Four appointments listed Thursday complete announcements of fall-quarter additions to the Montana State University faculty, according to MSU officials.

The new staff members are Gloria C. Hewitt, assistant professor of mathematics; James F. Cotter, special lecturer and research assistant in forestry, and Herbert A. Alf and Jack S. Guthrie, instructors in English.

Mrs. Hewitt received a master's degree this year from the University of Washington, where she has been a graduate assistant since 1956. She holds a B. A. from Fisk University.

Cotter earned a forestry degree in range management at MSU in 1951 and served in various positions with the Bureau of Land Management for the next nine years. From September 1957 to July 1960 he was BLM district manager at Dillon. He attended the University of Berlin, Army Unit School, in 1945.

Alf holds a master of fine arts degree from the State University of Iowa and a bachelor's degree with majors in psychology and English from Washington State University. In 1949-50 he was a correspondent in Europe for World Government News, and he has been editor-publisher of a weekly newspaper in Sedona, Ariz. He worked as a motion picture production assistant in Los Angeles, Calif., for four years, and he has also been a writer-director for technical motion pictures.
