FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Help for children with speech or hearing disorders will be offered by the Montana State University Speech and Hearing Summer Camp from June 19 to July 28 on the campus, according to Dr. Richard Boehmler of the MSU Speech and Hearing Clinic.

The camp is designed to provide a concentrated period of remedial help for children from 7 to 16 years of age and at the same time give them the social and recreational experiences associated with a summer camp. Dr. Boehmler will direct the camp, and the staff will include trained speech and hearing clinicians, recreational supervisors and administrative personnel.

The program is offered as a service and not as an academic or training program, so it must operate on a self-supporting basis, Dr. Boehmler explained.

To be considered for admission to the summer camp, children must be evaluated in advance by the Speech and Hearing Clinic staff, Dr. Boehmler said. Applications for this evaluation must be received by March 25, he stressed.

Inquiries about the camp should be directed to: Dr. Richard Boehmler, Director, Speech and Hearing Summer Camp, Speech and Hearing Clinic, Montana State University, Missoula.
