MSU AT WORK...
AND AT PLAY!

NORMA FRIES
Editor
This is MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY—where you worked, played and dreamed for nine months. Perhaps it was your first home away from home. You took part in many activities on this campus beginning fall quarter . . .

Freshman Camp in September meant boating on Flathead, sessions with student counselors, and the first taste of "College."
From Freshman Camp to the campus and the dorm. Bobbie Reber began the trek to Corbin Hall with her arms full of clothes.

First on the agenda was Orientation Week, begun with the President's Reception in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge.

Dr. Gordon Castle introduces parents and students to the new MSU president and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Newburn.

Much time and hard work was required to plan the program for Orientation Week. Members of the committee appointed by Mortar Board were Duane Adams, Diana Squires, Ken Fordik, Donna Arnold, chairman, Jane Borden, Ann Kelse, and Jerry Agen.
Faculty members portrayed various aspects of University Life. Dr. Gilbert introduces ballet student, Tom Monahan, while Mrs. Dew (Mortar Board), Mrs. Schuster (Sadie Hawkins), Mr. Jorgenson (Silent Sentinel), Mr. Bankson (Army ROTC), Mr. McGinnis (an alum), Mr. Sirois (Speech), Mr. Roberts (basketball), Mr. Armour (law), and Mr. Fiedler (forestry) look on.

Freshman Chuck Elkinton played his guitar and sang for the Variety Show.

Three of the many activities of Orientation Week: the Faculty-Freshman Variety Show, the Jitney Party and registration in the Field House.

Miss MSU 1959, Patti Jo Shaw, spoke to a Jitney Party group in Craig Hall.
Jean Davis, Cathy Spittler, and Linda Smith get acquainted with each other and the campus.

Beanies, photos, and white wash were three requirements for entering freshmen.

Mr. Catlin had an open season on University students.

"OLD COLLEGE CHUMS"

After painting the M, frosh were tired, spattered, and pleased that Orientation duties were finally over.
Fall quarter activities, such as rush and the Foresters' Convo and Ball broke the hours of studying in the library.

The T.V. Studio was another busy place. One group of performers presented by MSU T.V. students was the Coquettes.

A different angle on studying — Penny Loucas and Dorothy McBride practice in the Music Building for a Monday afternoon concert.
Football and SOS's—MSU after school pastimes.

Intramural football brought an accident to at least one. Mrs. Berry watches while ambulance attendants hurry to get one of her Elrod residents to the hospital.

A popular MSU tradition—an SOS (Singing On the Steps) at Main Hall with Spurs and Bear Paws in charge.
Homecoming was an exciting event, especially for Corbin and Craig Halls. Their float won first place.

Homecoming weekend brought many alums for the parade, game, and reunion.

The parade was led by the Treasure State Band and majorettes.

In spite of a rousing pep rally the night before, and alum cheers at the game, the Grizzlies lost.
Among the big-name groups brought to the campus by ASMSU was the Martin Denny aggregation.

On week-ends there was always time for dances and entertainment.

New Bear Paws were tapped at an SOS in time for them to help the Spurs sponsor the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Entertainment at the dance included the Coquettes (Karen Upshaw, Carol Nelson, Betty Leuthold, Diane Boyer, Brenda Blastic, and Kathy Johnson), in gunny sacks, of course.
As Christmas drew near the women’s living groups caroled for the men and decorated for Christmas functions.

The end of fall quarter also drew closer. Students such as Ellen Strommen (right) hurried to finish projects and reviewed for final exams.
Winter quarter began with registration in the Lodge. After registering ski enthusiasts packed up their equipment and headed for Big Mountain and Ski Week-end.

After a two-year absence, the Grizzly Guide was returned to campus by Phi Kappa Phi. Gail Ward, PKP vice-president, sells a copy of the guide to Kay Dubay.
Winter quarter proved to be a busy one for AWS. At the AWS style show Suzy Cook and other models showed what to wear on campus or to formal functions, such as the popular Night Club Dance.

The weatherman helped another AWS activity, providing more than enough snow and cold weather for Sigma Kappa and Elrod to win the snow sculpture contest. It also provided a lovely view on the way to the Snow Week-end Dance.

Cold climate and wool are naturals together, so it was no great surprise when Patti Jo Shaw from cold Montana won the national competition for Miss Wool.
Rise Stevens is pictured at a post-Community concert reception with Penny Loucas, Jane Borden, Ed Risse, Stan Tiffany, Duane Adams, and ticket sale chairmen Jan McFarlane and Ruth James.

There was cultural entertainment all year long with the presentation of the Community Concerts, dramatic productions, music series and visiting lecturers. Even the Spurs entertained with their Valentine Spur-O-Grams.

A popular MSU activity was Lodging-Down, be it for bridge, cokes or conversation.

Eileen Weingartner was one of the many who sold singing Spur-O-Grams with Valentine messages.
Much time was spent on extra-curricular activities, but these were only one part of the balanced MSU program of study and relaxation, and many activities were devoted to study purposes. The Law School asked students to participate in practice trials, and the Friends of the Library was organized to help supplement library holdings.

The University Theater was the scene of "A Streetcar Named Desire," presented by the touring MSC Drama Club.

To help celebrate Alaska's entry into the Union, the Food Service with the aid of Alaskan, Lou Garcia, presented sour dough pancakes to Lodge patrons.

Students, such as Tony Ayto (right) were busier than ever in classes and laboratories.
The end of winter quarter brought the Newman Club's Mardi Gras Dance, furious debates about ROTC and athletics, and the Red Cross blood drive.

After debates among Kaimin readers as to the advisability of compulsory ROTC and athletics, an Athletic Club was organized and progressed very well.

Stash Ashmore helped the Theta's sell Suzie Frizelle, who played slave for a day.

One last activity of winter quarter—the Red Cross blood drawing, and then on to final exams, filled with one less pint of blood and one quarter more of information.
Mary Ellen McAvoy gives Sonja Stimac a cool treat, while Carolyn Ruth, Jean Christenson and Diana Allison drool.

SPRING QUARTER

Spring quarter arrived at last, and brought with it a hectic one-day registration in the Lodge, sunbathers galore, an almost empty library and classes outside on the lawn or on the side of Mount Sentinel.
Harbingers of spring were the high school students who arrived from every part of the state to participate in University sponsored activities. First it was the State Science Fair. Then the Music Festival brought competitors for awards and scholarships, who witnessed the initial performance of Oklahoma.

Entertainment was never hard to find. If nothing else was happening, the TV in the lodge always had Yogi Bear on hand to help pass the time.

Ron Bottcher, Jud, and Byron Christian, Curly, mourn because poor Jud is daid.

Another spring quarter honor—being chosen Military Ball Queen. Jerry Beller holds the cape for Queen Julie Briscoe, while Mary Garrison, Sharol Greenup, 1959 Queen Carol Anthony, runner-up Marith McGinnis, Sharon Sayre and Warren Drew, Army ROTC, watch approvingly.
Homes were moved to make way for the new Law School and Health-Science Buildings which were begun this year.

Spring quarter saw construction begin on new MSU buildings.

Foresters took to the woods for Spring Camp while interested students (pictured with Mr. Pantzer) went to Flathead Lake for a week-end of reflection and discussion at Leadership Camp.
Spring quarter is always active, and a Kaimin is as necessary as a score card at an athletic event.

Some of the activities included the Northwestern Speech Tournament held in the L.A. Building, national headquarters for Tau Kappa Alpha speech honorary. A very popular spring activity was WUS Week with its roof-sitting, Chinese auction, and ugly couple contest.

The Aquamaid pageant was a high-light of the quarter with its colorful, near professional water ballets.
Baseball became the sport for the intramural teams, while baseball, track, and spring football were the rule of the day for varsity athletes.

ASMSU election time rolled around and the lodge was gaudily decorated with posters of every size, shape and color imaginable.
When the smoke of election battle cleared things returned to normal. Paul Ulrich took over the directing of Central Board activities while Jerry Agen continued working with his greatly improved Public Relations Committee.

