FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Montana State University Departments of Geology, Mathematics, Physics, and Botany, Microbiology and Public Health have each added an instructor to their staffs, MSU officials announced.

Donald Winston, who has taught at the University of Texas since 1953, will teach geology at MSU. He holds a B. A. from Williams College and an M. A. from the University of Texas.

D. George McRae will be an instructor in mathematics. He earned a B. A. in 1960 and an M. A. in 1961 from MSU.

Randolph H. Jeppesen, a 1958 graduate of MSU, has joined the physics faculty. He was awarded a master's degree in 1960 from the University of Illinois, where he was a research assistant in 1959-60 and a teaching assistant in 1958-59. He was a research staff member of International Business Machines Corp. last year.

Mark J. Behan, instructor in botany, microbiology and public health, has held teaching assistantships at the University of Washington and the University of Wyoming. He took a bachelor's degree at the University of Denver and a master's degree at the University of Wyoming.
