Introduction

Nonresident spending is a significant contributor to Montana's economy. Money spent by those traveling to and through the state has an effect not only on the businesses where spending occurs, but it ripples throughout Montana's economy, both locally and regionally. Economic impact analysis allows us to observe the direct and indirect effects of the money spent by nonresident travelers in terms of the economic activity supported by this spending, and the number of jobs and labor income attributable to this spending, as well. This report is comprised of a collection of economic impact analyses for each of Montana's six travel regions, as well as 15 of the 56 counties in the state.

Methods

Expenditure Data

Nonresident spending data is collected at the statewide level, and estimates are based on average daily spending of visitor groups and the estimated number of visitor groups to Montana each year. To estimate the total spending at the county and region level, the reported spending patterns within each expenditure category are observed for each county in the state, and the state total spending amount is allocated to the counties appropriately.

For the analyses highlighted in this report, the 2011 (inflation adjusted to 2012 $s) and 2012 county spending estimates were averaged. Doing so helps to account for small sample sizes within some counties, and the variations in county spending patterns that may occur from year to year because of these small sample sizes. The statewide total 2011-2012 average spending is presented below.

Table 1 - 2011-2012 Average Nonresident Spending per Expenditure Category

Expenditure Category	2011-2012 Total Nonresident Spending (2012 $s)
Gasoline	$1,059,900,000
Retail sales	$571,640,000

Auto Rental	$64,140,000
Licenses, Entrance Fees	$61,880,000
Rental cabin, Condo	$38,480,000
Campground, RV Park	$20,800,000

TOTAL	$3,052,660,000

A portion of the total dollar amount per category is allocated to each county, based on the observed spending patterns within the data. The estimates of spending by nonresidents for each of the selected counties and travel regions can be found in the following figures.

IMPLAN economic modeling software was used to estimate the economic impact of nonresident spending within each of the six travel regions. Additionally, estimates were produced for 15 of Montana's counties which had samples large enough to do so (counties in which nonresidents spent approximately $50 million or more). To clarify, "nonresident spending" indicates money spent by travelers who do not have a permanent residence within Montana. It does not include Montana residents traveling within the state who may have spent money in a county other than the one in which they reside.

IMPLAN Analysis

An IMPLAN model was created for each of the 15 counties and six travel regions. Industry sectors corresponding to the expenditure categories were used in the models, and the dollar amounts for each county and region were input into the respective models accordingly.

The following 21 figures represent summaries for the individual counties and regions. Included in each summary is the estimated two-year average spending within each category and the economic impact within the county or region of that spending. The direct, indirect, induced and combined effects are included to provide a clear illustration of the ripple effect of nonresident spending at the local or regional scale.

In some cases, the economic impact to industry output (the value of goods and service produced by an industry which nonresidents purchase) is a smaller sum than the total amount of spending in a county or region. This is to be expected. On a regional basis, and particularly on a county basis, much of the money spent in the area "leaks out." Generally, fewer industries exist at the local level than at the state level. Therefore, many supplies and goods must be purchased outside the local area, and can be considered imports. Hence, the dollar amount spent will not equal the Direct Industry Output figure unless everything required to produce the goods and services purchased by nonresident travelers is available within the region. This is particularly noticeable when looking at county level economic impacts, in which case much of the money spent within a county is leakage, and does not contribute to the impact.

Regions & Counties Included

The following regions are included in this report: Central Montana, Glacier Country, Missouri River Country, Southeast Montana, Southwest Montana, and Yellowstone Country.

The following counties are included: Beaverhead, Big Horn, Carbon, Cascade, Custer, Flathead, Gallatin, Glacier, Lewis and Clark, Madison, Missoula, Park, Silver Bow, Stillwater, and Yellowstone. Other counties totaled less than approximately $50 million in nonresident spending, and were, therefore, not analyzed.