Choices also had to be made for editors of the various campus publications. Rolf Olson, pictured with energetic journalist, Judy McVey, became editor of the Kaimin, while Gloria Eudaily received the appointment of Sentinel editor.
Interscholastic brought another influx of high school students, who watched track and field events, boxers such as Mike McGiboney at the "M" Club Boxing Matches, and the Newman Club Songfest, which the Delta Delta Delta's ("I Enjoy Being a Girl") and the Sigma Chi's ("Around the World in 80 Days") won.
High point of the end of the year was the tapping of new Spurs, Mortar Boards and Silent Sentinels at the Interscholastic and Graduation SOS's.
Graduation exercises brought the end of the school year. Dr. Harry K. Newburn was installed as the tenth president of Montana State University. Commissions were presented, degrees conferred, and seniors said a last good-by to MSU.

DEDICATION

The staff of Montana State University is composed of men and women who do a great deal of work, but receive very little recognition. The jobs that they do are important to both the faculty and the student body. They care for the buildings and grounds, cook our food, oversee our finances, take care of correspondence, watch over the library and even print the Kaimin and Sentinel. To the members of the MSU staff—from secretaries to janitors and from cooks to printers and pressmen, the 1960 Sentinel is gratefully dedicated.
Montana State Board of Education: Mrs. F. H. Petro, Mr. E. A. Dye, Mr. George Lund, Monsignor Emmet J. Riley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Miss Harriet Miller, Governor J. Hugo Aronson, Attorney General Forrest H. Anderson, Dr. Earl Hall, Mr. Merritt Warden, Mrs. George Chambers, and Mr. Boynton G. Paige

To the students of Montana State University:

It is a pleasure to have this opportunity of expressing briefly greetings to the students and commenting upon our first year here at Montana State University. Our major reaction is a pleasant one. We like Montana and believe that the University has a great opportunity to serve the people of the State by providing a rich and stimulating environment for the qualified young people of the Commonwealth who desire an education and who are prepared to put forth the necessary effort to that end. We hope another year our schedule will be somewhat more flexible so that we may take greater advantage of the opportunity to become better acquainted with the fine students and faculty working here on the campus.

DR. G. D. SHALLENBERGER
Dr. Shallenberger, who came to MSU after earning his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago, has been chairman of the Physics Department and, like the other faculty members who retired, he has held important committee assignments at MSU. He has been an inspiring teacher and faithful friend to generations of students.

Alumni News, Summer, 1960

MRS. BERNICE RAMSKILL
Mrs. Ramskill's association with MSU extended through forty years. During this time her friendly counsel in personal affairs as well as her exceptional ability as a pianist and piano teacher has endeared her to the hearts of her many students. Much of the credit for the growth and stature of the School of Music is directly due to the loyalty, effective teaching, and leadership of Mrs. Ramskill.

State Board of Education
The total amount of service given to MSU by the six retiring faculty members equals over a century and a half. Dr. Miller and Mrs. Ramskill lead with 41 and 40 years, respectively. Dr. Shallenberger completed 37 years on the faculty and Dr. Kramer, 30 years. Mrs. Rimel and Mr. Mattill retired after 17 and 10 years, respectively.

Mrs. Rimel has been on the staff since 1943, principally in the role of supervisor and confidante of dormitory residents. At the close of the war she became successively social director of Corbin Hall, social director of Turner Hall, and in 1949, head resident of Turner Hall. Hundreds of women students have had the benefit of her counseling and understanding friendship.

Alumni News, Summer, 1960

DR. JOSEPH KRAMER
Dr. Kramer, professor of botany, always had the welfare of his students foremost in his mind and was aware of their problems and willing to assist those in need of extra help. As a true scientist he has constantly searched for truth and concerned himself with making it known to others. He has done research in the relation of plants to soil erosion and in other fields during his years of service.

IN MEMORIAM

BRUCE WARREN MARKELL
Bruce Markell was a freshman student from Caldwell, New Jersey and a member of Theta Chi fraternity. A river accident in the Blackfoot in June, 1960 was the cause of his death.

ROBERT M. TAYLOR
Junior forestry student, Robert Taylor from Missoula, died February, 1960.

IRENE M. SAMMONS
Mrs. Sammons, who was from Boston, Massachusetts, received her B.A. from MSU, and was doing graduate work in botany at the time of her death.

JAMES B. SAMMONS
Mr. Sammons was from Lewistown and received his B.S. from MSU. He was doing graduate work in the field of wildlife technology. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sammons were killed in an automobile accident in November, 1959.

ETHEL MAY (MAIZIE) NICHOLS
Maizie Nichols, a freshman student from Roundup and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, died in St. Patrick’s Hospital in May, 1960.

PROFESSOR ELMER SMITH
Prof. Smith was born January 28, 1909 at St. Anthony, Idaho. He graduated and obtained a master of science degree in anthropology from the University of Utah. He held posts at Snow College, Ephraim, Utah, and at the Universities of Utah, Oregon and Washington. He was a visiting associate professor in the MSU Anthropology Department from February until his death May 1, 1960. As a ranking expert in the field of race relations, he had written several textbooks on anthropology. Prof. Smith was a member of Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honorary, Sigma Xi science honorary, Alpha Kappa Delta, an honor sociological society, and was a fellow in the American Anthropological Association.

"THROUGH YOUTH, THROUGH PRIME, AND WHEN THE DAYS OF HARVEST TIME TO US SHALL COME"

DR. CHARLES W. WATERS
Dr. Waters was born at Oketo, Kansas, December 7, 1894. He received his bachelor of literature and bachelor of science at Berea College, Kentucky, his masters in botany at Ohio State University and was graduated from the University of Michigan with a Ph.D. in forest pathology. He served as an instructor at Syracuse University, at the University of Michigan, and as an assistant professor at Miami University. He was a member of the MSU botany staff from 1926 until his death, January 21, 1960. Dr. Waters was a member of the Phytopathology Society, Society of Foresters, Northwest Scientific Association, and the Montana Academy of Sciences.

"It seems in the nature of things not to realize what resources we have until they are gone. So on this occasion we have been made aware that this community is poorer in the many fine qualities this man possessed."

Melvin Morris

"Dr. Waters was first of all a teacher. He was warm in his approach to students and sympathetic with their problems. His lecture preparation was always thorough. Even after years of teaching, he gave each lecture a fresh organization and always had the human touch."

THE MATCHMAKER

Marith McGinnis, Brinton Markle, Eileen Gallagher and Chuck Haugen rehearse "The Matchmaker," a hit held over from the Summer Theater. This delightful broadway comedy, fun for the cast, director and audience was presented on campus in early fall and was later taken on a tour of western Montana.

MASQUER THEATER

The Masquer Theater completed its third year of performances in the round. Of major importance was the rising interest in theatrical work, particularly in the field of original playwriting. Marge Shjeflo and Diane Kenyon are among the many students whose performances enhanced Masquer productions.

THE CONCEPTION

An original one-act play "The Conception" by Jean Metteson views life in a mental hospital. The prevailing question concerns the relativity of sanity in a world of insanity. Among members of the cast were Wayne Finney, Marge Shjeflo, Diane Kenyon, Elsie Hallford and Suzy Cook.
THE SPORT OF KINGS

"The Sport of Kings," written and directed by Bob McKinnon, was a play to be watched and enjoyed. Wayne Veeneman, who played the bum, kept the audience constantly aware of the humorous aspect of the play.

THE DUMMY

"The Dummy," written by Brinton Markle and directed by Sara Grey, gave the view of life on the waterfront and of the character and will of weak and lost people who seek a leader. Mike Fallon gave a performance not usually expected from a college performer in his interpretation of Sena.

HOPE CHEST

Under the Masquer direction of Cordelia Brown, the "Hope Chest" told the story of a lost wife trying to find hope and happiness by means of an old chest. Eileen Gallagher portrayed the submissive middle-aged wife whose desire for peace is threatened by her tyrannical husband, Brinton Markle.
Anton Chekhov in “The Cherry Orchard” created an atmosphere of varying moods, whose sharp contrasts make up the main aspects of the drama. The emotional impracticability of the members of a family of high rank, their inability to cope with the changing order, contrast with the practical, realistic and perhaps uncouth behavior of the new rising class. The Montana Masquers’ decision to produce Chekhov’s masterpiece on the eve of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of this great dramatist, represented another attempt by Americans to bring Russian life into better perspective.

