FOR RELEASE SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

The second Montana Planning Institute will bring together representatives of city-county planning boards from all parts of Montana September 16 and 17 at Missoula to discuss problems of urban planning and suburban development.

H. Cleveland Hall, Great Falls attorney and president of the Association of Montana Planning Boards, said that recent court decisions which have challenged zoning authority of county planning agencies will be an important concern of the institute, which is co-sponsored by the association and the Montana State University Bureau of Government Research.

A program of legislation to be sought in the 1961 Legislative Assembly will also be discussed at the planning institute, according to Dr. Ellis Waldron, dean of the MSU Graduate School and acting director of the University's Bureau of Government Research.
