Dr. Kemal Karpat, Turkish scholar, will join the staff of the History and Political Science Dept. at Montana State University, Missoula, this fall as an assistant professor of political science, specializing in comparative government, Dr. Robert T. Turner, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, announced today.

Dr. Karpat was born in Turkey. He attended the Teachers College of Medgidia and the Lyceum of Haidarpasa from which he received diplomas. He was awarded a LL.B. from the University of Istanbul School of Law, a M. A. in political science from the University of Washington, and a Ph.D. in political science from New York University.

He has practiced law in Turkey and worked with the Turkish delegation to the United Nations. He was a second lieutenant in the Turkish army and served as interpreter and liason officer for the Turkish Armed Forces and American Military Mission.

Dr. Karpat speaks fluent English, Turkish, Roumanian, French, Spanish, and Italian, said Dean Turner.

He is the author of several articles published in Turkish magazines and a forthcoming book on the Turkish republican government to be published by the Princeton University Press.