Cordie Brown prepares for her outstanding performance as Madame Ranevsky.

The General, played by Dan Bieri, leads the audience into the atmosphere of the play and reveals some of his personal philosophy.

In the presence of the Archbishop (Ronald Jones) the Spy (Bill Kearns) renounces his life of evil in an hilarious performance played entirely on his knees.

ROMANOFF
JULIET
In the Russian embassy (left) Felicia Hardison and Kirk Bulls argue upstairs, while downstairs Diann Riddle, Bruce Buckingham and Bill Kearns talk about the political situation. Across the street in Juliet’s room of the American embassy Marith McGinnis ponders the question of love and international relations, while Brint Markle, Sue Howard and Mike Fallon discuss the price of deep freezers.

Peter Ustinov’s quiet, genial and warm-hearted satire deals with the violent subject of American-Russian snarling relationships. The action occurs in “the smallest country in Europe” where the Russian and American ambassadors compete with each other while their children fall in love. The irony of the play is complete when the American ambassador knows that the Russians know the American code and the Russian Ambassador knows that the Americans know that the Russians know the American code, etc., etc.

The Treasure State Band is actually many bands in one. In the master organization are the marching band, the varsity pep band, the AFROTC band, the concert band and the chamber band. This musical organization marched for Homecoming, provided entertainment between football games, traveled to Bozeman for the MSU-MSC football game and spent three days of spring vacation touring western Montana cities.

MADRIGAL SINGERS

The Madrigal Singers were formed as a group two years ago. Their musical selections are from the 16th and 17th centuries and they are often accompanied by instruments of that era. The group is conducted by Miss Jane Hevener.

SOPRANOS: Janet Amoss, LaDonna Appelhans, Ann Avery, Judy Fisher
ALTOS: Donna Kerber, Patricia McClain, Betty Stephenson, Virginia Wolfe
TENORS: Fred Mumbower, Benny Schmautz, David Stegmeyer, Raymond Young

The Department of Music is perhaps one of the most “performing” departments on campus. Throughout the year outstanding students and faculty members presented musical recitals. Choral Union, the University Choir, and the Madrigal Singers combined their talents to present the Annual Christmas Concert. The Chamber Band and the Treasure State Band united to give their winter concert later in the school year. Each week outstanding students were heard on the Missoula radio program, Concert Hall. Through the efforts of the Music Department the annual Music Meet of high school students was held. Other music activities were the Nite Club Dance, Oklahoma, participation of the choral groups and the Symphonette with the Missoula Civic Symphony in the presentation of Beethoven’s Ninth Symphony, the University Music Series and the Opera Workshop.

JUBILEERS

The voices of these twenty men and women comprise “Montana’s finest voices,” the Jubileers. For the fourteenth year this group provided entertainment for the campus, community and the state. The Jubileers are under the direction of Joseph Mussulman.

“How Do You Get to Broadway?” Jubileers tell the Nite-Club Dance audience that “Anything Goes!”
Members of the MSU Ballet Theater were particularly busy this year. Long hours of preparation and practice were required for dancing roles in Oklahoma and later in the fourth annual Evening of Ballet. Marnie Cooper's brilliant choreography once again showed the talent of her ballet troupe, as they presented Hans Christian Andersen's "The Ugly Duckling," and Douglas Bankson's two works, "The Waterwitch," and "Private Eye, Mr. Magoo."
Jim Polk in a non-dancing role portrayed the delightful and hilarious Mr. Magoo, while Marta Sanford was the girl hood and Sandra Swank played Magoo's girl Friday.

One of the most effective performances of the evening was by Norman Preston, who played the Waterwitch. Marnie Cooper took the female lead of Sarahand, while Louis Garcia played her sweetheart, Dan.

The versatile troupe moved easily from Oklahoma to the final Evening of Ballet rehearsals.

BALLET THEATER
The Art Department brought exhibits from the University of Alberta, prints of Holland artists, a creative stitchery display from the seventh grade in a Portland, Oregon school and many other exhibitions to MSU. The Art Department also sponsored an interscholastic high school art display.

Work of the faculty and students was again put on sale at the lodge. The faculty proceeds went to the art department for needed art equipment and art scholarships.

Mrs. Blackmer, graduate student from Missoula, discusses her masters project with Mr. Arnold of the Art Department.
CENTRAL BOARD

The ASMSU office was the scene of much activity as the officers organized student affairs into smooth working order. With cooperation of Central Board, the officers enlarged and improved the Public Relations program. Central Board was responsible for the largest budget in history, appropriating to athletics and student organizations about $150,000. Because of the enlarged budget CB was able to provide much outside entertainment, Martin Denny and Tommy Dorsey, as well as free mixers and parties. Several committees excelled, including Homecoming Committee, which with new type of queen selection succeeded in organizing one of the best Homecoming week-ends ever. Publicity Committee also was a very successful committee. One of CB's last activities was the production of the all-school show, Oklahoma, which, with Dave Browman as business manager, turned out to be profitable as well as enjoyable. During the year CB approved an affidavit disclaiming the National Defense Scholarship loyalty oath, backed President Newburn's policy for reduced athletic scholarships and succeeded in gaining sufficient support for the re-incorporation of the student store.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Jerry Metcalf, elected Judicial Council chairman in spring, 1959, resigned at the end of fall quarter. Helene Loy, succeeded by Bob Connole, finished the term as chairman.

Judicial Council's primary duty is to recommend to the Dean's office proper action on cases concerning students who have violated University rules. The Council has been a source of much campus discussion since its formation. During spring quarter, 1959, Judicial Council formulated a policy to facilitate its operations. The goal of the council is to help those students charged with violating campus rules, rather than blindly meting out punishment. Scholarship probation, rather than social probation became the remedy in several cases.

First row: Shirley Hall, Karen Ferkin, Jerry Metcalf, Keith Woods, Janet Wilkins, Elaine Welch
During fall quarter Budget and Finance committee, under the chairmanship of Howard Hansen, defined a system which enabled Central Board and MSU students to keep track of the huge student budget. The routine duties of preparing the proposed budget of ASMSU income and handling requisitions of committees and organizations were also accomplished.

First row: Susan Brown, Penny Freebourn, Sandy Orr, Jennine Funk, Gloria Eudaily, Lucy Burge, Sonny Borden, Howie Hansen, chairman, and Karen Ferkin, AWS treasurer

BUDGET AND FINANCE

STORE BOARD

The five members of Store Board were elected from the student body as a whole. With the assistance of five faculty members and two Central Board delegates, these hard workers, after much sweat and many tears, drafted the Articles of Re-Incorporation of the Student Store. This document gives members of ASMSU control of the Book Store.

Traditions Board attempted to uphold the traditions of MSU, which are inter-woven into campus life. T-Board engineered the Choo-Choo to Eozeman fall quarter and promoted the pep rally held before the homecoming game. Each time new cheerleaders or pom-pom girls were needed, it was the Board's duty to select the ones who could draw the loudest noise from the grandstand fans.

ACTIVITIES BOARD

First row: John Keefe, chairman, Barbara Wheeler, Marlene Kolesar, Diane Anderson, Jane Thomas

During winter quarter the Activities Committee named seven sub-committees and became Activities Board. The beach parties at the new pool and the Homecoming Dance were two functions that the committee handled during fall quarter. The Jimmy Dorsey Band and the Martin Denny group were featured on campus via the committee and a loss of nine hundred dollars. Several free student mixers were held throughout the year. Barbara Wheeler was appointed Activities Director in charge of co-ordinating student activities and organizing the Activities Room in the Lodge.
ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

After adding two new voting precincts last year, one in the Forestry Building and the other in the Bus-Ad Building, Elections Committee began this year, under chairman Kathy Joseph with the election of Freshman CB representatives. The bulk of this year's work was finished by a committee with slightly changed membership and a new chairman, Barbara Lee, when Kathy transferred to West Texas at the end of fall quarter.

