FOR RELEASE FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11

George T. Bennett, counsel for the Montana Board of Equalization, Helena, and Myles J. Thomas Jr., Billings attorney, are two of the 10 tax specialists who will speak at the eighth annual Institute on Taxation and Estate Planning at Montana State University Dec. 9 and 10. The institute is sponsored by the MSU Law School, according to Prof. Lester R. Rusoff, institute director.

Thomas will speak on "Income Tax Aspects of Condemnations," and Bennett will discuss "Montana's Adoption of the Federal Definition of Income."

Bennett joined the Board of Equalization staff in 1957 and has been chief counsel since 1958. He earned two business administration degrees and a law degree at the University of Michigan.

Thomas holds a bachelor's degree and a law degree from MSU and a master of laws degree in taxation from New York University. He is associated with the Billings law firm of Coleman, Lamey and Crowley.

Bennett and Thomas have both participated in previous tax institutes at the University, Prof. Rusoff noted.
