FOR RELEASE SUNDAY, JULY 31

Two assistant professors and a part-time instructor have been appointed to the Montana State University business administration faculty, MSU President H. K. Newburn announced.

Glenn R. Barth will teach courses in marketing while Prof. John S. Wright is on leave this year to serve as visiting professor in the Northwestern University School of Business. Barth received a B. S. degree from the University of North Dakota and a master of business administration degree from the University of Minnesota; and he has completed the course work for the degree of doctor of business administration at the Harvard Graduate School of Business. From 1948 to 1954 he was in the retail shoe business in North Dakota and Minnesota, and last year he was on the Idaho State College faculty.

Robert C. Haring will teach management and finance courses. He is a candidate for the Ph. D. degree at Indiana University, where he earned A. B. and M. B. A. degrees. For the past two years he was a faculty lecturer in the Indiana University School of Business.

James W. Thompson will be a part-time instructor, teaching elementary accounting. As an undergraduate at MSU, he interned during the 1957 winter quarter with a national accounting firm. In 1958 he received a bachelor's degree from the University and qualified as a certified public accountant in Montana. He was an instructor at Eastern Montana College of Education, Billings, in 1959-60.