WUS COMMITTEE

During spring quarter, WUS (World University Service) Committee planned and directed its annual fund-raising campaign. Such shows as the Chinese auction and the ugly pair contest were part of the routine to which all Chinese and ugly couples looked forward.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE

To plan three days of homecoming activity was the committee's problem. One lovely queen plus one royal court smoothed out many worry wrinkles. The alumni and faithful fans were goaded into yelling, although unable to push the Grizzlies to a victory. Nevertheless, the committee's portion of the celebration was a great success.
PLANNING BOARD

Long-range planning concerning the structure of student government was the primary responsibility of the Planning Committee. Fall quarter this committee compiled a list of the organizations included in ASMSU.

Bob Means, Betty Leuthold, Dennis Myers, Don Harkin, chairman, Doug Chaffey, Linda Tracy, Linda Harrison, Carol Cooper, Sandra Van Blaricom

VISITING LECTURERS COMMITTEE

Visiting Lecturers Committee arranged for distinguished speakers to appear on campus. Among the activities this year were a convocation to introduce President Newburn to the student body and the presentation of C. Northcote Parkinson, author of Parkinson's Law.

First row: James Beck, chairman, Lynn Gustafson, Dr. Seymour Betsky, faculty advisor, Louise Johnson, Jacquie Gibbon, Diane Boyer
Second row: Ken Maki, Ed Emmett, Allan Morris, Marie Stephenson, Donna Molinario

LEADERSHIP CAMP COMMITTEE

Leadership Camp, May 13-15, at Flathead Lake Lodge, was the place where campus leaders met to discuss campus problems. The committee planned and directed each day's schedule, which included hash sessions, faculty speakers, and recreation.

First row: Sharon Beattie, Gayle Hageman, Clarice Lam, chairman, Carolyn Ruth, Kay Lawson
Second row: John Chinske, Bill Cain, Dan Bieri, Jean Davis, Anne Shipley, David Sulc, Pat McDonald

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS COMMITTEE

The objective of the International Students Committee is to develop a better relationship between foreign and American students at MSU.

Seated: Kay Ferris, Kitty Gleason, Virginia Ragland, chairman, Donna Nordeen, Carol Cooper
Standing: Nancy Brown, Ron Long, Ruth James
PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The Secretarial Committee helped in assuring smooth co-ordination of the Public Relations program.

Felicia Hardison, chairmain, Teddy Rudis, Elaine Zipperian, Sharon Fast.

The objective of the Public Relations Committee, a newly-formed branch of student government, is to inform the citizens of Montana about MSU, its accomplishments, goals, traditions, and scholastic endeavors. This department includes three subordinate committees. Through Campus Visitations Committee, visitors are introduced to the campus. Hometown News Committee covers the activities of students and reports to the hometown newspapers. Alumni Relations Committee acts as a liaison between the student body and the Alumni Association.

CAMPUSS VISITIONS

First row: Roxanne Shelton, Karen Ferkin, Stash Ashmore, chairman, Paula Simmons, Janet Wilkins
Second row: Karen Larson, Tom Belzer, Don Hetherington, Bill Linguard

HOME TOWN NEWS

First row: Sharon Dodge, Judy Hove, Gail Gunterman, chairman, Lynn Gustafson, Barbara Williams
Second row: Larry Linnel, Jack Gilluly

ALUMNI RELATIONS

Ralph Bloomenfield
Dorothy McBride, Mary Steadman, Micky Manix, Bill Wallace, Carolyn Cannon, Carol Spaulding, chairman
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

Doug Grimm composed a notebook about his committee's work to be used for future reference. He and other members did an excellent job on promotion of ASMSU activities, such as, Martin Denny, Bozeman train, Beach Parties, Mixers, and the all-school show, Oklahoma!

Seated: Pat Howell, Vivian Lizotte, Helen Dwelle, Karen Murdoch, Helen Lewis
Standing: Russ Sands, Doug Grimm, chairman, Barbara Mittel

M BOOK COMMITTEE

A help to confused frosh is the M Book, which attempts to acquaint the new student with MSU. It contains features from how to study a vocabulary list to lyrics of the school songs and a map of the Campus. This year, under the chairmanship of Mary Lou Montague, the book was enlarged and revised.

First row: Mary Lou Montague, chairman, Joan Hedlund.
Second row: Barbara Bell, Patricia Serafine, Sharon LaBar, Lory Gruggeman, Carrie Knutson, Regina Gilman.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Publications Board makes recommendations for key positions on the Kaimin, Sentinel and Venture staffs to Central Board. Recommending is perhaps its major function, although checking on the operations of these three student publications follows staff selection.

First row: George Roberts, Katy Dunn, Penny Wagner, Judy Williams, Zena Beth McGlashan, Tom Mongar, chairman.
Second row: Mr. Dugan, advisor, Jean Tate, Margo Murphy, Frank Walsh.
The Associated Women Students are governed by a board composed of delegates from each living group. The board formulates and enforces rules concerning social standards, campus attire, and hours. Violations can lead to the well-known "campus." The officers are chosen at yearly elections. This year the Missoula girls living at home were organized under the chairmanship of Julie Dufresne and handled the 1960 Big-Little Sister program. Social events sponsored by AWS included three fashion shows, Snow Weekend, Big-Little Sister tea, Miss MSU contest and the Lantern Parade.

Seated: Donna Arnst, vice-president, Sally Harris, president
Standing: Jackie Thomas, secretary, Karen Ferkin, treasurer.

First row: Tookie Casebolt, Judi Neeley, Judy McIntyre, Betty Hall
Second row: Ruth James, Penny Gong, Janet Wynn, Annette Smith, Marta Sanford, Ann Shipley, Norma Frank, Janie Hughes, Pat Williams, Dianne Riddle
VENTURE

Venture operated on a tight budget this year. The literary magazine, nevertheless supplied the student body at the end of every quarter with a variety of articles, short stories and poetry. The quarters in Jumbo Hall provided an arty atmosphere for the editing and organizing of the publication. Central Board, by enlarging the appropriation for Venture, enabled the publication to become nearly completely supported by the student body.

Venture staff: Juliet Deschamps, Jim Polk, Betty Hawkins, Autumn Kennedy, Mary Morris, Terry Carpenter, Billie McPherson, Paul Learner, Allen Goddard.
In 1959 the Kaimin (meaning "written word") covered such major news events as the installation of a new University president, and the raising of athletic and activity fees. In addition, it kept a constant watchful eye on the student government. Covering such touchy subjects as English department explosions, the Kaimin's consistent objective was to find and to report the truth.

"OUR WARRIORS BOLD"

Editor John Bennitt (J.B.) was the master make-up man who organized the first horizontal Kaimin. Bennitt spent much time on the Oval trying to solve the walking-on-the-grass problem.

Judith Blakely, or "Blake," was the efficient business manager with the personality to keep all the advertisers pleased, not to mention the salesmen.
Always on hand with his camera, Rolf Olson provided many newsworthy pictures for this year's Kaimin.

As News Editor, Judy King assigned reporters to specific beats and worked to keep up-to-date news in the paper.

Editing the sports page and writing his column "Charley's Chaser" kept Charley Hood busy at the Kaimin office.

Kaimin journalists huddle around the horse-shoe shaped desk to see the paper put to bed—or, as they would say, to see it "locked up on the Waltzing Matilda."

Associate editor Judy McVey worked on the desk, put out Friday's eight-page editions, wrote a Friday column, expanded the feature exchange system, and wrote dramatic reviews.

As staff advisor, Mr. Dugan managed to keep smiling and, somehow, to ward off ulcers. Mr. Dugan is a professor of advertising in the Journalism School.
To facilitate the annual job of recording the year's school activities in pictures and words, ASMSU generously appropriated more money to the 1960 Sentinel. With this enlarged budget, more colored pages and a fine new cover were added. The year seemed long with the staff distributing the 1959 Sentinel in January. Usual photographer troubles plagued harried staff members when either photographer, subjects, or both did not show up at scheduled times.

Jane Borden, editor, developed among the staff members a chain of command to assure communication between the editor, the associate editors, and the rest of the staff. Worried that pictures and copy would not be done in time to meet the deadline and that the book would not reach the students at the beginning of fall quarter, Jane spent many hours planning, supervising and putting the final touches on the 1960 Sentinel.

SENTINEL

Donna Arnst, business manager, was successful in obtaining the proposed enlarged budget. Efficiency was her motto and she made her demands known when dealing with the photographer and the field house.
Although the queens would not always cooperate and the weatherman did not help her get those "outside shots," Penny Loucas succeeded in completing the Royalty, Athletic, and Senior Sections.

