual spring banquet. Officers: President — John Blair, Vice-President — William Shallenberger, Secretary-Treasurer — James Gladden.

Alpha Lambda Delta.....

Purpose: To stimulate scholarship in freshmen women and to honor with a 2.2 grade average at the end of the first year. Record: This national freshman women's honorary fraternity was established on this campus in the spring of 1936 under the sponsorship of Mortar Board. Membership: Those with the required average are eligible for active membership throughout their sophomore year. Officers: President — Eunice Fleming, Secretary — Kathryn Mellor, Treasurer — Ruth Gormley. Mortar Board member Betty Eiselein is student advisor to the group.
And as the Quarter...

ends we again have tests... the last for half a year... track meet is over... Aber Day gone... another year of school... vacation ahead... and Garbo sadly watches the departing students, lies down to wait the coming of the teachers who will soon invade the campus.
a big event in the lives of seniors . . . who, getting their degrees depart . . . leave behind four happy years . . . perhaps the happiest. June week, with the lantern parade . . . the S.O.S . . . baccalaureate . . . Junior Prom . . . senior banquet . . . visiting parents and relations . . . leave takings . . . "good-bye to the brothers and when you get rich send us some money to build a new house" . . . honors to those who have worked for them . . . a degree for each. Speeches of praise . . . of encouragement . . . of warning . . . everything comes to the graduating senior . . .
... everything and fond wishes of good luck on the search for a job. Those who have worked four years ... absorbing the knowledge that the professors impart ... passing and flunking tests ... activities and studies ... dances and sports ... fraternity and honoraries ... as much from just being as from books ... depart ... and going leave behind them impressions ... footprints, if you will ... that will guide those who follow. And those who follow take the same paths ... do the same thing ... get the same reward ... next year, and the year after and so on through the years those who receive their degrees will be the same ... college kids getting out.
It has taken work . . . but we aren't complaining. Now it is yours . . . of some of you we have made a little bit of sly fun . . . perhaps we have been a little tactless in places . . . there may be some misspelled names here and there . . . it is even possible that the camera told too much the truth . . . and for all of these we can only say . . . we would be sorry if it would help. All in all we have tried to give you as much as possible of the best we could . . . we hope it meets with your approval . . . if the above is not too true . . . if it does please . . . then those who have given their aid in the building of this book deserve thanks . . .

They are . . .

Engraving . . . Frank Fussell of the Commercial Art and Engraving Company.

Advisers . . . Dr. R. L. Housman and E. K. Badgley.
What would the campus be without "GARBO"? What would the students do without a shopping guide? And—as an afterthought—what would the SENTINEL be without ADVERTISERS?

Montana State University presents two thousand students who are looking for places to buy their needs. The SENTINEL advertising section presents 108 Montana firms.

These 108 recognize the fact that the SENTINEL as an advertising medium has become an institution. These two thousand recognize the fact that the SENTINEL advertising section as a guide has become indispensible.

The staff wishes to express its gratitude for the splendid financial support given them by the Montana businessmen who are among . . .

The Reason Why

That MOLLOY-MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value.

The Sentinel, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY-MADE covers "away back when"—and the MOLLOY trademark on the cover of this 1937 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the country.

RELAX - LET US TAKE THE ASPIRIN

One of the important factors entering into fine year book production is the quality of the engraving. The Los Angeles Engraving Company invites your attention to the service which they have made available to school annual staffs, its editors, business managers and faculty advisers. The best recommendation of the value of such service is found in the long list of satisfied clients they serve year after year. A complete staff of competent school annual specialists, always at your service. YEAR BOOK DEPARTMENT: LOS ANGELES ENGRAVING COMPANY - 1220 MAPLE AVE - LOS ANGELES