Larry Pagett completed his Administration Section early, but he found coordination of organizations and the photographer more difficult. Class and Fine Arts were other sections in his care.

The original deadline for the Student Government Section was Thanksgiving, but Dorothy McBride found that the work ran into spring quarter. Greeks and other living groups presented another problem that was finally solved. Dorothy was also in charge of the Faculty Section.

Indispensable to the staff was Whitey McGill, silent and hard-working assistant in the photo lab. Ken Meek, photography editor, was in charge of the many duties of a Sentinel photographer along with editing the Forestry Kalmin. Lack of time was a problem, but easily taking everything in his stride Kent did an admirable job.

Always there with a friendly smile, priceless advice and guidance, and much assistance in the area of picture taking and dark room work, Cyrine Van Duser served a busy year as Hometown News Service director and Sentinel advisor.

A regular Friday afternoon occurrence was the Sentinel staff meeting. Here at a meeting early in the year, the editor, business manager and associates gather to make plans for the 1960 Sentinel.
Larry Juelfs (left) started his Fine Arts section, but had to give it up to take over for Donna when she became ill and later to assume his duties as business manager of the 1961 Sentinel. Jim Weiler very efficiently finished his Administration section early in the year. Gayle Hageman was section editor for the Living Groups and Pat Serafine edited the Athletic section.

"OUR HEARTS TO MEMORIES CLING"

"We'll do it my way or not at all!" In spite of incidents such as this, the staff spent a riotous, if not hectic year in the office upstairs over the Radio-TV Center. Miraculously there was more voluntary help than ever before and everyone completed his section before taking off for summer vacation. Jane, Norma Fries, editor of the school history section, Penny and Larry, Jim Weiler, Administration editor, Bob Dumont, Fine Arts editor, and Dorothy.

Male freshmen members of the staff in charge of the Student Government section were Buzz Romstad and Glen Aasheim. Sara Blackburn managed the class sections.

"TEARING THEIR WAY"
Newman Club is the religious organization for students of the Roman Catholic faith. It is one of the most active groups on campus. Students of the Club sponsored the Mardi Gras dance (above) and also the Inter-scholastic Newman Club songfest.

Second place winners in the Newman Club songfest were Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
WESLEY

MSU's Methodist students could become members of the Wesley group. Meetings with other religious organizations, panels on various aspects of the church, and discussions about a possible Wesley House were all part of the agenda for this year.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

LSA affairs were centered in the LSA House on University Avenue. As friendly as the Lutheran students, the LSA House was always open and there was coffee every afternoon.

First row: Buz Romstad, Len Moen, Harold Olson, Unidentified, Jerry Ebelt, Roger Stevens.
Third row: Dick Sayer, Tom Longan, Howie Farver, Trudi Follinglo, Glen Aasheim, Susie Cutler, Ed Miller, Wilson Hong, Ted Lindgren.
The Student Education Association is a professional teaching organization on the college level. Officers for the year were David Lindberg, president, Gail Guntermann, vice-president, Gloria Eudaily, secretary, and Henry Oldenburg, treasurer.

Standing: Mr. Watson, Betty Dodd, Fred Hasskamp, Henry Oldenburg, Allan Jeska, Mary Petlin, Mr. Jay.
Seated: Deanna Guy, Norma Collins, Clara Mohland, Shirley Bandy, Gloria Eudaily.

Karen Schirm and Tom Agamenon led the campus practical joke association as presidents during the year. The group planned to wear uniforms on Fridays and cheer at all football games, but the best laid plans of Kams and Dregs often went astray.

Karen Schirm and Tom Agamenon led the campus practical joke association as presidents during the year. The group planned to wear uniforms on Fridays and cheer at all football games, but the best laid plans of Kams and Dregs often went astray.

The campus discussion group met every Friday at noon and mulled over problems such as the U2 incident and the Caryl Chessman case. Tom Mongar presided at the meetings and Terry Stephenson served as secretary-treasurer.
SKI CLUB

The MSU Ski Club promotes interest in skiing through its sponsorship of Ski Week-end. Membership is open to any University student and often brings rewards: at right, Rudy Ruana receives his ski award from Dr. Lory at the Awards Convo.

OFFICERS

President Lizette Bennett
Vice-president Joe Reber
Secretary-treasurer Jim Pannell
Ski Week-end Chairman John Coffee
Seated: Helen Trippet, Carol Anthony, Lorinda Smith, Kay Dubay, Marilyn Peterson, Joan Elder.
Second row: Rosa Ekern, Julie Briscoe, Judy Hirst, Shirley Bandy, Arrie Maxwell, Marcia Meagher, Isabelle Welch, Mrs. Briscoe, advisor, Diane Drew.
Back row: Cecile Laqua, Carol Spaulding, Dawn Drummond, Carla Moore, Martha Olson, Pat Williams, Betty Hall, Frances Ashcraft, Jean Davis, Miss Etheridge, advisor.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The purpose of the Home Ec Club is to further supplement classwork and bring Home Ec students together. Officers were Marilyn Peterson, president; Sue Mechler, vice-president; Marcia Nearman, secretary; Arrie Maxwell, treasurer; Flo Steensland, social chairman; and Helen Trippet, state project chairman.

MONTANA MASQUERS

The Drama honorary sponsored three major productions, several minor shows, an annual tour through Montana, and the Masquer summer theater. Officers were Patti Jo Shaw, president, Suzy Cook, vice-president, Cordie Brown, secretary, Eileen Gallagher, treasurer, and Marith McGinnis, historian.

"Bobo" statuette awards were made to Mrs. Sara Gray, Best Director—one-act plays, Robert McKinnon, Best one-act play — playwriting, Dick Willis, Production Award, Mike Fallon, Best Actor—Masquer Theater, Sue Howard, Best Actress—University Theater, Jack Upshaw, Best Actor—University theater (His award is held by Bo Brown, chairman of the Department of Drama), Bill Kearns, Best Supporting Actor — University Theater, Ray Maidment, Daniel Bandman Achievement Award, and Eileen Gallagher, Best Actress—Masquer Theater and Best Supporting Actress—University Theater.
The purpose of the MSU Forestry Club is to further interest in forestry and to promote the spirit of good fellowship among its approximately 170 members. Forestry students sponsor the Foresters Ball, Forestry Kaimin, five scholarships, an annual conclave, and many other activities.

Squatting: Gary Brown, Bob Swift, Carl Corey, Ed Packee
Third row: Tom McGrath, Lloyd Lundeen, Bill Rusin, Mike Stephen, Ray Brown, Nils Troedsson, Charles Traverse, Bob Storch.

In front: Jay Bertino and Bertha.
Back row: Craig Lindh, Sam Rost, Arnold Bolle, Bob Bosworth.
"M" Club is the organization for athletes who have earned a varsity letter in a major sport at MSU. "M" Club projects included the Mt. Sentinel Derby Day, boxing and wrestling, and a joint style show with the Associated Women Students.
WRA Executive Board: Judy Thomas, Shirley Newton, Karen Schirm, president, Lynn Palin, and Mary June.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

WRA sponsors competition among living groups throughout the year. When spring comes there is the WRA steak fry and the awarding of trophies and medals to individuals and living groups who have won various events during the year.

Front row: Jordis Erickson, Teddi Rudis, Karin Renwick, Norma Fries, Jan Matson, Sara Blackburn.
Seated: Rosemary Cookson, Sara Blackburn, Pat Williams, Sue Lintz, Bobbie Chaffey.

AQUAMAIDS

Being waterlogged all year paid off for these coeds, when spring came and they presented their pageant. This year colors were the themes and the girls performed dolphins and water-wheels with the ease of professionals.

OFFICERS

President Bobbie Chaffey
Vice-president Judy Thomas
Secretary-treasurer Annie Richards

AMERICAN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The American Pharmaceutical Association encourages the advancement of pharmacy as a science and a profession. Activities of the Association included movies of timely pharmaceutical interest, an annual Christmas party, a spring picnic and a spring awards banquet.

OFFICERS

President Ben Temple
Vice-president Georgia Mae Brasseur
Secretary Marcia Peterson
Corresponding secretary Judy Black
Treasurer Mary Ryan
RIFLE TEAM

Rifle Team members: Rita LePiane, Mike Higgins, Phil Poulson, Neal DeLude, Karle Robbins, Capt. Thomas.

ARMY R.O.T.C.

The men in the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps marched through a year of classes and drills, and looked sharp for graduation week activities.

BEAR PAWS

MSU's sophomore men's service honorary led by president Denis Adams, performed the usual University chores with willing enthusiasm, especially when accompanied by their sister organization Spurs.

SPURS

Annette Smith, president of Tanan chapter of the national sophomore women's service honorary, kept the members busy from Orientation Week to graduation. They sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance with Bear Paw help, sold Spur-o-gram valentines and gave scholarships at the end of the year to two deserving freshmen.
MORTAR BOARD

Members of the national senior women’s honorary continued to be of service to MSU during their fourth year of school. This group sold calendars, sponsored Smarty Parties for campus women with top scholarship, and organized the Friends of the Library.

SILENT SENTINEL

As their name suggests, these senior men perform many services for the University in silence. At the graduation SOS they honored retiring faculty member Burly Miller for his many years of service to MSU and to Silent Sentinel.
COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Organized in 1957, the Cosmopolitan Club attempts to facilitate a cultural and social exchange between students from the United States and those from other countries.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

ALD is the freshman women's scholastic honorary, which requires a 3.5 grade average for eligibility. Officers for the year were Jordis Erickson, president, Barbara Bell, vice-president, Sharon Dodge, secretary, and Louise Johnson, treasurer.

Members were: Barbara Bell, Martha Comer, Suzy Cook, Carol Cooper, Sharon Dodge, Kathy Doll, Jordis Erickson, Gloria Edmond, Dorothy Frey, Geneva Hicks, Louise Johnson, Elma Knowlton, Dorothy McBride, Kay Manzari, Diane Mossey, Arlene Myllymaki, Mable Myrick, Janice Neuharth, Sandra Van Blaricom, Jeannette Vargo, Dolores Wright.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi is the national scholastic honorary, which replaced the local honorary Kappa Tau in 1954. Projects of this organization included publishing the Grizzly Guide and awarding a scholarship to an outstanding sophomore. Officers were Dean Ellis Waldron, president, Gail Ward, vice-president, Marguerite Ephron, secretary-treasurer, and Dean Nathan Blumberg, journal correspondent.

ATHLETICS

PAT SERAFINE

Editor
The 1959 football season brought with it an unbeatable aerial defense, a one-win, eight-loss record, and improvement over the luckless '58 season. The Grizzly win over BYU in Provo sent fans at home into happy but unfortunately premature ecstasy.

FOOTBALL

What makes a football player, or any athlete, different from other students? Nothing but long hours in drills and scrimmage during the season, the will to win, an enjoyment of participation, athletic ability and an intangible thing called "heart." His greatest reward comes from a game well-played and the appreciation of an audience.

"AND THE SQUEAL OF THE PIG"

Up in the air? Sure, on the way to another out-of-town game
The Grizzlies began the season well, chalking up "Frosty" Cox's 200th win in the Skyline, but something seemed to go wrong immediately after. The Tips wound up the season with a seven-win, seventeen-loss record. The rivalry with the Bobcats was continued, the Grizzlies losing the first game by one point and winning the second game, 86-71. Dan Balko, one of the Grizzly greats, boosted his collegiate career tally to 1000 points before the season's end.

Vince Ignatowicz: Came to the University in '57 from Pueblo Junior College — long-range gunner, definitely a team man, finished in '60 with a 7.6 average.

Dan Balko: Grizzly high-point man for the season—16.6 average with over 1000 points scored in his years as a Grizzly, made All-Skyline his junior year.

John Lands: One of MSU's greatest all-around athletes — lettered in football (All-Skyline end), basketball and track, will play pro Canadian football.

A lack of depth in championship events kept Montana from the Skyline crown, but placed the Grizzly swimmers third in the championship meet held this year in Albuquerque. Jacobsen continued breaking butterfly records and Groshelle upheld his top-notch performances off the high boards. Bud Wallace is continuing his fight to hold NCAA Swimming Championships at the University.

Active Alpha Phi’s moved into a newly remodeled house fall quarter, and then moved out onto the campus. Officers of WRA from the Alpha Phi house were Karen Schirm, president, Jeri Whitten, secretary, and Mary Lou Montague, treasurer. Becky Egemo captured the coveted position of Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, while Sharol Greenup served as Co-ed Colonel of Angel Flight. Spurs were Jennine Funk, secretary, Gloria Eudaily, and Sandra Van Blaricom. Judy King, a delegate to the Model U.N. also worked hard as Kamin news editor. Gail Ward, recipient of a Fulbright scholarship was named outstanding senior woman at Matrix Table. Gail also spent a busy senior year as treasurer of Mortar Board, secretary-treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta history honorary, and vice-president of Phi Kappa Phi.
The Tri-Delt house was the scene of much activity during the year. Jordis Erickson, chosen outstanding sophomore woman, served as president of Alpha Lambda Delta. Jordis, Diane Mossey, treasurer, and Ellen Parker, vice-president were Spurs, and Diana Squires was a junior sponsor. Kathy Fleming and Frances Neil were vice-president and secretary of Phi Chi Theta. Lorraine Peterson was president of Mu Phi Epsilon. Many of the girls served on AWS and ASMSU committees. Jackie Thomas spent the year as secretary of AWS; Penny Wagner was vice-president of Panhellenic, and Diane Mossey served as a member of Store Board. Journalism major Arlene Myllymaki, was selected to serve on the Mademoiselle college board as campus editor. For the third time in a row the Tri-Delts topped off the year by winning first place in the annual Newman Club songfest.
The DG girls were busy in campus affairs. Publication staff members were Judy McVey, associate editor of the Kaimin, Donna Arnst, business manager, Dorothy McBride and Penny Loucas, associate editors of the Sentinel. In student government were Jean Tate, ASMSU secretary, Barbara Lee and Kathy Joseph, Central Board delegates, Ginger Ragland, delegate to Store Board, Donna Arnst, vice-president, and Karen Ferkin, treasurer, of AWS. Jean Polich, DG president, was also president of Phi Chi Theta. Other officers of honoraries included Ina Jeane Morris Strong, vice-president of Mortar Board, Barbara Bell, vice-president, and Sharon Dodge, secretary of Alpha Lambda Delta. Members of Tanan of Spurs were Carol Cooper, historian, Elma Knowlton, editor, Sharon Dodge, Penny Loucas, Karel Lorenzen, Dorothy McBride, Judy McIntyre, and Barbara Bell. Donna Arnst, Ginger Ragland, Helen Trippet, and Jean Tate counseled freshmen as junior sponsors. Four DG campus queens were Barbara Lee, Homecoming Queen, Linda Smith, Sigma Chi Derby Day Queen, Roxanne Shelton, Delta Sigma Phi Sweetheart, and Brenda Blistick, Greek Goddess.
What is going on behind the brick wall? Activities range from participation in Jubileers—Peggy Calvin, Mary Margaret Boyd and Jurine Landoe—to cheerleading. Cheer queen fall quarter, Carol Chakos, and Marva Kirby, winter quarter, led cheerleaders, including Sally Leland, Janet Barcroft, Pat Sauerbier, and Barbara May. Peggy Calvin was a junior sponsor during fall quarter, and Marva Kirby and Carol Anderson were Spurs. Patti Jo Shaw, active in dramatic circles as president of Montana Masquers, was chosen Miss Wool of the United States, to spend her reign touring the United States and France.
KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The girls who wear the Kappa key spent an action-packed year. Judith Blakely, delegate to the model United Nations in San Francisco served as business manager of the Kaimin as well as editor of Mortar Board. The Spurs were led by Annette Smith, president. Other Spurs were Myrna Eyerly, Sara Rankin, Ann Higham, and Eileen Weingartner. Members of the famed Jubileers were Priscilla Lester and Barbara Wheeler. A majority of campus queens claimed Kappa membership: Bobbie Reber, Snow Queen, Jackie Hythecker, Sigma Phi Epsilon Queen of Hearts, Peggy Josephson, Phi Sigma Kappa Moonlight Girl, Jackie Lundahl, Alpha Tau Omega Esquire Girl, Julie Briscoe, Military Ball Queen, and Gail Paige, Mardi Gras Queen. Gail also led the Pom-Pon Girls through an active year. Kappa rendition of “This Is Our Once a Year Day” proved true as they walked away with the second place trophy in the Newman Club Song Fest.

Sigma Kappa and Elrod Hall joined their sculpturing talents to win the AWS Snow Week-end prize with “Surrey with the Fringe on Top.”

SIGMA KAPPA

Enthusiasm reigned in the newly enlarged Sigma Kappa house. Snow Week-end sculpturing and Interscholastic decorating brought first place trophies to their collection. Jane Borden, chosen outstanding junior woman, lived in the freshman dorm as head junior sponsor and divided the rest of her time between “the house” and her duties as editor of the 1960 Sentinel. Talented Marith McGinnis, the only freshman member of Jubileers, and historian of Montana Masquers, was chosen Miss MSU of 1960 and first runner-up in the Miss Montana contest. Louise Johnson, Judi Neeley and Judy Thomas served as Spurs. Louise, youngest Pan-hellenic president ever, was also active as treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta, while Judy Thomas was an officer in WRA. Ann Kelso, Sigma Kappa president, was historian of Mortar Board and also selected a member of Phi Kappa Phi. Sharon Sirokman led the MSU twirlers as head majorette. Cecile Laqua was state secretary of the Home Economics Club, while Dawn Drummond was an officer of the local club. Evie Obersoler served ASMSU as chairman of the Fact Finding Committee. For the third successive time, the Sigma Kappa’s topped off a year by winning the Lantern Parade trophy.
ATO's laughingly gather for photographer at annual costume party.
The Alpha Tau Omega house was a busy one this year as members participated in many phases of campus life. The sophomore men's honorary, Bear Paws, had John Montegna as a member. Many ATO's were members of campus and national honoraries. Leroy Anderson was president of the campus Young Republicans Club, while the Judo Club was headed by Dale Lumsden. In interfraternity sports, the ATO's tied for second in football and took second in volleyball. Their annual fall function, "Wake of Paddy Murphy," was very successful, as was the winter Esquire Ball.
The Delta Sig's added a house mother this year, allowing for many informal get-togethers with campus coeds. Larry Pagett worked as associate editor of the 1960 Sentinel, and Jim Weiler assisted him. Joe Dietrich was busy in ROTC, Cosmopolitan Club, Bear Paws and the Gymnastic Club. Their final spring serenade with an Hawaiian flavor was the talk of the freshman girls dorm.
Delta Sig's in front of the house practice singing for Interscholastic.

Delta Sig's and their dates enjoyed a day at Seeley Lake for their spring function.
Many activities on campus were aided by members of Phi Delta Theta. Members in Bear Paws included Wayne Leslie, Tom Riggert, John Joseph, and president Denis Adams. Duane Adams was vice-president of ASMSU. Another leader was John Bennitt, who was editor of the Kaimin. Interfraternity sports championships captured were football, volleyball, and swimming. Senior honorary Silent Sentinel members were Duane Adams and Cal Christian. Social life included the Hawaiian party in the fall and informal exchanges with campus sororities. Winning first in house decorations for Interscholastic ended the Phi Delt’s year.

Community-minded Phi Delts worked hard at annual work day cleaning up grounds of Missoula rest home.

Usual Phi Delt spring sport features exciting volleyball contests in their back yard.
PHI SIGMA KAPPA
The Phi Sig's spent a comfortable year in their house on Gerald Avenue. Monday night coffee hours and Wednesday dinner exchanges with sororities were popular events. Their big formal function saw Peggy Josephson crowned Phi Sigma Kappa Moonlight Girl. Bob Hedderich worked on the Kaimin and Tony Wastcoat was active in Inter-Fraternity Council.
The initiation of an annual Derby Day in fall quarter started the year right for the Sigma Chi's. This was supplemented by many social activities during the year, including the French party, the Prohibition party, a four-day week-end party, and the big function: the Sweetheart Ball, which was topped off by the crowning of the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Social life was fun, but the Sigma Chi's were very active in campus affairs, too. Gary Bradley was a member of Central Board and Tim Grattan, Gary Beiswanger, and Bradley were all active members of Silent Sentinel, senior men's honorary. The sophomores were active, too, as Ralph Gilham was a member of Bear Paws. Other activities included many group leaders, Kams and Dregs members, and "M" Club members. Even with this local work, the Sigma Chi's found time to be host to the district SX convention which included five chapters. The Newman Club songfest finished off the year with a first-place trophy.

SIGMA NU

Down on Gerald Avenue one of the oldest national fraternities on campus, Sigma Nu, was active in campus activities and in Greek circles. The sophomores were high on the activity list as seven of them were members of Bear Paws. They were Ernie Ratzburg, Mike Curran, Tom Briggs, Pat McDonald, Jay Hess, Dick Austin, and Dave Aldrich. Seniors, too, made their mark in honoraries with Jerry Metcalf, Jerry Beller, and Warren Drew in Silent Sentinel. These activities were accompanied by many social functions, the main ones being the barn dance in the fall and the Piggy Dinner in the spring. Campus-wide, the Sigma Nus were known royally too, as Jerry Beller was elected Peppermint Prince and Jerry Metcalf was chosen Mardi Gras king. Rudy Ruana won the NCAA slalom championship in skiing. Another field in which Sigma Nu worked was ROTC. In the annual Rotary Leadership award for AFROTC, Cadet Colonel Jerry Beller was selected outstanding senior. In Army ROTC, Warren Drew was selected for the Rotary Leadership award.
Sigma Nu's socialize at informal gathering in the house.

The reward (p. 258) is worth it!
The traditional Red Door on the house on University Avenue was kept busy this year with members of Sigma Phi Epsilon going to and coming from their many activities on campus. These extended from campus government to ugliest man on campus contest. In student government, the Sig Eps were quite active with Paul Ulrich, Ed Miller and Buzz Romstad on Central Board and John Carlson as an active member of Store Board. Another phase of government, Inter-fraternity Council, was helped by the services of Doug James, treasurer. Bear Paws also had Sig Ep members in Dan Bieri, Jack Griffith, and John Carlson, who was vice-president. Social life started with the Queen of Hearts Ball during fall quarter. Winter quarter saw the Bowery Ball turn out successfully, as did the three-day spring week-end. Quite a bit different from the social functions were the trips taken by the Army ROTC drill team. These trips were headed by Sig Ep Bill Mott, who commanded the drill team. During spring quarter, the Sig Eps received recognition when Skip Hovey won the campus “Ugly Man” contest. Interscholastics finished off the year with the second place trophy won for house decorations.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The traditional Red Door on the house on University Avenue was kept busy this year with members of Sigma Phi Epsilon going to and coming from their many activities on campus. These extended from campus government to ugliest man on campus contest. Ron Bottcher, baritone from Sand Point, Idaho, won the regional auditions of the Metropolitan Opera Company and sang on the stage in New York in April. An active musician, Bottcher is a member of Jubileers.

Jackie Hythecker, Sig Ep Queen of Hearts, is crowned at the annual Queen of Hearts formal dinner-dance. With Jackie are princesses Jan Frederickson and Gloria Dixon.
Pat Johnston is given the "works" at a Theta Chi hanging.
"Membership" seemed to be the password for Theta Chi throughout the year as many members were on the rolls of ASMSU committees, honoraries, clubs, and other activities. Theta Chi's in the ranks of advanced ROTC were Virgil Bon and Dave Dale. George Knee was president of the Grizzly Boosters Club and in "M" Club. Social life, too, received its allotted time with the highly successful Red and White Ball and the spring weekend. In the spring, the Theta Chi's saw Wayne Goetz crowned Greek God.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon enjoyed a full year with participation in social, musical, governmental, and many other activities on campus. The student body was aided greatly by the SAE’s; Howard Hansen, business manager of ASMSU; and Dave Morris, Bob Sankovich, John Ulvila and Rich Martin, delegates to Central Board. Fraternity government was led by Curt Jacobson, president of Interfraternity Council. Music was another field of participation, with Jerry Nordstrom, Jerry Colness, Charles Hood and Ken Maki members of Jubileers. SAE’s showed musical talents in taking second place in the Newman Club songfest. They were well represented in honoraries with Rich Martin and Sid Shrauger in Silent Sentinel and Carl Lehrkind, Ken Maki, Bob Means, Tom Ross, and Bob Sankovich all members of Bear Paws. Campus representation was completed with Charles Hood on the Kaimin. The annual Paddy Murphy Party and the Violet Ball were quite successful; Don Hubbard was crowned Snow King to highlight winter quarter. Spring weekend and the Sig Alph Olympics topped off the social year for the SAE’s.
Here is the famed SAE quartet: Jerry Colness, Jerry Nordstrom, Ken Maki and Charlie Hood.
A new addition to the house this year provided much fun—Minerva, Sig Alph bus.

Interfraternity Council is the representative body of the nine Greek fraternities on campus. I.F.C. supervised rush periods and organized a successful Greek weekend, which began with a cleaning and white-washing of the Pineview Hospital. It ended on the oval with lunch and skits. Officers of I.F.C. were president Curt Jacobson, vice-president Art Hudson, secretary Tim Grattan, and treasurer Doug James.

"O Brother Mine"

Pan-Hellenic Council gathers representatives from each of the six national sororities to ensure effective participation for these groups on campus, as well as smooth relationships among the groups. Pan-hel set up and supervised the several rush periods during the year, organized Christmas caroling, and participated with I.F.C. on Greek weekend. Officers this year were president Louise Johnson, vice-president Diana Squires, Secretary Helene Loy, and treasurer Zena McGlashan.
Pleasant rooms and beautiful surroundings make Turner Hall one of the most enjoyable dorms on campus. Among the many campus-minded Turnerites were Hazel Wilson and Betsy Winship, who spent some time out of Turner as junior sponsors in the freshman dorm.

Turner girls leave for a morning of classes or an afternoon in the Lodge.
T.V. was a new addition to Turner this year and proved a drawing card to many.

TURNER HALL

Turner residents usually ate cafeteria style in the Lodge, but now and then seated services were held to provide a sociable break.

Government within Turner is provided by a council consisting of hall and wing officers.
Brantly Hall is one of the three parts of the freshman women's Triangle. Housed in the building are the main office, lounge and a kitchen which provides breakfast service for Triangle and Turner Hall women.

Triangle officers who governed the entire freshman dorm were Barbara Boorman, Kemmie Kammerzell, president, Marcia Meagher, and Sandy Swank.
Traditional fall function for the freshman Triangle is the Peppermint Prince Ball. Kemmie Kammerzell, assisted by Nancy Crago, Ellen Shiere, and Pat Taylor crowns Jerry Beller, 1959 Peppermint Prince.

BRANTLY HALL

Pat Taylor, Barbara Boorman and Peggy Josephson set up the throne for the Ball.

Junior Sponsors who lived in the freshman women's dorm to curb homesickness and provide needed advice and shoulders for crying were (standing) Betsy Winship, Peggy Calvin, Helen Trippet, Jean Tate, Hazel Wilson, (seated) Diana Squires, Mary Kay Medvit, Jane Borden, Head Junior Sponsor, Ginger Ragland, and Donna Arnst.
Corbin officers were Judy Hove, Ellen Sheire, president, Suzie Frizelle, and Judy Lito.

Hall Council meetings, such as this, took care of the government of the dorms as three separate bodies. This was found too difficult to handle so a constitutional change was made spring quarter to cover all business in Triangle meetings.

Corbin Hall seemed destined for fame this year. The girls from Corbin won first place with their Homecoming float and another first in the W. R. A. swimming competition.

CORBIN HALL

Necessary equipment for any dorm are the house mothers with their friendly smiles, pertinent advice, and able guidance.

Mrs. Huff, Head Resident

Miss Ellis, Head Counselor

Mrs. Brooker, Assistant Head Resident
A usual sight on Tuesday night was the corridor meeting. This one was on North Corbin first.

North Corbin is the youngest of the three dorms which comprise Triangle. Having the disadvantage of no front door and serving as a thoroughfare between Brantly and Corbin, the girls, especially those on first floor, soon learned North Corbin could be an admirable base of both defensive and offensive operations.

Mrs. Hazelbaker, Assistant Head Resident

North Corbin officers were Peggy Josephson, Pat Taylor, president, Toni Hoffeller, and Katie Dunn.

Mrs. Moore, Assistant Head Resident

NORTH CORBIN HALL

SYNADELPHIC
After an evening out in the snow, nothing could be better than a “Thaw Out” party in front of the fireplace.

ELROD HALL

Elrod men prove that non-Greeks are not “out of it”. Teaming with Sigma Kappa for Snow Weekend they walked away with first place in the sculpturing contest. As for grades, Elrod men are in the top rank.

Elrod officers were Bill Carr, Bob Witt, Tony Ayto, and Bob Oswald.

A familiar scene in Elrod—Mrs. Berry and some of “her boys” in an informal discussion.

Everyone wants to get into the act to keep Elrod grades high, even Curly, pictured here with Swede Troedsson, and Tom Lawrence.
One of the newer dorms on campus is Craig Hall, which provides quarters for many, many men students.

Dave Morris, very active on Central Board, was Craig's candidate for Peppermint Prince.

CRAIG HALL

Sprawling over the area in back of the Lodge, Craig is the home of freshmen men, athletes, and any overflow from Elrod. Residents of Craig Hall showed themselves adept at decorating—a first in the Homecoming float building, and a second with Delta Gamma in snow sculpturing.

"MONTANA...

WE LOVE YOU!"
PATRONS' PAGE

The 1960 SENTINEL staff has realized in this past year the great financial needs of a University yearbook. Regardless of student budgetary allocations, the financial security of the book could not have existed on student support alone. This is a page of merchants and professional men who have contributed to the yearbook and, therefore, to every University student. I wish to thank these patrons for their contributions and especially for their greatly appreciated interest in Montana State University.

The summer has almost flown, the book is finished and my job, and that of about 100 other people is done. The 1960 Sentinel is no one-man (a-hem, one-woman) book. The staff was larger and worked more willingly than any I can ever remember in my three years with the Sentinel. They slaved all year, right up to the end of spring quarter, and this was quite a feat with spring fever and all. The book was planned and executed by the people named at the beginning of each section, consequently it is the product of MSU from student money to student ideas and student work. To the many people who helped with planning, drawing layouts, identifying pictures, writing copy, typing, indexing, and on and on and on, and especially to Chuck Janda, Kent Meek, Whitey McGill and Hideo Kimura for their photography and to Marshall Holmberg for his delightful drawings of Yogi Bear, my thanks are gratefully given.

More thanks are due to Budget and Finance Committee, Central Board and ASMSU for the greatly increased appropriations, which allowed us to have more color, better covers, larger class pictures and the enlarged faculty section.

Johnson Flying Service for providing the means to get that aerial shot on page 6.

Bob Gilluly of News Service for athletic facts, figures and pictures.

The Kaimin—John Bennitt and Rolf Olson for the pictures and friendly conversations—sorry we didn’t ever have time for coffee.

Cyrile Van Duser for advice, consolation, photography and the one hundred and one other things she did during the year to help with the production of the 1960 Sentinel.

The Salisbury’s of Artcraft Engraving—Al and Bert and their crew for their excellent engravings and Jane and Barbara for entertaining me so well on my Seattle trip to investigate the workings of an engraving plant.

Claud Lord for the summer job and Inky Gibson for the advice and help on all those last finishing touches.

The boys in the print shop—Fred, Gale, Don, A.P. and Larry, the “very put-upon” printers, who managed to make heads and tails out of my instructions and convince me of the value of the majority of their ideas; and Willie, Gene and Vernal, the “greatly pressured” pressmen, who spent so much time patiently explaining the workings of the presses and still successfully completed the printing and folding of the many sections of the book.

Finally, to the MSU Bindery a special thank you for adding finishing touches to the cover and gathering everything together so we could have our 1960 Sentinel on time!

It has been a year full of hard work, but it has been a rewarding year and one that I shall hardly be able to forget.
